NOTE: Course in Western History or Western Culture and course in Non-Western History or Non-Western Contemporary Culture is required.

Teaching Licensure Requirements - EA-A Licensure

Program Options B and C

These program options are organized around content majors and education courses and are designed to prepare teachers for early adolescence through adolescence (EA-A) teaching or for early childhood through adolescence (EC-A) teaching in selected areas. Each program requires the student to complete:

1. a comprehensive major (at least 60 credits) or a standard major (at least 36 credits) plus one of the following: another standard major (at least 36 credits), or a minor (at least 24 credits), or a certificate (12-18 credits). Students choosing another major or minor may choose from the approved majors and minors listed in the table below. The approved majors and minors lead to additional certification.

2. a professional sequence consisting of teaching methods and related courses. Advising is done through the content major department.

Upon admission to program, candidates are assigned an adviser in education as well.

Option B: EA-A

Early Adolescence through Adolescence Licensure

College Degree Requirements

Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science Degree (B.A./B.S.)

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements (p. 46).

College Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All candidates for degrees in the College of Arts and Sciences must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 in the major, the minor, and the certificate. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the minor and the certificate are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. A standard major (a minimum of 36 credits) must be supplemented by a minor (a minimum of 24 credits) or by a certificate (12 to 18 credits) to meet graduation requirements for completing a first and second degree program. No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major (60 or more credits) or with two majors of 36 or more credits each.

Certain degree programs which include Comprehensive Majors may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Acceptable academic program combinations are determined at the college level. A major and a minor or a major and certificate or two majors (if available) may not be elected in the same department or program, except in the approved combinations listed here (p. 52).

College Credits. Earn at least 90 credits in courses offered by the College of Arts and Sciences.

Bachelor of Arts Degree in the College of Arts and Sciences (B.A.)

Fulfillment of all University Graduation Requirements (which includes the Liberal Education Core); all College-level degree requirements (major and minor/certificate emphases, GPAs, earning at least 90 credits in Arts and Sciences course work); foreign language competency at the 102 level. Foreign language competency may be met in one of two ways: (1) Achieve a score on the foreign language placement test that qualifies the student to enter MATH 112 or MATH 113 level. Mathematics competency can be met in one of three ways: (1) Achieve a score on the mathematics placement test that qualifies the student to enter MATH 114. (2) Earn a grade of at least C (not C-) or a mark of S in MATH 111, MATH 112, or MATH 113. (3) Achieve a satisfactory score on the MATH 112 competency test. This test may be attempted no more than two times.

Major Requirements

A comprehensive major in Political Science combines political science with courses in other disciplines. Students choose either the Legal Studies emphasis or the World Politics emphasis.

Psychology is the scientific investigation of mental processes (thinking, remembering, feeling, etc.) and behavior. Psychology lies in the center of the academic pursuits of the university because of its strong connections with other scholarly areas. Psychology is not only an academic discipline, but also a profession. There are both academic psychologists, who engage in teaching and research, and practicing psychologists, who apply psychological knowledge in clinics, businesses, and other settings.

Learning goals of the major and minor include:

Knowledge, Skills and Values Consistent with the Science and Application of Psychology

1. Knowledge Base of Psychology
2. Research Methods in Psychology
3. Critical Thinking Skills in Psychology
4. Application of Psychology
5. Values in Psychology

Knowledge, Skills and Values Consistent with Liberal Arts Education that are Further Developed in Psychology

1. Information and Technological Literacy
2. Communication Skills
3. Sociocultural and International Awareness
4. Personal Development
5. Career Planning and Development

Credit for PSYC 100, PSYC 230, and PSYC 260 can be awarded through CLEP examinations. Credit for PSYC 100 and PSYC 265 can be awarded through AP examinations.

Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science Degree (B.A./B.S.)

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements (p. 46).

College Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All candidates for degrees in the College of Arts and Sciences must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 in the major, the minor, and the certificate. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the minor and the certificate are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. A standard major (a minimum of 36 credits) must be supplemented by a minor (a minimum of 24 credits) or by a certificate (12 to 18 credits) to meet graduation requirements for completing a first and second degree program. No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major (60 or more credits) or with two majors of 36 or more credits each.

Certain degree programs which include Comprehensive Majors may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Acceptable academic program combinations are determined at the college level. A major and a minor or a major and certificate or two majors (if available) may not be elected in the same department or program, except in the approved combinations listed here (p. 52).

College Credits. Earn at least 90 credits in courses offered by the College of Arts and Sciences.

Bachelor of Arts Degree in the College of Arts and Sciences (B.A.)

Fulfillment of all University Graduation Requirements (which includes the Liberal Education Core); all College-level degree requirements (major and minor/certificate emphases, GPAs, earning at least 90 credits in Arts and Sciences course work); foreign language competency at the 102 level. Foreign language competency may be met in one of two ways: (1) Achieve a score on the foreign language placement test that qualifies the student to enter the 201-level course in a foreign language. (2) Earn a grade of at least C (not C-) or a mark of S in a 102-level foreign language course (or AIS 112 or AIS 122 / LANG 122 or CSD 103).

Bachelor of Science Degree in the College of Arts and Sciences (B.S.)

Fulfillment of all University Graduation Requirements (which includes the Liberal Education Core); all College-level degree requirements (major and minor/certificate emphases, GPAs, earning at least 90 credits in Arts and Sciences course work); mathematics competency at the MATH 111, MATH 112 or MATH 113 level. Mathematics competency can be met in one of three ways: (1) Achieve a score on the mathematics placement test that qualifies the student to enter the MATH 111 level. (2) Earn a grade of at least C (not C-) or a mark of S in MATH 111, MATH 112, or MATH 113. (3) Achieve a satisfactory score on the MATH 112 competency test. This test may be attempted no more than two times.

Major Requirements

Recommended for students who are interested in becoming a behavioral services provider for individuals afflicted with autism, developmental disabilities, head injuries, and substance-abuse disorders. This major also provides essential preparation for students who are interested in attending graduate school for more advanced training.

Sociology

Hibbard Humanities Hall 629
715-836-2720
www.uwec.edu/soc

Sociology searches in disciplined ways for answers to questions about human social behavior; questions regarding human identity, social interaction, human relations, and group dynamics. It studies the behavior and interaction of social groups and institutions, traces their origin and growth, and analyzes the influence of group activities on both group members and larger social units.

Departmental Honors Program

1. Goals and Objectives
   a. To provide an enriched educational experience for subsequent graduate study, professional activities, or public life.
   b. To allow concentrated and individualized study in selected areas of interest in the field of sociology.
   c. To stimulate, encourage, and challenge students to gain a better understanding of sociological research and theory in addition to usual instruction.
   d. To develop capabilities for independent thought and constructive criticism.

2. Entrance Requirements for Honors in Sociology
   a. Eligibility: Upper-class majors with resident and total GPAs of 3.50 and a GPA of 3.50 in sociology courses.
   b. Applications for the Honors Program should be made in writing to the department during the junior year.

3. Satisfactory Completion of Requirements for Graduation with Honors in Sociology
   a. Minimum of 36 semester credit hours in the sociology department.
   b. An Honors examination in two areas chosen by the student in consultation with an honors committee.
   c. A three credit independent study.
   d. An Honors Seminar.
   e. An Honors research paper.
   f. Resident and total GPAs of 3.50 and resident and total GPAs of 3.50 in the major program at time of graduation.

Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory Policy

No credit may be earned under the Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory option for any course counted toward a departmental major or minor.

Credit by Examination

Credit may be obtained by examination in SOC 101. A student may earn a maximum of six credits in Sociology through credit by examination.

Social Diversity, Certificate

(Code 480-601)

The Social Diversity Certificate is a foundation for understanding inequality based on race, class, gender, and sexualities. These inequalities are caused by social institutions that create and sustain systems of oppression and privilege. Learning about the real but often invisible causes of inequality helps individuals overcome internalized oppression and internalized privilege. It also helps professionals to better serve the public in fields such as health care, education, social services, and criminal justice.

A minimum of 12 credits in the following courses:

- SOC 312 Race and Ethnicity in the U.S. 3
- SOC 314 Social Class and Inequality 3
- SOC 419 Sociology of Women 3 or SOC 202 Women and Men in Society: The Sociology of Gender 3
- SOC 426 Sociology of Sexualities 3

Note: Courses may not be counted in both the certificate and the student’s major program.

Total Credits 24

This minor is restricted to students in the College of Education and Human Sciences; Education Studies: Option B or C and leads to licensure to teach Sociology in Early Adolescence through Adolescence classrooms.

Note: A minimum of nine credits must be taken in courses numbered 300 or higher.

Watershed Institute for Collaborative Environmental Studies

Hibbard Humanities Hall 384
www.uwec.edu/watershed

Students interested in gaining understanding and expertise in Environmental Studies, Environmental Public Health, or Sustainability are encouraged to enroll in the Environmental Public Health Comprehensive Major (Code 640-001) or one of two interdisciplinary minors: Environmental Science (Code 155-400) or Environment, Society, and Culture (Code 489-401). Environmentally themed comprehensive majors are also available in other departments, including Ecology and Environmental Biology Emphasis (Code 080-001), Environmental Geography (Code 140-007), and Geology Environmental Science Emphasis (Code 160-010). Students wishing for a broader understanding of Environmental Studies can also seek to develop a program of study in the Liberal Studies Comprehensive Major (Code 370-001). Students in these programs take advantage of service learning opportunities, engage with activities and organizations on campus and in the community, and participate in faculty/student collaborative research. Watershed Institute faculty and affiliates can help inform and arrange these opportunities for interested students.

Mission

We work collaboratively to build healthy, just, and sustainable human and ecological communities.

Values

We accomplish this mission through the application of the following principles in all we do:

- We collaborate across the campus and within the community, involving a broad range of interdisciplinary perspectives.
- Our efforts are centered on our students and their development.
- Both students and faculty are encouraged to be bold in how we teach and learn.
- We focus on imparting skills for life and career.
- Our program is distinctive—accomplishing our mission in innovative ways.
- We seek to be engaged in the world with our studies.
- At the same time, we are place-centered, recognizing the value of learning from and positively influencing our surroundings.
- We remain ecologically aware.
- We are ethically intentional in all these efforts.

The Watershed Institute consists of the faculty members listed on the faculty tab and affiliate members found in other home departments, programs, and units (including Art & Design, Biology, Blugold Dining Services, Chemistry, Communication and Journalism, Economics, English, Geography and Anthropology, Geology, Music and Theatre Arts, Philosophy and Religious Studies, and Sociology).

Liberal Arts (Code 489-401)

The Environment, Society, and Culture minor enables students to probe the human dimensions of environmental issues through a variety of courses crossing many disciplines. Built around a core science requirement, the program is rounded out with courses in ethics, philosophy/religion, history, sociology, geography, and economics—courses that examine social conflict and the policies that engender and address conflict. This minor is open to all students; while perhaps best suited to students majoring in the humanities and social sciences, it is designed to be flexible so that students can tailor it to meet their particular needs and interests.

In this minor, students gain the ability to answer critical environmental challenges ranging from air quality, food production safety and distribution, loss of critical habitats, issues related to urban growth, climate change, water pollution, and the spread and prevalence of disease, while applying principles or environmental justice, civic engagement and strategic policy approaches. These solutions require students to integrate and apply concepts and tools of multiple disciplines from across the university and into the community.

Contemplation of the environment raises many questions, some of them clearly scientific in nature: “What chemical is polluting the river? What are that chemical’s toxicological properties, and how will they affect the ecosystem?” Some of the questions raised transcend the purely scientific perspective: “Who is dumping that chemical in the river? Why did they make that choice—was profit involved? Mere carelessness?” Or “Do any societal needs drive demands for this chemical? Can those needs be met in alternative ways?” And “Who lives by the river, what socio-economic conditions brought them there and how are they affected by this chemical’s presence?” Or again—“What laws pertain to the river? To whom does the river ‘belong?’” Such questions, equally important and as intellectually challenging as the purely scientific inquiries, in fact provide a larger context for the science. To ask this full range of questions is to think ecologically—that is, with an awareness of the entire mechanism—about environmental issues.

This minor requires a minimum of 24 credits, of which at least 12 credits must be from courses numbered 300 and higher.

¹ Must take either GEOG 178 or BIOL 180 as the gateway course as a prerequisite to BIOL 328.
CHEM 103 and CHEM 104 may be used in lieu of CHEM 115 but only six credits may be counted toward the minor from these courses.

Note 1: Credits from other courses may be applied as electives, pending adviser and college approval, when they focus specifically on environmental topics. Examples of such courses include: CHEM 100, Hnrs courses, IDIS 151-IDIS 155, IDIS 351-IDIS 355, NRSG 255, and WRIT 114, WRIT 116, WRIT 118, WRIT 120. Also, various departments may offer special topics courses, directed studies courses, independent study courses, and/or internships that may also apply.

Note 2: For students pursuing a standard major in Geography, a maximum of 12 credits from the major may be applied to the minor.

College Degree Requirements
Bachelor of Science in Environmental Public Health

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements (p. 46).

College Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All candidates for degrees in the College of Arts and Sciences must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 in the major, the minor, and the certificate. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the minor and certificate are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. A standard major (a minimum of 36 credits) must be supplemented by a minor (a minimum of 24 credits) or by a certificate (12 to 18 credits) to meet graduation requirements for completing a first and second degree program. No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major (60 or more credits) or with two majors of 36 or more credits each.

Certain degree programs which include Comprehensive Majors may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Acceptable academic program combinations are determined at the college level. A major and a minor or a major and certificate or two majors (if available) may not be elected in the same department or program, except in the approved combinations listed here (p. 52).

College Credits. Earn at least 90 credits in courses offered by the College of Arts and Sciences.

Bachelor of Science in Environmental Public Health Degree in the College of Arts and Sciences (B.S.E.P.H.)

Fulfillment of all University Graduation Requirements (which includes the Liberal Education Core); all College-level degree requirements (major and minor/certificate emphases, GPAs, earning at least 90 credits in Arts and Sciences course work).

Major Requirements

The field of environmental public health is composed of individuals whose professional efforts are directed toward controlling environmental health hazards, and preserving and improving environmental factors for the achievement of optimum health, safety, comfort, and well-being. An appreciation for cultural values that impact human environmental health complements courses that provide students with the educational background necessary for employment in regulatory agencies and industries concerned with environmental quality and the public’s health. This comprehensive major includes both foundation classes in biology, chemistry, physics, and mathematics, and specialized courses in environmental and public health, such as food and water sanitation, industrial hygiene, and environmental toxicology.

Mission

The Environmental Public Health (ENPH) major provides undergraduate students with a comprehensive understanding of science and its application to protect human environmental health. The degree prepares students for careers as Environmental Health Professionals and safety specialists, integrating a scientific background, technical skills, and professional ethics.

Goals

The ENPH major strives to prepare graduates with the knowledge, awareness, and skills to:

1. Understand the natural world through applied chemistry, biology, physics, and mathematics;
2. Identify short- and long-term hazards to human and environmental health through critical thinking;
3. Serve the public by addressing human health risks through research, communication and intervention;
4. Identify and address cross-cultural, economic, and technological barriers to serving public health interests; and
5. Demonstrate professional ethics, values, and responsibility in all areas of practice.

Scholarships

Several scholarships are available to students in the ENPH major. Additional information may be obtained from the faculty or by visiting the Financial Aid Website. Students are invited to participate in the Student National Environmental Health Association, the goal of which is to improve the health and well-being of people by focusing on environmental public health issues and to provide students an introduction to professional organizations.

Internship

An internship or practical experience is an integral part of the Environmental Public Health major, and an important component of preparation for career or graduate school. This off-campus practicum is a full-time work experience with a health-related agency or industry, typically taken during the summer between the junior and senior year.

Bachelor of Science in Environmental Public Health (B.S.E.P.H.)

The B.S.E.P.H. degree is accredited by the National Environmental Health Science and Protection Accreditation Council. The degree prepares the recipient to take the National Environmental Health Association exam for the Registered Environmental Health Specialist/Registered Sanitarian credential.

Internship

An internship or practical experience is a requirement for the B.S.E.P.H. degree. Typically between the junior and senior year, each student is required to enroll in four credits of summer practicum (ENPH 435) and pay fees to the University. Students anticipating enrollment in the practicum should notify the Environmental Public Health faculty no later than February 1, and enroll in ENPH 432 the spring semester prior to their summer practicum.

Environmental Science, Minor

Liberal Arts (Code 155-400)

Advisers: P. Ihinger (Geology), P. Kleintjes Neff (Biology), K. Mumford, G. Running (Geography and Anthropology), E. Weiher (Biology).

This multidisciplinary liberal arts minor is created primarily for Arts and Sciences students with interests in the environmental sciences and conservation of biological diversity. The minor emphasizes the study of environmental issues and techniques, ecology and conservation, and water and earth resources, and is designed to complement a 36-credit standard major, e.g., Biology, Liberal Arts or Political Science, Liberal Arts. Comprehensive major environmental science programs include the Geography and Anthropology Department Resource Management Comprehensive Major, the Geology Department Environmental Science Comprehensive Major, the Biology Department Ecology and Environmental Biology Comprehensive Major, and the Environmental Public Health Comprehensive Major.

The minor consists of a minimum of 24 credits from the list of courses in categories below with at least 11 credits at the 300 level and higher. Credits from other courses may also be applied as electives, pending adviser and college approval, when they focus specifically on environmental topics. This includes special topics, directed studies, independent studies, and/or internships. Applicable environmental courses offered through International Study Abroad or National Student Exchange may also be taken with consent of an adviser.

Women’s Studies

Hibbard Humanities Hall 384
715-836-5717
www.uwec.edu/wmns

The Women’s Studies program coordinates teaching, research and scholarship in the field of Women’s Studies. It is a discipline in its own right that also draws from many other fields of study. Enacted as a discipline, the Women’s Studies program is a site of both scholarly inquiry and social change and activism. A unique academic program, Women’s Studies incorporates praxis—practice that is informed by feminist theory and gendered analyses. Courses in Women’s Studies are taught with feminist pedagogical techniques and from feminist theoretical perspectives, and they integrate theory with activism whenever possible.

Women’s Studies students learn to think critically about the intersections of sex, gender, and sexualities with other hierarchies of power and privilege such as ability, age, class, ethnicity, nationality, and race. Students also learn to make important connections between their learning, their own lives, and the globally interconnected world. As engaged citizens, Women’s Studies students advocate for gender and other forms of social justice both on campus and in the larger community.

All majors and minors participate in a final capstone experience, the “Social Justice Practicum” (WMNS 496), where they work closely with a community partner to develop and implement a plan of action or research. There are also internship and volunteer opportunities for Women’s Studies students on campus (e.g. Women’s and LGBTQ Resource Center, Center for Awareness of Sexual Assault, and the Vagina Monologues) and in the local community (e.g. Bolton Refuge House, Wisconsin AIDS Resource Center, the Eau Claire County DA’s Office Victims Assistant programs, and local women’s magazines). In addition, Women’s Studies offers several courses conducted as domestic and international cultural immersion experiences.

Upon graduating, Women’s Studies majors pursue a range of careers, including health, social, and human services, public policy, community education, and the non-profit sector. They are also well prepared for graduate studies in Women’s Studies and other fields.

LGBTQ Studies, Certificate

The Certificate in LGBTQ Studies provides students with a flexible option for completing a concentration in LGBTQ issues, and for formally denoting on their transcript this area of expertise in their academic training.
Currently enrolled degree-seeking students in good standing in the university and University Special Students will be eligible to complete the certificate in LGBTQ Studies. Note: Courses cannot be counted in both the major and the certificate program.

For students pursuing the Women’s Studies Major and the LGBTQ Certificate as their first and second degree programs to meet graduation requirements, no course may be counted in both the major and the certificate.

Students are required to take a minimum of 12 credits, including:

- WMNS 206 Perspectives in LGBTQ Studies 3
- WMNS 406 Queer Theories and Sexual Politics 3
- The remaining 6 credits are to be selected from:

  - WMNS 308 Topics in LGBTQ Studies
  - WMNS/HIST 313 Gender, Sex, and Science in European History
  - WMNS/PSYC 336 Psychology of Women
  - WMNS 422 & WMNS 431 Women’s Studies Advanced Travel Seminar and Women and Communication (only when offered as “LGBTQA Francisco Travel Seminar”)

College Degree Requirements
Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science Degree (B.A./B.S.)

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements (p. 46).

College Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All candidates for degrees in the College of Arts and Sciences must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 in the major, the minor, and the certificate. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the minor are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. A standard major (a minimum of 36 credits) must be supplemented by a minor (a minimum of 24 credits) or by a certificate (12 to 18 credits) to meet graduation requirements for completing a first and second degree program. No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major (60 or more credits) or with two majors of 36 or more credits each.

Certain degree programs which include Comprehensive Majors may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Acceptable academic program combinations are determined at the college level. A major and a minor or a major and certificate or two majors (if available) may not be elected in the same department or program, except in the approved combinations listed here (p. 52).

College Credits. Earn at least 90 credits in courses offered by the College of Arts and Sciences.

Bachelor of Arts Degree in the College of Arts and Sciences (B.A.)

Fulfillment of all University Graduation Requirements (which includes the Liberal Education Core); all College-level degree requirements (major and minor/certificate emphases, GPAs, earning at least 90 credits in Arts and Sciences course work); foreign language competency at the 102 level. Foreign language competency may be met in one of two ways: (1) Achieve a score on the foreign language placement test that qualifies the student to enter the 201-level course in a foreign language. (2) Earn a grade of at least C (not C-) or a mark of S in a 102-level foreign language course (or AIS 112 or AIS 122 / LANG 122 or CSD 103).

Bachelor of Science Degree in the College of Arts and Sciences (B.S.)

Fulfillment of all University Graduation Requirements (which includes the Liberal Education Core); all College-level degree requirements (major and minor/certificate emphases, GPAs, earning at least 90 credits in Arts and Sciences course work); mathematics competency at the MATH 111, MATH 112 or MATH 113 level. Mathematics competency can be met in one of three ways: (1) Achieve a score on the mathematics placement test that qualifies the student to enter the MATH 114. (2) Earn a grade of at least C (not C-) or a mark of S in MATH 111, MATH 112, or MATH 113. (3) Achieve a satisfactory score on the MATH 112 competency test. This test may be attempted no more than two times.

College of Business Vision and Mission

Our Vision
To be a leading regional College of Business recognized for our innovative teaching, distinctive academic programs and value-added educational experiences.

Our Mission
“The College of Business prepares students for success” Students completing a degree program are prepared to achieve success, whether their next step is employment in their chosen field, graduate study, not-for-profit work, a new career or a new direction for their current career. Our undergraduate and graduate curricula are designed to provide students with the content knowledge and skills needed to achieve success throughout their careers and lives.

Undergraduate Learning Goals
The College of Business curriculum builds on and enhances the campus liberal education core curriculum. The curriculum provides a broad-based exposure to the functional areas of business through the Business Core (BUSCORE). The various majors provide depth of study within a specific business function. Additionally, the curriculum is designed to provide repeated exposure and mastery of three focused learning goals which are critical to student success:

- Oral and written communication skills
- Teamwork
- Problem solving skills

Student Classification
Students may declare a major or minor in the College of Business upon admission to the university. Students may also declare “COB Undecided” status if they intend to major in the College of Business, or are highly considering a College of Business major, but have not yet decided what that major will be.

Dean’s List
Students in the College of Business who have an outstanding record of academic accomplishment are eligible for the Dean’s List. In order to earn Dean’s List standing during a given semester, students must have the following:

- Earned a minimum of 12 credits during the semester, not including incompletes, courses below the 100 level, repeats, and Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory registrations (except in courses that are offered only on the S/U grading system in which a grade of S has been earned).
- Earned a minimum semester GPA of 3.60.

Dean’s List students will receive a letter of notification and congratulations from the Dean.

College of Business Laptop Computer Requirement
Select courses offered in the College of Business require students to bring a laptop computer to class. Additional information is available on the College of Business website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/admission-requirements/laptop-requirements.cfm).

Experienced-Based Learning
Business students can broaden their education and gain additional skills and competencies through participation in learning experiences outside of the traditional classroom. The College of Business encourages students to participate in one or more of the following experience-based learning opportunities.

College of Business Internships
All College of Business undergraduate students are encouraged to participate in an internship during their course of studies. College-approved internships may be taken for credit, or as a transcripted non-credit activity. Credit internships generally involve a greater degree of faculty/staff oversight, and/or peer interaction during the internship experience. This may take the form of internship site visits, online internship class discussions, faculty feedback on student journals, etc.

General Internship Requirements
To be approved as a for-credit or transcripted non-credit internship in the College of Business, the following minimum criteria must be satisfied:

- Students are expected to have relevant work assignments that provide value to the hosting organization, while engaged in college-level learning experiences.
- Accordingly, and in compliance with the Fair Labor Standards Act, internships at “for profit” private sector organizations must offer at least the minimum wage, and overtime compensation for hours worked over 40 in a workweek. Department of Labor interpretation of FLSA currently permits unpaid internships in public sector and non-profit charitable organizations, where the intern volunteers without expectation of compensation.
- The employer must designate and provide contact information for an internship supervisor. The supervisor will provide mentoring and guidance during the internship, and will submit an evaluation of student performance at the end of the internship.
- A transcripted, non-credit internship must provide (at a minimum) hours worked satisfying the requirements for a one credit internship. See “Credit-Bearing Internships” below.

Students should contact their respective major department offices in the College of Business for additional, department-specific requirements and procedures regarding internship credit and transcripting.

Internship Procedures
- Students are encouraged to utilize campus resources such as Career Services, fall and spring Career Conferences, student organizations, and other sources to secure internship employment opportunities.
- The internship must be approved by the student’s major department chair or chair’s designee prior to the work experience.
If the internship is to be completed for university credit (see below), the student must register for the appropriate internship course prior to the work experience.

Credit-Bearing Internships
Note: Credit internship registration is required for the internship to qualify as “Full Time Equivalent Enrollment Status” (p. 39). The number of credits a student may earn in a for-credit internship depends on the number of hours worked during the semester in which the internship course registration occurs:

Full time employment: For an internship that employs a student 36 to 40 hours per week,
- Employment for 10 or more weeks within the semester qualifies for at most 3 internship credits
- Employment for 7-9 weeks within the semester qualifies for at most 2 internship credits
- Employment for 4-6 weeks within a semester qualifies for at most 1 internship credit

Part-time employment: For an internship that employs a student 10-35 hours per week, the internship typically qualifies for at most one credit per 150 hours worked.

Students who are interested in the Business Internship Program should contact their department chair within the College of Business or the Career and Employment Adviser, Schofield 230, 715-836-5358. Additional information is available on the College of Business website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/internships).

International Education
The College of Business faculty strongly encourage all business students to study abroad and/or complete an international internship. In today’s business world there are no longer hundreds of isolated markets but rather many very interconnected markets within a global economy. Chances are high that a student majoring in business will end up in a career which will require knowledge and skills needed for operating effectively in the international markets. Employers are looking for individuals who demonstrate self-confidence, independence, global awareness, and knowledge of a multicultural world. To help students gain these skills and competencies, many opportunities exist for them to study outside of the United States. Additional information about study abroad programs is available on the Center for International Education website (https://www.uwec.edu/cie/studyabroad/index.cfm?FuseAction=Abroad.Home).

Service-Learning Experience
Business students can apply the functional knowledge and communication skills gained in the classroom through service in the community. Service-learning is an academic experience that combines community services with intentional learning goals, reflection, and critical analysis. It offers students the opportunity to apply knowledge gained in the classroom through service to others. All UW-Eau Claire undergraduates are required to complete 30 or more clock hours of curricular, extracurricular, or co-curricular service-learning. Acceptable activities can take many forms. Service-learning activities may be integrated into a course or may involve participation in a community service program or internship. Service-learning projects are typically unpaid. Information regarding the completion of the service-learning requirement can be obtained from the College of Business website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/service-learning), department chairpersons, or the University’s Service-Learning website (http://www.uwec.edu/sl).

Faculty/Student Collaborative Research
Business students can gain functional knowledge and practice communication and teamwork skills by working with a faculty member on an academic research project. Research projects are presented at the University’s annual Student Research Day. Students may gain independent study credit for the experience. This opportunity is particularly beneficial for students considering graduate school. Additional information about faculty/student collaborative research experiences is available from the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs (http://www.uwec.edu/ORSP).

Business Student Organizations
Pre-business and business students can apply the knowledge and skills learned in the classroom through active participation in student business organizations. Members network with professionals, go on field trips to businesses, plan meetings, organize fund-raising events, participate in social occasions, attend regional and national conferences, and build lasting friendships with other business students. Additional information is available on the College of Business website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/student-organizations).

College of Business Scholarships
Refer to the College of Business website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/scholarships) for an up-to-date listing of College of Business scholarships or contact the Assistant Dean—Development and Marketing of the College of Business, Schneider 113

Special Course Options
Access to Business Courses for Non-Business Majors.

The Management and Marketing Department (College of Business) and the Communication and Journalism Department (College of Arts and Sciences) have identified specific business courses which are appropriate for students pursuing a Communication major. For additional information about this arrangement or other opportunities for students pursuing a non-business degree, contact the Management and Marketing department chair.

Credit by Examination. Each department within the College of Business has established its own policy with respect to credit by examination. Contact the appropriate department chair for additional information.

Independent Study. Students who wish to undertake an independent study project must demonstrate academic capability and must secure, prior to registering, the consent of the chair of the department offering the independent study and the faculty member directing the study.

For further information, contact the appropriate College of Business department chair.

Master of Business Administration Graduate Degree Program
The UW - Eau Claire College of Business is a member and managing partner of the University of Wisconsin System Consortium MBA program. This online MBA program is designed to give students a broad practical understanding of business and the dynamic global environment in which it operates. Students in the program develop the skills and entrepreneurial spirit needed to manage change and recognize the opportunities it creates. In addition, students learn guidelines for evaluating situations in an ethical and socially responsible manner.

Bachelor of Business Administration Degree Requirements

Credits for Graduation

All candidates for the BBA degree need a minimum of 120 credits to graduate, to include a minimum of 48 semester credits in courses other than those offered by the College of Business. The Health Care Administration major is exempt from the 48 credit requirement.

Student Professional Development Program

All students pursing a major in the College of Business must complete the Student Professional Development Workshops. The program is designed to equip students with the skills needed to present themselves in a professional manner during their job search and to other professionals once they enter their chosen careers. Students are highly encouraged to complete the workshops prior to the end of their third semester on campus. The workshops are prerequisites for a number of 300 level courses in the College of Business Core, and need to be completed prior to registration for those courses.

The program consists of four workshops: Becoming a Business Professional, Professional Appearance, Developing your Professional Profile, and Professional Etiquette. For more information, visit the College of Business website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/student-professional-development-program).

Grade Point Requirements
Candidates for the BBA degree must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 in their major and in courses taken in residence. (See the special requirements for the Comprehensive Major in Accounting (p. 431) and Health Care Administration (p. 444).) If a minor is required, or is to be listed as an official minor, the candidate must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 in the minor.

- No course may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis as part of a major, minor, or certificate described by one of the departments in the College of Business.
- Business courses may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis only concurrent with or following completion of the student’s major or business minor.

Accounting and Finance

Schneider Social Science 400a
715-836-2184
www.uwec.edu/acctfin (http://www.uwec.edu/acctfin)

Accounting is the field of study which focuses on developing and providing financial information about businesses, including information about the cost of products manufactured or services provided, and about governmental and not-for-profit organizations. This information is used by internal and external decision makers and other stakeholders of the organization. The accounting program is designed to provide the student depth of knowledge in accounting and business, and to help develop communication, interpersonal, and critical thinking skills. These skills are highly valued by organizations seeking to employ accountants. Careers in accounting include public accounting, financial accounting, managerial accounting, internal auditing, and tax accounting.

Finance is the field of study which focuses on managing the finances of firms, financial institutions, and individuals. Careers in finance include corporate financial officer, banker, stockbroker, financial analyst, portfolio manager, investment banker, financial consultant, and personal financial planner.

The Department of Accounting and Finance offers a 60-credit comprehensive major in Accounting. The Department also offers a 60-credit comprehensive major in Finance. Minors in Accounting, Audit and Control, and Finance are also available.

Department of Accounting and Finance Scholarships

Refer to the College of Business website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/scholarships) for an up-to-date listing of Department of Accounting and Finance scholarships, or contact the department chairperson, Schneider 400A.

Departmental Honors Programs

Departmental Honors Program in Accounting

Objectives:
1. To provide outstanding students in accounting with opportunities for academic enrichment and challenge beyond usual course coverage and requirements.
2. To encourage more faculty-student scholarly interaction, including research collaboration.
3. To encourage and allow outstanding students to pursue projects that require an understanding of relationships between different areas of accounting.

Eligibility:
Upper-class accounting majors with resident, overall, and major GPAs of 3.50 or higher. Completion of ACCT 302.

Procedure:
Students will be invited to apply for participation in the Departmental Honors Program by instructors during a student’s enrollment in ACCT 302 or by a faculty adviser after completion of Accounting 302. Students may apply without an invitation from a faculty member, but must obtain a letter of support from a faculty member. An application must be submitted to the department chair. The application should be submitted prior to the student’s last two semesters of study. The application form should outline the student’s plan to complete department honors.
Requirements:
At graduation, the student must have resident, overall, and major GPAs of 3.50 or higher. In addition, the student must submit evidence that two of the following have been satisfactorily completed:

1. Participation in a faculty/student collaborative accounting research project,
2. Completion of a research project off campus (at a conference),
3. Completion of an accounting project designed and executed under the guidance of an accounting faculty member (may include projects for community members or local companies),
4. Completion of an internship in accounting, or
5. Acceptance of an accounting paper in a peer-reviewed journal.

College Degree Requirements

Bachelor of Business Administration Degree Requirements

Credits for Graduation

All candidates for the BBA degree need a minimum of 120 credits to graduate, to include a minimum of 48 semester credits in courses other than those offered by the College of Business. The Health Care Administration major is exempt from the 48 credit requirement.

Student Professional Development Program

All students pursuing a major in the College of Business must complete the Student Professional Development Workshops. The program is designed to equip students with the skills needed to present themselves in a professional manner during their job search and to other professionals once they enter their chosen careers. Students are highly encouraged to complete the workshops prior to the end of their third semester on campus. The workshops are prerequisites for a number of 300 level courses in the College of Business Core, and need to be completed prior to registration for those courses.

The program consists of four workshops: Becoming a Business Professional, Professional Appearance, Developing your Professional Profile, and Professional Etiquette. For more information, visit the College of Business website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/student-professional-development-program).

Grade Point Requirements

Candidates for the BBA degree must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 in their major and in courses taken in residence. (See the special requirements for the Comprehensive Major in Accounting (p. 431) and Health Care Administration (p. 444).) If a minor is required, or is to be listed as an official minor, the candidate must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 in the minor.

- No course may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis as part of a major, minor, or certificate described by one of the departments in the College of Business.
- Business courses may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis only concurrent with or following completion of the student’s major or business minor.

Major Requirements

This major provides an all-inclusive program which will enable the graduate to pursue entry-level accounting positions. Graduates with this major are eligible to take the examinations for the Certified Public Accountant (CPA), Certified Management Accountant (CMA) and Certified Internal Auditor (CIA) designations.

150-Hour Requirement

Many states (including Wisconsin and Minnesota) accept a baccalaureate degree of at least 120 university credits, with a major in accounting, as qualification to sit for the CPA exam. All licensing jurisdictions, including Wisconsin and Minnesota, require 150 semester hours of university credit to earn CPA licensure. To meet the 150 semester hour requirement, students have options at the undergraduate level including a second major, adding a minor, or completing one of the undergraduate certificates.

Many employers of entry-level accountants require 150 credits of accounting course work, including an accounting major. Students should work closely with their faculty advisers to determine the best course of study to reach their educational and career goals.

Proficiency Requirements

Proficiency requirements include basic prerequisite courses and/or entry level competencies for the major. These are not counted as credits in the major.

Business Communication

Schneider Social Science 404
715-836-4320
www.uwec.edu/bcom (http://www.uwec.edu/bcom)

The Business Communication Department offers a series of courses designed to develop written and oral communication skills. These courses give students communication experience in a variety of business settings, prepare students to communicate in the workplace, and build a foundation for writing and speaking in other College of Business courses.

Business Writing (BCOM 206) and Business Presentations (BCOM 207) are the introductory business communication courses and are part of the BUSCORE. These courses prepare students to take advanced business communication courses, which offer students an opportunity to further strengthen, refine, and apply their business communication skills. Students need to earn a B- or above in BCOM 206 and BCOM 207 to meet College of Business requirements. Students who do not earn a B- or above in BCOM 206 must take Business Writing II (BCOM 216) and earn a grade of C or better. Students who do not earn a B- or better in BCOM 207 must take Business Presentations II (BCOM 217) and earn a grade of C or better. After completing BCOM 206 and BCOM 207, students can take additional course work in business communication to earn the Advanced Business Communication Certificate.

Business Writing Fundamentals Program

The Business Writing Fundamentals Program is designed to ensure that students have the basic writing skills needed to successfully complete BCOM 206 (Business Writing) as well as other COB courses. Completing this program is a requirement within the BCOM 206 course.

Department of Business Communication Scholarships

Refer to the College of Business website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/scholarships) for an up-to-date listing of Business Communication scholarships, or contact the program director, Schneider 400F.

Twelve semester credits in the following courses with a grade of B- or above:

College of Business students may petition to count up to 3 credits of a communication-intensive course in the College of Business toward the 12 credits earned for the certificate. Students need to earn a grade of B- or better for the course to count toward the certificate. The petition must be approved by the business communication program director prior to taking the course.

Information Systems
Schneider Social Science 404
715-836-4320
www.uwec.edu/is

Information Systems (IS) is the study of the development, management and application of computer information systems by businesses.

IS graduates have a wide variety of excellent career prospects. Systems/business/data analyst, web services developer, application software developer, project manager, digital network manager, risk assurance professional, and database administrator are just a few of the prestigious and well-paid positions available to them.

The IS program is housed in the College of Business allowing IS graduates to obtain a broad background in business concepts. This allows them to develop expertise in bridging the gap between business professionals and computer technologists. IS graduates develop important business knowledge and skills such as communication, teamwork and problem solving as well as technical knowledge and skills such as systems analysis and design, computer programming, database management, network management, and Web development.

The IS department offers a comprehensive major (61 credits, no minor required). The department also offers a minor (25 credits), and a certificate (12 credits).

Student Organizations
The IS department sponsors a student chapter of the Association of Information Technology Professionals (AITP) (http://www.uwecaitp.org). Membership is open to all students interested in the study of information systems.

Department of Information Systems Scholarships
Refer to the College of Business website for an up-to-date listing of Department of Information Systems scholarships (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/scholarships), or contact the department at is@uwec.edu or 715-836-4320.

Information Systems, Certificate
(Code 832-601)

The Certificate in Information Systems is available to all students at UW-Eau Claire except IS majors and minors, for whom it would be redundant. It is designed to complement majors in every area of study without the investment required for a minor. The certificate documents a student’s completion of course work relating to IS issues in organizations.

All courses must be completed with a grade of C or above.

1 Non-business majors are advised to select both electives from IS 290, IS 304, IS 345. Remaining electives have College of Business prerequisites.

Students operating under the 2015-2016 and subsequent catalogs will declare the IS certificate as part of their program of study. Other students will obtain an application form from the IS department office, Schneider 404, and return the completed application to that office by October 30 or March 30 of the semester in which they expect to complete the requirements. Shortly after final grades have been submitted to the Registrar, official certificates are mailed to successful applicants in January and June.

For more information on the IS Certificate program, contact the IS department.

College Degree Requirements
Bachelor of Business Administration Degree Requirements

Credits for Graduation
All candidates for the BBA degree need a minimum of 120 credits to graduate, to include a minimum of 48 semester credits in courses other than those offered by the College of Business. The Health Care Administration major is exempt from the 48 credit requirement.

Student Professional Development Program
All students pursuing a major in the College of Business must complete the Student Professional Development Workshops. The program is designed to equip students with the skills needed to present themselves in a professional manner during their job search and to other professionals once they enter their chosen careers. Students are highly encouraged to complete the workshops prior to the end of their third semester on campus. The workshops are prerequisites for a number of 300 level courses in the College of Business Core, and need to be completed prior to registration for those courses.

The program consists of four workshops: Becoming a Business Professional, Professional Appearance, Developing your Professional Profile, and Professional Etiquette. For more information, visit the College of Business website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/student-professional-development-program).

Grade Point Requirements
Candidates for the BBA degree must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 in their major and in courses taken in residence. (See the special requirements for the Comprehensive Major in Accounting (p. 431) and Health Care Administration (p. 444).) If a minor is required, or is to be listed as an official minor, the candidate must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 in the minor.

- No course may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis as part of a major, minor, or certificate described by one of the departments in the College of Business.
- Business courses may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis only concurrent with or following completion of the student’s major or business minor.

Major Requirements

Proficiency Requirements
Proficiency requirements include basic prerequisite courses and/or entry level competencies for the major. These are not counted as credits in the major.

Information Systems, Minor

(Code 832-401)

Students minoring in Information Systems augment their major with organizational computing skills and knowledge that make them more proficient in their field, more attractive to potential employers, and more capable as citizens. The IS minor is available to all students at UW-Eau Claire except IS majors, for whom it would be redundant.

Management and Marketing
Schneider Social Science 400E
715-836-3677
www.uwec.edu/mgmtmktg

The Department of Management and Marketing offers comprehensive majors in Management, Marketing, International Business, and Health Care Administration, as well as a standard major in Business Administration. Within the Management major, specialized emphases are available in Human Resource Management, Operations and Supply Chain Management, and Entrepreneurship, in addition to the general Management option. The Marketing major offers emphases in Professional Sales and Marketing Analytics in addition to the general Marketing option. The Health Care Administration major is targeted toward students preparing for careers in managing post-acute health care institutions.

The standard major in Business Administration is offered for those students interested in the flexibility of a major/minor or major/certificate program of study, particularly for those interested in a minor or certificate outside the College of Business. Many of the minors and certificates offered within the College of Business do not satisfy university academic concentration requirements (p. 50) when paired with the Business Administration major.

The department also offers five minors. The Business Administration minor provides a broad survey of business principles for non-business majors. Minors in Management, Marketing, and Entrepreneurship provide an opportunity for students to gain more focused study and are available to all students, including those with a major in the College of Business. The International Business minor is also available to students in the College of Business and to students not in the College of Business who meet prerequisite requirements.

Department of Management and Marketing Scholarships
Refer to the College of Business website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/scholarships) for an up-to-date listing of Department of Management and Marketing scholarships, or contact the department chairperson, Schneider 400E.

All students earning the BBA degree with a major in Business Administration, Health Care Administration, International Business, Management (all emphases) or Marketing (all emphases) must complete the High Impact Practices (HIP) assessment during their last semester. The HIP assessment is administered electronically during the fall, spring, and summer terms.

Major/Minor Combinations are allowed in the Department of Management and Marketing. See Major/Minor Combinations (p. 429).

Department Honors – Management and Marketing
The Management and Marketing Honors Program provides students within the Management and Marketing Department with opportunities for academic enrichment and challenge beyond usual course coverage and requirements. The program encourages and enables outstanding students to pursue high-level internships, collaborative research projects, and other high-impact projects. The program enhances students’ capacity for critical inquiry and independent learning, and develops their potential for leadership in the management, marketing, and health care administration professions.

(Academic credit earned doing honors work in the Management and Marketing Honors program may also potentially count for students currently in the University Honors Program).

Participation in the Management and Marketing Honors Program is documented on the student’s university record. For more information, please get in touch with Dr. Kristy Lauver, department chair of Management and Marketing.

Eligibility. Upper-class business administration, management, marketing, and health-care administration majors with resident, overall GPA of 3.75 or higher and major GPA of 3.80 or higher.

Procedure. Eligible students will be invited into the honors program during their junior year. The invitation will include an information sheet and application form.

Requirements. To graduate with Departmental Honors in Management and Marketing, students must achieve resident and overall GPAs of 3.75 or higher and major GPAs of 3.80 or higher, pass the final review by the Management and Marketing Honors committee indicating appropriate rigor in their Honors work, and successfully complete at least two of the following Honors experiences:

- Participate in substantial faculty/student collaborative research project
- Present the results of a research project at a regional, national, or international conference
- Design and execute, under the guidance of a department faculty member, a substantial professional project (e.g. for community members or agencies, or local companies), with substantial written report
- Undertake an approved management and marketing internship or health-care practicum and write an in-depth professional reflection paper
- Publication of a paper in a peer-reviewed journal
- Study abroad or participation in the National Student Exchange with completion of a related Honors project
- Other Honors projects approved by the department chair and the department Honors committee.

Procedures Required for Graduation

Obtain admission to the degree program and/or the College offering it.
Apply for graduation on CampS.

1 Certain programs exceed this minimum.
2 See special requirements in each College.
3 See special requirements for the College of Education and Human Sciences.
College Degree Requirements

Bachelor of Business Administration Degree Requirements

Credits for Graduation
All candidates for the BBA degree need a minimum of 120 credits to graduate, to include a minimum of 48 semester credits in courses other than those offered by the College of Business. The Health Care Administration major is exempt from the 48 credit requirement.

Student Professional Development Program
All students pursuing a major in the College of Business must complete the Student Professional Development Workshops. The program is designed to equip students with the skills needed to present themselves in a professional manner during their job search and to other professionals once they enter their chosen careers. Students are highly encouraged to complete the workshops prior to the end of their third semester on campus. The workshops are prerequisites for a number of 300 level courses in the College of Business Core, and need to be completed prior to registration for those courses.

The program consists of four workshops: Becoming a Business Professional, Professional Appearance, Developing your Professional Profile, and Professional Etiquette. For more information, visit the College of Business website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/student-professional-development-program).

Grade Point Requirements
Candidates for the BBA degree must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 in their major and in courses taken in residence. (See the special requirements for the Comprehensive Major in Accounting (p. 431) and Health Care Administration (p. 444).) If a minor is required, or is to be listed as an official minor, the candidate must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 in the minor.

• No course may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis as part of a major, minor, or certificate described by one of the departments in the College of Business.
• Business courses may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis only concurrent with or following completion of the student’s major or business minor.

Major Requirements
The standard major in Business Administration is offered for those students interested in the flexibility of a major/minor or major/certificate program of study, particularly for those interested in a minor or certificate outside the College of Business. Many of the minors and certificates offered within the College of Business do not satisfy university academic concentration requirements (p. 50) when paired with the Business Administration major.

Proficiency Requirements
Proficiency requirements include basic prerequisite courses and/or entry level competencies for the major. These are not counted as credits in the major.

Credits for Graduation

All candidates for the BBA degree need a minimum of 120 credits to graduate, to include a minimum of 48 semester credits in courses other than those offered by the College of Business. The Health Care Administration major is exempt from the 48 credit requirement.

Student Professional Development Program

All students pursuing a major in the College of Business must complete the Student Professional Development Workshops. The program is designed to equip students with the skills needed to present themselves in a professional manner during their job search and to other professionals once they enter their chosen careers. Students are highly encouraged to complete the workshops prior to the end of their third semester on campus. The workshops are prerequisites for a number of 300 level courses in the College of Business Core, and need to be completed prior to registration for those courses.

The program consists of four workshops: Becoming a Business Professional, Professional Appearance, Developing your Professional Profile, and Professional Etiquette. For more information, visit the College of Business website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/student-professional-development-program).

Grade Point Requirements

Candidates for the BBA degree must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 in their major and in courses taken in residence. (See the special requirements for the Comprehensive Major in Accounting (p. 431) and Health Care Administration (p. 444).) If a minor is required, or is to be listed as an official minor, the candidate must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 in the minor.

- No course may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis as part of a major, minor, or certificate described by one of the departments in the College of Business.
- Business courses may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis only concurrent with or following completion of the student’s major or business minor.
Practicum. Following satisfactory completion of all required campus-based courses, including General Education, the student is eligible for enrollment in the practicum.

The practicum, consisting of 50 weeks in an affiliated health care institution, is started at the beginning of the summer session. Students are enrolled at UW-Eau Claire for the courses taken while at affiliated institutions and pay full fees to the University. Students in the practicum receive a provider-sponsored stipend.

Positions for practicum experience are highly competitive. The University does not guarantee placement in the practicum but does aid the student in every way possible. Since academic achievement plays a part in selection of students for the practicum, resident and total GPAs above the 2.75 minimum are recommended. Application to practicum positions occurs one year prior to the practicum starting date.

Admission Requirements

Admission to the Health Care Administration Program

Students intending to major in Health Care Administration should indicate their area of interest when they apply to the University so they may be admitted as "Pre-Health Care Administration." Students may declare "Pre-Health Care Administration" at any time, but must formally apply for acceptance into the Health Care Administration program. The deadlines for filing applications to the Health Care Administration program are posted each semester in October and March, following group information/application meetings. In order to be considered for admission to the Health Care Administration Program, the student must:

1. be declared as Pre-Health Care Administration.
2. complete all application materials (essay, application, proposed degree plan with desired practicum cohort year).
3. have a resident and total GPA of at least 2.75.

Other data that may be utilized by the HCAD Admissions Committee include high school rank in class, previous collegiate records, and standardized tests such as ACT or SAT.

Enrollment in this program is limited and competitive. Students who are not admitted may reapply for a future cohort year assignment, or may consider an alternative course of study.

Practicum Cohort

At the time of admission to the program, students are assigned to the practicum cohort for a specific year. Application to specific practicum sites occurs the year prior to placement, and there is a competitive application process for practicum sites among admitted students. More information about this process may be found on the Health Care Administration program website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/departments-programs/management-marketing/academic-offerings/majors-minors/health-care-administration.cfm). Even if placed at a practicum site, students must meet academic standing requirements and have completed all non-practicum course work before being allowed to move forward. If the student’s degree plan changes such that more time is required to complete non-practicum course requirements, students may be reassigned to a future cohort.

Transferring Students

Any student anticipating transfer to UW-Eau Claire for the Health Care Administration Program is urged to consult the university Admissions Office as early as possible for information about GPA and course requirements for admission and for the degree requirements. Official review of the student’s academic record is made by the Admissions Office. Transfer students may declare Pre-Health Care Administration when transferring, or may apply for acceptance into the Health Care Administration program as described above prior to transferring to the university.

Student Background Check and Health Requirements

State law requires background checks on all students placed at the clinical practicum sites. All students accepted into the program must complete the Wisconsin Department of Health and Family Services Background Information Disclosure, as well as a release for a Wisconsin Department of Justice Criminal Background Check. Non-resident students must also have background checks completed in their state of residence. Additional information regarding the Wisconsin Caregiver Program can be obtained from the Wisconsin Department of Health Services website (https://www.dhs.wisconsin.gov/caregiver).

Within 90 days prior to beginning the practicum experience, the student must have a physical exam to provide evidence that the student is free from infectious disease and evidence of a TB skin test. A chest X-ray is required if the TB skin test is positive. It is also recommended that students be vaccinated annually against influenza. Students are not permitted to participate in clinical course work unless all immunizations, TB tests, and background checks are current.

All expenses associated with background checks and health requirements are borne by the student unless the Student Health Service specifically indicates otherwise. Students are not covered by health or accident insurance by UW-Eau Claire, the practicum facility, or the practicum institution. In addition, workers’ compensation insurance does not cover students while engaged in clinical practice. For example, if a student suffers a needle stick or is hurt while in practicum, they will need personal health insurance to cover medical bills.

Readmission to the Health Care Administration Program

Students who withdraw from the program and wish to return for completion must send a letter requesting readmission to the Management and Marketing department at least three months in advance of the desired readmission date.

Applicants must meet the current admission requirements of the Health Care Administration program. Consideration will be given to the length of absence, the student’s ability to achieve, and availability of space in the student’s desired practicum cohort. If readmission to the program is granted, the remaining program will be planned as considered best for the student and according to the current curriculum.

Termination from Program

A student may be terminated from the Health Care Administration program for any of the following reasons:

1. Failure to maintain good academic standing within the university.
2. Failure to demonstrate the potential for consistently safe, responsible, and ethical professional practice.
3. Likelihood that a student’s condition, presentation, or prior experience will adversely affect the student, other persons, the University, an agency or site used for practicum, or the patients or residents served.

If a student demonstrates deficiencies during the practicum experience that the faculty or practicum supervisor determine to be clearly unsafe or unprofessional behavior, the student will be immediately removed from the practicum situation.

A student who has been notified of termination from the program may appeal for reinstatement. This policy applies to termination from the Health Care Administration program only. A student’s status within the University remains subject to University academic standing policies.

Costs

Health Care Administration is a professional discipline, and students enrolled in the program must anticipate some additional costs that are directly related to the Health Care Administration program. These include textbooks, health requirements, technology costs (e.g., laptop and internet access), and transportation and lodging associated with the practicum experience and learning modules.

Major Requirements

The Health Care Administration program at UW-Eau Claire offers bright and committed students the opportunity to work with faculty who are dedicated to preparing leaders in a wide variety of health care organizations and to the individual development of each student. The goal is to prepare students to make a positive difference in the lives of others by joining efficient management practices with dedication to service.

This program focuses on the post-acute care continuum of health care institutions and services. For students who want to enter the acute care sector (hospitals), this program has proven an excellent preparation for the graduate education required.

All Health Care Administration students complete a 12-month practicum experience at one of the many affiliated health care facilities in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, and Iowa. Graduates are thereby ready upon graduation to begin performing as leaders and managers in health care. The Health Care Administration program is accredited by the National Board of Examiners for Long Term Care Administration. Graduates of the Health Care Administration Program are eligible to take the Wisconsin, Minnesota, and 14 other states’ licensure examinations for Nursing Home Administrators (NHA). Most other states accept graduates from this program for licensure on an individual review basis.

Scholarships. Several scholarships are available to students in the Health Care Administration major. Additional information may be obtained from the College of Business website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/scholarships) or by visiting the Financial Aid website (http://www.uwec.edu/finaid/scholarships).

Health Care Administration major proficiency requirements

Minimum grade and GPA requirement

- Students who earn lower than a B- (B Minus) in BCOM 206 must complete BCOM 216 with a grade of C or above.
- Students must earn a B- or higher in BCOM 207.
- Students must complete all required courses for the major with a grade of C- or above.
• Overall GPA must be at least 2.75.
• No course required for the degree in health care administration may be taken on a satisfactory/unsatisfactory basis.

HIP Assessment

Health Care Administration majors must complete the High Impact Practices (HIP) assessment during their last semester.

International Business, Certificate

(Code 740-610)

The Certificate in International Business is designed to enhance the bachelor’s degree for any student at UW-Eau Claire. Students for whom studying abroad or an international internship are not options can complete the 12 credit certificate and add valuable insights into the global business environment.

The Certificate was designed by participating faculty in the UW-Eau Claire College of Business, the Business Advisory Council, and the International Business Advisory Council. It is designed to complement the UW-Eau Claire Global Studies minor, and to enhance all majors at UW-Eau Claire.

The International Business certificate DOES NOT COUNT as a second plan when combined with the standard Business Administration major. If you choose to complete this certificate you will still need a second major, minor or other certificate in order to satisfy university academic concentration requirements (p. 50).

Procedures Required for Graduation

Obtain admission to the degree program and/or the College offering it.

Apply for graduation on CampS.

1 Certain programs exceed this minimum.

2 See special requirements in each College.

3 See special requirements for the College of Education and Human Sciences.

Liberal Education Core

The University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire measures learning outcomes to ensure that its graduates have achieved a liberal education and prepared themselves to contribute to a complex society. Upon graduation, each undergraduate will have met the four learning goals of our liberal education core and the 11 learning outcomes they comprise.

College Degree Requirements

Bachelor of Business Administration Degree Requirements

Credits for Graduation

All candidates for the BBA degree need a minimum of 120 credits to graduate, to include a minimum of 48 semester credits in courses other than those offered by the College of Business. The Health Care Administration major is exempt from the 48 credit requirement.

Student Professional Development Program

All students pursuing a major in the College of Business must complete the Student Professional Development Workshops. The program is designed to equip students with the skills needed to present themselves in a professional manner during their job search and to other professionals once they enter their chosen careers. Students are highly encouraged to complete the workshops prior to the end of their third semester on campus. The workshops are prerequisites for a number of 300 level courses in the College of Business Core, and need to be completed prior to registration for those courses.

The program consists of four workshops: Becoming a Business Professional, Professional Appearance, Developing your Professional Profile, and Professional Etiquette. For more information, visit the College of Business website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/student-professional-development-program).

Grade Point Requirements

Candidates for the BBA degree must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 in their major and in courses taken in residence. (See the special requirements for the Comprehensive Major in Accounting (p. 431) and Health Care Administration (p. 444).) If a minor is required, or is to be listed as an official minor, the candidate must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 in the minor.

- No course may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis as part of a major, minor, or certificate described by one of the departments in the College of Business.
- Business courses may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis only concurrent with or following completion of the student’s major or business minor.

Major Requirements

The International Business major is an interdisciplinary program. The major includes an international experience requirement that may be satisfied by taking an approved upper division business course take at a study abroad site, completing an international internship, or an internationally-oriented internship with a company located in the United States. International Business students are strongly encouraged to consider a double major in a functional business area such as management, marketing, information systems, accounting or finance.

Proficiency Requirements

Proficiency requirements include basic prerequisite courses and/or entry level competencies for the major. These are not counted as credits in the major.

¹ Maximum one course per discipline. (Two from BSAD may be included if one of these is BSAD 398.) Electives must include at least six Upper Division Credits. A student cannot count the same course for both required and elective credits. (Major must total 60 credits. Credits earned in fulfillment of the IBE Requirement may count toward the 60 credits in the major.)

² To count as an elective in the International Business major, the internship must satisfy the IBE requirement.

IBE Requirement

Students must complete an international business experience (IBE) in order to graduate with the International Business major. This requirement may be met by completing one of the following:

1. Complete an approved three-credit International Business Internship at an overseas location, or domestically with a small or large business engaged in international operations that allows the content of the internship to be international. The completion of an internship will include a written report as specified by the International Business advisor. Students must complete the internship application form for their internship in order to have the experience approved. The internship may count for up to three credits of International Business major elective (BSAD 398).

2. Complete an approved three-credit Upper Division Business business course at a study abroad site. This course may satisfy one of the major course requirements shown above, or may count as an elective in the International Business major.

HIP Assessment

International business majors must complete the High Impact Practices (HIP) assessment during their last semester.
Information for International Business Double Majors in the College of Business

Accounting:
Students who are double majoring in International Business and Accounting will be allowed to count either MGMT 345 or MKTG 335 (but not both) toward the elective credits required for the Accounting major (p. 431).

Finance:
Students who are double majoring in International Business and Finance will be allowed to count either MGMT 345 or MKTG 335 (but not both) toward the elective credits required for the Finance major (p. 434).

Management:
Students who are double majoring in International Business and Management will be allowed to count either FIN 325 or MKTG 335 (but not both) toward the elective credits required for the Management major (p. 457).

Marketing:
Students who are double majoring in International Business and Marketing will be allowed to count either FIN 325 or MGMT 345 (but not both) toward the elective credits required for the Marketing major (p. 462).

Students should contact their advisor to initiate the necessary degree audit petitions to implement any of the above.

International Business, Minor
(Code 740-411)

The International Business Minor is designed to enable students to enhance their perspective of the business environment as a global, rather than local, enterprise. Completion of the minor adds value to any major at UW-Eau Claire.

The minor requires foreign language competence at the 201 level. Advanced business courses taken during a study abroad semester will replace the directed study or independent study options listed below.

The minor consists of 24 semester credits, as follows:

1  Electives may include at most one course per discipline. At least six of the twelve elective credits must be 300 or 400 level courses
2  Select from CHIN 201, FLG 201, FREN 201, GERM 201, JAPN 201, SPAN 201 or higher

The International Business minor DOES NOT COUNT as a second plan when combined with the standard Business Administration major. If you choose to complete this minor you will still need a second major, minor or other certificate in order to satisfy university academic concentration requirements (p. 50).

Leadership Studies, Certificate
(Code 820-601)

The Leadership Studies Certificate program is a special recognition awarded to students who have completed the following requirements:

1. Leadership Certificate course work. The following 12 credits of course work must be completed with a B- or higher GPA:

   Required Courses:
   - MGMT 200  Developing the Leader Within You 3
   - MGMT 340  Organizational Behavior 3

   Certificate Electives - Select from the following 1
   - MGMT 446  Advanced Organizational Behavior 3
   - MGMT 494  Topics in Leadership 3
   - CJ 407  Leadership Communication 3
   - MSL 101  Leadership and Personal Development 3
   - MSL 102  Introduction to Tactical Leadership 3
   - MSL 201  Innovative Team Leadership 3
   - MSL 202  Foundations of Tactical Leadership 3
   - HCAD 302  Leadership and Management Practices in Health Services 3
   - MGMT 345  Managing Global Organizations 2

   1  With at most 3 credits from MSL 101, MSL 102, MSL 201, MSL 202
   2  One credit of this course counts as elective credit toward the Leadership certificate

2. Leadership Experience. Students must provide evidence of bona fide leadership experience while completing the BBA degree. This is done by submitting a résumé that outlines the student’s leadership positions and experiences, briefly explaining responsibilities and accomplishments in each case, and submitting a letter of recommendation from an organization advisor, board member (non-student), or other supervisor. The letter of recommendation must specifically attest to the leadership requirements of the position held, and give specific examples of the leadership skills demonstrated by the student. Generic, employment-related letters of reference will not be accepted. Students are encouraged to obtain prior verification from the Management and Marketing department chair that their intended leadership experience will fulfill the requirements of the certificate.

3. Leadership Reflection Paper. Candidates for the Leadership Studies Certificate must submit a paper that reflects on the leadership experience documented by the resume and letter of recommendation described above. The paper should be five to seven pages in length, double-spaced in 12 point font. The suggested outline for the paper is as follows:
   - A description of the leadership experience
   - Self-evaluation of your strengths and weaknesses as a leader during these experiences.
   - Strategies and tactics for improving on your weaknesses and capitalizing on your strengths as a leader.
   - Evaluation of how your leadership course work relates to your leadership experiences.

The application form for the Leadership Studies Certificate is available in the Management and Marketing department office, SSS 400D. The resume, letter of recommendation, and reflection paper should be submitted with the completed application form.

The Leadership Studies certificate DOES NOT COUNT as a second plan when combined with the standard Business Administration major. If you choose to complete this certificate you will still need a second major, minor or other certificate in order to satisfy university academic concentration requirements (p. 50).

College Degree Requirements

Bachelor of Business Administration Degree Requirements

Credits for Graduation

All candidates for the BBA degree need a minimum of 120 credits to graduate, to include a minimum of 48 semester credits in courses other than those offered by the College of Business. The Health Care Administration major is exempt from the 48 credit requirement.

Student Professional Development Program

All students pursuing a major in the College of Business must complete the Student Professional Development Workshops. The program is designed to equip students with the skills needed to present themselves in a professional manner during their job search and to other professionals once they enter their chosen careers. Students are highly encouraged to complete the workshops prior to the end of their third semester on campus. The workshops are prerequisites for a number of 300 level courses in the College of Business Core, and need to be completed prior to registration for those courses.

The program consists of four workshops: Becoming a Business Professional, Professional Appearance, Developing your Professional Profile, and Professional Etiquette. For more information, visit the College of Business website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/student-professional-development-program).

Grade Point Requirements

Candidates for the BBA degree must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 in their major and in courses taken in residence. (See the special requirements for the Comprehensive Major in Accounting (p. 431) and Health Care Administration (p. 444).) If a minor is required, or is to be listed as an official minor, the candidate must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 in the minor.

- No course may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis as part of a major, minor, or certificate described by one of the departments in the College of Business.
- Business courses may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis only concurrent with or following completion of the student’s major or business minor.

Major Requirements

The program offers a unique learning experience for students who aspire to either start their own business or secure employment in a growth-oriented business. The program helps students to identify viable career options in entrepreneur/entrepreneur environments, to expand conceptual and creative approaches to the entrepreneurial process, and to develop a repertoire of venture management skills. “Hands on” experiences with many guest speakers, field trips, and special projects are emphasized. The students expand their creativity into a viable business plan that is the major project for the program. The program combines formal education with practical applications to develop skills in leadership, needs assessment, opportunity identification, resource development, strategic thinking, and risk taking. The ultimate goal of the program is to give the student an in-depth broad-based and practical education on the foundation of entrepreneurship.

Proficiency Requirements
Proficiency requirements include basic prerequisite courses and/or entry level competencies for the major. These are not counted as credits in the major.

Major Requirements

This emphasis is structured to prepare students for careers in HRM immediately upon graduation or shortly thereafter. Historically, "personnel departments" were primarily administrative in scope. Today, there is tremendous complexity, diversity, and sophistication confronting managers of human resources. Most corporations require highly skilled professionals who have been academically trained in the areas of HRM. Corporations now are looking to the "human resource function" as a strategic partner in executive decision making. The HRM emphasis will prepare students in the following areas: staffing (recruitment and selection), training and development, labor relations, compensation and benefits, employee relations, organizational change, and relevant legal concerns. Special focus will be directed at the changing demographic composition of employees and Workforce 2000 issues. Students are encouraged to take additional written and oral communication courses. Students will be required to study for and take the Society for Human Resource Management Certification Test.

College Degree Requirements
Bachelor of Business Administration Degree Requirements
Credits for Graduation
All candidates for the BBA degree need a minimum of 120 credits to graduate, to include a minimum of 48 semester credits in courses other than those offered by the College of Business. The Health Care Administration major is exempt from the 48 credit requirement.

Student Professional Development Program
All students pursuing a major in the College of Business must complete the Student Professional Development Workshops. The program is designed to equip students with the skills needed to present themselves in a professional manner during their job search and to other professionals once they enter their chosen careers. Students are highly encouraged to complete the workshops prior to the end of their third semester on campus. The workshops are prerequisites for a number of 300 level courses in the College of Business Core, and need to be completed prior to registration for those courses.

The program consists of four workshops: Becoming a Business Professional, Professional Appearance, Developing your Professional Profile, and Professional Etiquette. For more information, visit the College of Business website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/student-professional-development-program).

Grade Point Requirements
Candidates for the BBA degree must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 in their major and in courses taken in residence. (See the special requirements for the Comprehensive Major in Accounting (p. 431) and Health Care Administration (p. 444).) If a minor is required, or is to be listed as an official minor, the candidate must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 in the minor.

- No course may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis as part of a major, minor, or certificate described by one of the departments in the College of Business.
- Business courses may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis only concurrent with or following completion of the student's major or business minor.

Major Requirements
The general management emphasis provides a broad background focusing on the effective management and development of employees within the firm.

Proficiency Requirements
Proficiency requirements include basic prerequisite courses and/or entry level competencies for the major. These are not counted as credits in the major.

College Degree Requirements

Bachelor of Business Administration Degree Requirements

Credits for Graduation
All candidates for the BBA degree need a minimum of 120 credits to graduate, to include a minimum of 48 semester credits in courses other than those offered by the College of Business. The Health Care Administration major is exempt from the 48 credit requirement.
Student Professional Development Program
All students pursuing a major in the College of Business must complete the Student Professional Development Workshops. The program is designed to equip students with the skills needed to present themselves in a professional manner during their job search and to other professionals once they enter their chosen careers. Students are highly encouraged to complete the workshops prior to the end of their third semester on campus. The workshops are prerequisites for a number of 300 level courses in the College of Business Core, and need to be completed prior to registration for those courses.

The program consists of four workshops: Becoming a Business Professional, Professional Appearance, Developing your Professional Profile, and Professional Etiquette. For more information, visit the College of Business website (http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/student-professional-development-program).

Grade Point Requirements
Candidates for the BBA degree must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 in their major and in courses taken in residence. (See the special requirements for the Comprehensive Major in Accounting (p. 431) and Health Care Administration (p. 444).) If a minor is required, or is to be listed as an official minor, the candidate must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 in the minor.

• No course may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis as part of a major, minor, or certificate described by one of the departments in the College of Business.
• Business courses may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis only concurrent with or following completion of the student’s major or business minor.

Major Requirements
Marketing involves the performance of activities that facilitate exchange, such as buying, selling, pricing, and transporting. Marketing is done by business organizations, nonprofit entities, even individuals like political candidates, using strategies appealing to final consumers, organizational buyers, and other publics. Careers in marketing typically begin with sales jobs and retail store management training, and progress (often with graduate study) to the management of functions like sales, advertising, distribution, market research, and purchasing.

Proficiency Requirements
Proficiency requirements include basic prerequisite courses and/or entry level competencies for the major. These are not counted as credits in the major.

- Business courses may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis only concurrent with or following completion of the student’s major or business minor.

Major Requirements

The Marketing Analytics emphasis is designed to help prepare marketing students for success in analytical marketing decision-making. It places emphasis on analyzing marketing databases using the latest software technology. This emphasis is designed to meet the growing demands for analytical decision-making in merchandising, purchasing, retailing, internet marketing, fact-based selling, and integrated marketing communications.

HIP Assessment
Marketing majors with Professional Sales emphasis must complete the High Impact Practices (HIP) assessment during their last semester.

Military Science and Leadership

The Military Science and Leadership courses are part of the Army Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC). These courses prepare a student, along with earning a bachelor’s degree, to receive a commission as an Army officer for either active duty, the Army National Guard, or the Army Reserve.

MSL classes include three components: lecture, leadership lab, and physical training sessions:

Lecture – Lecture content focuses on leadership development, leadership theories, Army fundamentals, written and oral communication skills, cultural awareness, mentoring, and emphasize practical leadership application.

Leadership Lab – Students will continue to develop proficiency in planning and executing complex operations and mentoring subordinates in the ROTC program. Explore training management, staff collaboration, and developmental counseling techniques. Attendance is required at a two hour session, 1 day per week as indicated on the class schedule.

Physical Training – Includes techniques to improve muscular strength and endurance and cardio-respiratory capacity. Includes strength and aerobic exercises, water confidence training, distance running, military drills and team sports. Required for all students, one to three days per week depending on course level. See individual course descriptions for physical training hours required per week. Note: Students may select their physical training days, subject to the required number of sessions per week. Physical training sessions are typically scheduled at the same time of day as the leadership lab, on those weekdays when leadership lab is not scheduled.

Students also participate in off-campus training exercises and competitions. Cadets can compete to attend training nationwide and overseas. Cadets who sign a contract to complete ROTC receive a monthly stipend while in school. Experienced Army cadre instruct and mentor as a team in class, leadership lab, and physical training, thus providing leadership feedback and mentoring to the students from several perspectives.

Basic Courses. 100- and 200-level MSL courses are open to any UW-Eau Claire undergraduate student regardless of major. Students may start the classes in either the fall or spring semester. Taking these classes requires no obligation to the Army. The basic courses can be fulfilled in three ways: taking all four courses, completing military basic training, or attending the four-week summer ROTC Leader Training Course in Kentucky. Students with six semesters remaining until graduation may take the 100- and 200-level courses concurrently. These classes can be taken during study abroad.

Advanced Courses. 300- and 400-level MSL courses are open to any UW-Eau Claire undergraduate student regardless of major. Graduate students may enroll in the corresponding 500- and 600-level dual-numbered courses.

College Vision, Mission and Core Values

The vision of the College of Education and Human Sciences (CoEHS) is to be a regional leader in the development of highly competent, critically engaged professionals who enhance the lives of others in an increasingly diverse society.

Committed to the highest standards of academic excellence, our mission is to prepare students to become engaged professionals who are creative thinkers, evidence-informed practitioners, and culturally responsive individuals.

Integrity, collaboration, and social justice are the core values that enable us to fulfill our mission and move toward achieving our vision.

Dean’s List

At the end of each semester, the College of Education and Human Sciences recognizes excellence in scholastic achievement by publishing the Dean’s List.

For teacher education majors, eligibility for this recognition requires admission to a teacher education program or pre-education status, but excludes the professional semester.

To be eligible, a student must:
1. be in good academic standing;
2. have a minimum semester GPA of 3.70;
3. have completed at least 12 credits during the semester, with no incompletes, no courses below the 100 level, no repeats, and no Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory registrations (except in degree credit-bearing courses that are offered only on the S/U grading system in which a grade of S has been earned).

Students who meet this standard of achievement receive personal letters of notification and congratulations from the Dean.

Criminal History and/or Caregiver Background Checks

Wisconsin law requires that persons responsible for the care, safety, and security of children and adults will be required to have background checks. In some cases, placement into an externship, professional semester, internship, or practicum will be dependent on the background check results. In some cases, students may be unable to complete field experiences required of their programs because of background check results. In such cases, students should work closely with their advisers and the associate dean to determine the impact these results will have on their academic program. Students are responsible for all costs associated with background checks. Results of checks may be shared with the practicum, professional semester, externship, or internship site.

The College of Education and Human Sciences requires applicants to complete a Background Information Disclosure and a release for a criminal background check. Falsification or omission of information relevant to the questions may constitute grounds for denial of admission to the course(s) or for termination of admission if the falsification or omission is discovered after admission. Further, after submission of the questionnaire, while an application is being considered or while a student in the program, if circumstances occur that would change any response(s), students must inform the College of the changed response(s). For further information, contact the College of Education and Human Sciences Associate Dean’s office (Centennial 3015).

Liability for Health Care Expenses

All expenses associated with health surveillance and care are borne by the student unless the Student Health Service specifically indicates otherwise. Students are not covered by health or accident insurance by UW-Eau Claire, the practicum facility, or the practicum institution. In addition, workers’ compensation insurance does not cover students. For example, if students suffer a needle stick or are hurt while in practicum, they will need personal health insurance to cover medical bills.

Teacher Education

The programs in teacher education offered in the College of Education and Human Sciences are fully approved by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction.

Bachelor’s Degree Programs

The University offers bachelor’s degrees to teacher education candidates in Middle Childhood through Early Adolescence (MC-EA), Early Adolescence through Adolescence/Early Childhood through Adolescence (EA-A/EC-A), and Special Education.

Middle Childhood through Early Adolescence (Ages 6-13)

The Bachelor of Science degree in Elementary Education is designed to provide candidates with sufficient breadth and depth in the disciplines taught in middle childhood through early adolescence classrooms to prepare them to work in self-contained classrooms or in multunit schools. The preparation focuses on an understanding of children and the learning processes as well as on effective methods of presentation. A certifiable minor also is required.
Degree programs in Secondary Education provide specialized preparation through academic majors and minors which have been approved for teacher certification. Students preparing to teach in middle, secondary, or continuing education programs must complete certifiable specializations according to one of the following options:

1. a standard major of 36 credits and a second program that is either a minor of 24 credits or a certificate (12-18 credits); or
2. two standard majors of 36 credits each; or
3. a comprehensive major of 60 or more credits.

A list of certifiable majors and minors is found in the section of this catalog devoted to the Department of Education Studies.

NOTE: With option 1, the student may elect a certifiable minor, but a certifiable minor is not required.

Special Education

The Bachelor of Science degree in Special Education provides graduates with professional abilities in educational assessment, staffing, programming, and teaching children and youth with disabilities. Teacher preparation is offered in the areas of cognitive disabilities, emotional/behavioral disabilities, learning disabilities, and unified early childhood: special education and regular education. Various combinations of teacher certification in special education and middle childhood through early adolescence regular education are also available.

Graduate Programs

Teacher and other school personnel programs are offered at the graduate level in professional development, special education, reading, communication sciences and disorders, school psychology, library science, and social work (Madison-Eau Claire program).

Non-degree Programs and Additional Certification Programs

Non-degree programs leading to teacher certification in any of the fields of study offered in baccalaureate and graduate programs can be arranged for candidates who hold a bachelor’s or advanced degree. Due to enrollment limitations, a small number of students are accepted in non-degree and second degree programs.

Directed and Independent Studies

Many opportunities are available for students to study, independently or in small groups, problems and topics in education which may not be included or explored in depth in regular course offerings.

Directed studies for groups can be arranged by departments and offered as special courses, either on campus or in off-campus settings. Those interested in directed studies should consult with a department chair.

Independent study, through a student-initiated procedure in which a unit of study is described and approved prior to enrollment, allows a student to earn one to three credits for each such educational experience. Those interested in independent study should obtain appropriate forms in department offices.

International Education

Students are invited to participate in exchange programs sponsored by the Center for International Education. In the sophomore, junior, and senior years, study abroad programs offer students opportunities to visit another country and take courses on the host campus that will fulfill UW-Eau Claire requirements.

Students are also encouraged to consider completing part of their student teaching experience in classrooms in a variety of countries. Exchange student teaching programs are available during the fall and spring semesters through Educators Abroad and meet Department of Public Instruction requirements. Students must complete one student teaching placement in Wisconsin and then complete an additional placement in another country, following its academic calendar. In other words, students may not be finished with their overseas student teaching placement in time for graduation ceremonies at UW-Eau Claire.

Students interested in any of these international studies programs should contact the Center for International Education (Schofield 3) or the Field Experience, Licensing and Certification Office, Centennial 3102.

Immersion Experiences

Students are invited to participate in specially arranged student teaching experiences and other field experiences in a variety of settings including the Milwaukee Public Schools, and the Aldine School District in Houston, Texas. Students interested in these opportunities will gain experience working in multicultural and multi-ethnic districts. Interested students should contact the Field Experience, Licensing and Certification Office, Centennial 3102, for details.

Teacher Education Requirements

Program and Degree Requirements

University Requirements

All candidates for teacher education baccalaureate degrees in the College of Education and Human Sciences must meet the following requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

College Requirements for Teacher Education

All candidates for teacher education baccalaureate degrees must also meet the following:

1. Liberal Education requirements in the College of Education and Human Sciences.
2. Grade point requirements:
   - Resident 2.75 average
   - Total 2.75 average
   - Major 2.75 average
   - Minor (for certification only) 2.75 average
3. Residency requirements:
   - Minimum Total 30 credits
   - Senior Year 23 credits
   - Major, in upper division courses 12 credits
   - Comprehensive Major, in upper division courses 21 credits
4. Criteria and requirements for Professional Programs and for Admission to the Professional Semester.
5. Specific requirements of programs offered in the College of Education and Human Sciences. (See the departmental sections of this catalog.)

Degree Planning

A degree plan indicates how a student expects to meet the curricular requirements for a degree. Degree plan forms for the various programs offered in the College may be obtained in department offices. These plans are for students' use in planning programs with their advisers. The plans are supplemented by the Registrar's Office Degree Audits used for official evaluation of academic progress.

Human Relations/Cultural Diversity/Service-Learning Requirements

Students in teacher education majors shall meet the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction's Human Relations Requirement and the UW-Eau Claire Cultural Diversity Requirement by completing ES 385/ES 585, Social Foundations: Human Relations, which includes completion of a minimum of 30 hours of direct contact fieldwork with racial/ethnic/cultural minorities different from themselves, people from low-income backgrounds, and people with disabilities. This fieldwork satisfies the University Service-Learning Requirement. Students are expected to accrue 15 of the 30 hours of volunteer/fieldwork prior to the semester they are enrolled in ES 385/ES 585.

Admission to the Professional Education Semester

The "professional semester" is defined as the senior semester in which a student is enrolled in the field experience of student teaching or internship.

Filing Applications

Students who plan to enter the professional semester during the fall semester of the next academic year must file an application available at an education "professional semester" meeting held each November. Students who plan to enter the professional semester during the spring semester of the next academic year must file an application at an education "professional semester" meeting held in April. Dates for these meetings will be advertised widely and posted across campus.

Students are encouraged to submit their applications as soon as possible after the meeting. Considerable time is required to process each application—that is, to determine eligibility, to make arrangements with schools for an appropriate field experience assignment, and to allow for introductions, orientations, and, in some cases, interviews. Students who file early will benefit by the careful consideration that can be given to their requests; the later an application is received, the fewer the placement assignments and choices still available. Failure to file an application on time may result in a delay of the professional semester.

Transfer and Special Students

No transfer or special student can enter the professional semester until after a full semester of residence and after earning a minimum of 15 credits at UW-Eau Claire. Senior transfer students enrolling in September must file an application for admission to the professional semester by December 1 for the following fall.

Criteria for Admission

No application for admission to the professional semester will be processed in the case of transfer and special students unless a full semester of residence and after earning a minimum of 15 credits have been earned at UW-Eau Claire.

Factors to be considered in the application for admission to the professional semester are:

1. Criteria for admission to a professional program have been met.
2. Good academic standing, as defined in the catalog section on Academic Standing and Progress.
3. A minimum of 90 credits completed prior to the professional semester.
4. Completion of courses which are prerequisite to field experience. For each program, a list of prerequisite courses is available in the Field Experience, Licensing and Certification Office, Centennial 3102.

5. Approval of the major and minor department(s).

6. Resident and total GPAs of at least 2.75; GPAs of at least 2.75 in the major(s) and minor(s) intended for certification; and a 2.75 or higher GPA based on a combination of all course work in the major, minor (where certifiable), and professional education courses, including PSYC 260 or PSYC 261. All college-level courses attempted by the student are included when major, minor, and total GPAs are determined for admission to the professional semester and for graduation.

7. Passing score(s) on appropriate Praxis II content test(s). Foreign language majors must earn passing scores on the ACTFL. Information on Praxis II and the ACTFL is available through Academic Testing, Schofield 226, and at www.ets.org/praxis (http://www.ets.org/praxis).

For placements in the fall semester, the last test date for passing the Praxis II Content Exam or ACTFL is the preceding January date.

For placements in the spring semester, the last test date for passing the Praxis II Content Exam or ACTFL is the preceding August date.

For placements in the summer session, the last test date for passing the Praxis II Content Exam or ACTFL is the preceding November date.

8. Completion of the 30 hour Human Relations Fieldwork requirement.

9. Evidence of freedom from tuberculosis. Tests are provided by Student Health Services or must be provided by the student when filing for the professional semester.

10. Approval by the appropriate departments in the Colleges of Education and Human Sciences and Arts and Sciences.

11. Proficiency in speaking and listening demonstrated in CJ 201 or CJ 202, or CJ 203, or CJ 205 or a public speaking/communication course.

Deadline for Meeting Criteria

For placements in the fall semester, criteria for which the student is responsible (GPA, TB test, Praxis II Content Test[s], ACTFL and PSYC 260 or PSYC 261) must be met by March 1 of the preceding semester.

For placements in the spring semester, these criteria must be met by October 1 of the preceding semester.

For placements in the summer session, these criteria must be met by February 1 of the preceding semester.

Failure to meet criteria on time may result in a delay of the professional semester.

Licensure to Teach

Criteria for Recommendation for Licensure:

1. Completion of a baccalaureate degree.

2. Completion of an approved teacher education major, including Gate 3 portfolio approval. (needed for areas with no edTPA)

3. A 2.75 or higher GPA in the major and minor (where certifiable) and in the combination of all course work in the major, minor (where certifiable), and professional education courses exclusive of student teaching. All college-level courses attempted by the student except student teaching are included when major, minor, and professional education GPAs are determined for recommendation for licensure.

4. Completion of student teaching courses with a mark of S, or grade of B- or above in departments where a letter grade is assigned.

5. A passing score on a Praxis II content examination in each certification major, minor, and concentration, unless the field is exempted by the State Superintendent. Foreign language majors and minors must earn passing scores on the ACTFL. The standardized examination and passing score shall be determined by the State Superintendent. All MCEA, SPED majors and minors, Early Childhood and Reading Teacher (316) and Reading Specialists (317) must earn a passing score on the FORT. In addition, a completed edTPA must be submitted for national scoring. Passing scores are required for licensure in Fall 2016 and thereafter.

Wisconsin Application

College of Education graduates who desire to teach in Wisconsin, will apply for licensure using the WI Department of Public Instruction’s (DPI), ELO (Electronic Licensing Online) http://tepdi.dpi.wi.gov/licensing/elo following all steps listed on the site including fingerprinting if applicable.

Upon completion of all program, University and WI Department of Public Instruction teaching requirements, information will be forwarded to WI DPI verifying this completion (including the completion of all required tests), a degree and any add-on certifications have been awarded, and certifications the teaching candidates are eligible for with licensure. Candidates will then apply for their 5 year Initial License, using a credit card (debit cards are not accepted) and after processing, will access their account and print their own license.

Out-of-state Applications

It is recommended that graduates seeking licensure to teach in states other than Wisconsin request application forms and instructions from the Department of Education of the state in which licensure is desired. Inquiry early in the period of professional preparation is advisable. In most cases, an official transcript of credits must accompany the completed application form; additional tests or course work may be required. Therefore, it is imperative to check requirements of other states. Wisconsin and most other states require institutional endorsement. In general, candidates will be able to obtain licenses in other states; however, these licenses may be issued with stipulations. It is the student’s responsibility to find out licensing requirements of other states. The university prepares teachers for certification in Wisconsin.

Human Sciences Departments

Specific Degree Requirements

Specific requirements for some human science degrees are published in conjunction with the Catalog description of the major leading to the degree, with specific courses required in several Liberal Education outcomes.

Bachelor of Science Degree in the College of Education and Human Sciences

Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science from a human sciences department must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements. (see University Graduation Requirements (p. 46))

General Information

Placement Tests. The mathematics/foreign language placement tests are given during the orientation periods for new freshmen and transfers. Further information about the foreign language or the mathematics tests is available from the chair of the appropriate department.

Laboratory Science Courses. The following have been designated as fulfilling the requirements for laboratory science courses in the human sciences departments:

Degree Requirements

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

Human Sciences Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All degree candidates must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 or higher in both the major and the second program if one is required. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the second program are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. Each candidate for a baccalaureate degree must present one of the following:

- Comprehensive major (at least 59-60 credits)
- Standard major (at least 36 credits) plus one of the following:
  - Another standard major (at least 36 credits), or
  - A minor (at least 24 credits), or
  - A certificate (12-18 credits)

No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major or with two majors of 36 credits each.

Certain degree programs which include Comprehensive Majors may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Planning a Degree Program

Declaring a Major/Minor Program

To officially declare or change to a new major or minor, a student must go to the office of the department of the intended major or minor. Specific instructions can be found at www.uwec.edu/registrar/student/chgofmajor.htm (http://www.uwec.edu/registrar/student/chgofmajor.htm).

All students are encouraged to obtain a new degree audit during this process. A new adviser will be assigned in the department of the new major or minor. Any approved petitions/waivers for the old major or minor will not be carried over to the new major or minor. Students must resubmit and have these petitions approved again by the new major or minor department.

A topical minor is available and the requirements are listed below.

Education (Code 610-453)

A Topical Minor is composed of 24 semester credits selected by the student to meet the student’s own interests and scholarly objectives. Courses for the minor may be chosen on the basis of a coherent theme, an historical period, a definable professional need, or a complementary relation to the student’s major.

The Topical Minor is not intended to be used to duplicate any major or minor offered as a regular program within the UW System. The student should find a faculty member willing to direct the topical minor and work closely with that adviser to design the minor.

The Topical Minor must include courses from at least two departments, with no more than 15 credits from any one department and no more than six credits from the department of the student’s major. Courses included in the major cannot be applied to the minor. At least 12 of the 24 credits must be earned in courses numbered 300 or higher, and at least 12 of the 24 credits must be earned in College of Education and Human Sciences courses. The remaining credits can be earned from any College within the University. To propose a topical minor students should complete an e-form located on the College of Education and Human Sciences website.

Special Curricular Offerings

Special Topics Courses

The Departments of Kinesiology and Social Work offer courses in which the topic for study may vary from semester to semester, often focusing on a contemporary issue or taking an innovative approach to a traditional subject. Students and faculty members are invited to recommend topics to the department. Final approval of each semester’s offerings rests with the Academic Curriculum Committee of the College of Education and Human Sciences. Topics are announced in the Class Schedule for the semester.

Restrictions: A total of no more than nine credits in Special Topics courses may be applied toward graduation. Special Topics courses may not be applied toward completion of the Liberal Education requirements. The Department of Social Work may further restrict the application of such credits to their majors.

Directed Study Courses

Courses numbered 395 or 495, offered by several departments under various titles, are designed to permit individual students or groups of students to undertake special projects related to their educational interests and goals.

Eligibility: Registration for a Directed Study course requires the permission of the faculty member who agrees to supervise the project and of the department offering the course. Any further conditions of eligibility are established by the department and published as part of the course description.

Restrictions: A total of no more than six credits of Directed Study courses may be counted toward graduation. Directed Study courses may not be applied toward completion of the Liberal Education requirements. The Department of Social Work may further restrict the application of such credits to their majors.

Independent Studies

Under the course numbers 399 and 499, each department in the human sciences department provides advanced students with opportunities for Admission to Professional Education Programs

Criteria for Admission

Formal application to the professional education program must be made by October 1 for spring admission or March 1 for fall admission. Only students who meet all criteria listed below should apply.

1. Approval by the appropriate department in the College of Education and Human Sciences. See Education Studies (p. 475) and Special Education (p. 483) sections of this catalog for criteria to be considered in making these recommendations.
2. Pre-education status.
3. Minimum total GPA of 2.75 on a minimum of 30 credits and sophomore standing. Admission is competitive; thus the minimum GPA does not assure admission to a professional program in education.
4. Completion of University Writing Requirement with a grade of C or above.
5. Good academic standing.
6. Passing scores on Praxis I Pre-Professional Skills Tests of mathematics, reading, and writing or passing scores on ACT Test. Passing scores on Praxis I in Wisconsin are: Mathematics 173, Reading 175, and Writing 174. Passing scores on ACT are an overall score of 23 and 20 on reading, math, and English. ACT scores are only good for a period of five years prior to student teaching. Beginning September 1, 2014 the requirement will be passing scores on Praxis I Pre-Professional Skills Test or passing scores on Praxis Core Academic Skills Test for Educators (CORE) or passing scores on ACT Test. Passing scores in Wisconsin for the CORE are Math 150, Reading 156, and Writing 162. Students who have not met the minimum G.P.A. requirement or passed all three sections of the Pre-Professional Skills Test or all three sections of the CORE Test or who do not have qualifying scores on the ACT for admission could seek to be admitted through a waiver/exceptions policy. Please see your adviser for details. Information on required tests is available through Academic Testing, Schofield 226.

Application Procedure

Formal application to the professional program must be made. The number of students admitted to a program is limited by resources available.

Not everyone who applies can be guaranteed admission. See the appropriate section of this catalog for criteria upon which the departmental recommendation will be based. Note that minimum criteria for a department may exceed the minimum criteria listed above.

Students who do not meet all the criteria listed above or who do not receive a favorable departmental recommendation may reapply during a later application period.

Special or Transfer Students

Special students and transfer students who desire to be admitted to the Teacher Education Program in the College of Education and Human Sciences should inform the Admissions Office upon application for admission to the University. They should indicate their area of interest. These students are expected to have a minimum GPA of 2.75.

Retention in Professional Education Programs

Students who are in good standing in the University but are having difficulty meeting the College of Education and Human Sciences criteria for professional education programs are strongly advised to seek the counsel of their adviser and/or the Associate Dean of the College of Education and Human Sciences regarding their continuation in the program. A student may continue in the program while in good standing or after receiving an Academic Warning. (See Academic Standing and Progress. (p. 421) However, if placed on probation or if readmitted after a first suspension, the student may continue in the program only upon recommendation of the department concerned (Education Studies or Special Education). After a second suspension, the student may not continue in the professional education program.

Purposes and Goals
The Department of Education Studies prepares teachers for elementary, middle level, and high school classrooms through several programs. Through a series of courses and experiences emphasizing reflection, decision-making, and collaborative leadership, students develop knowledge, skills, and dispositions necessary for effective teaching. Students also acquire skill in

1. planning and using various teaching methods and resources,
2. creating and maintaining a positive learning environment, and
3. evaluating learning and instruction.

The Department of Education Studies also provides leadership, vision, and service for the core elements of all teacher education and library science programs. Core professional studies which are common to all programs include field experiences; the social, cultural, historical, legal, and philosophical foundations of education; pedagogy for diverse learners; instructional, informational, and media technology; educational research; assessment; and leadership studies. At the completion of a program, students are ready to assume responsibilities for classroom teaching and are prepared to continue developing as a professional.

Degrees Awarded
The following majors lead to the Bachelor of Arts Degree: Art, Economics, English, French, German, History, Latin American Studies, Political Science, Social Studies, Sociology, Spanish, and Theatre Arts.

The following majors lead to the Bachelor of Science Degree: Biology, Chemistry, Elementary/Middle Level Education, Geology, Kinesiology (Physical Education), Mathematics, Physical Science, Physics, and Physics-Mathematics.

All majors in Music lead to the Bachelor of Music Education.

Student Transportation
All programs that lead to teacher licensure require multiple field experiences. Students in teacher education programs must provide their own transportation to and from field experiences. Some field experiences may require travel to other communities. All costs associated with transportation to and from field experiences are the responsibility of the student.

Program Options
Programs in the Department of Education Studies are designed to lead to licensure by the state of Wisconsin. UW-Eau Claire provides these three program options:

1. Middle Childhood through Early Adolescence (MC-EA) (Elementary Education)
2. Early Adolescence through Adolescence (EA-A) (Secondary Education)
3. Early Childhood through Adolescence (EC-A) (PK-12 Education)

Students should select the program option they wish to pursue and follow the requirements for that program. In addition to the program requirements, all students must complete the appropriate Liberal Education requirements and other University requirements for graduation.

Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory Policy
No degree credit may be earned under the Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory option in required education studies, library science and media education, unified early childhood or special education courses unless Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory is the only grading option available for the course.

Pre-program. Before seeking admission to a program, students must complete the appropriate pre-program course(s): ES 203 (Exploring Schooling in Grades 1-8) for Option A, ES 212 (Initial Teaching Experience in Elementary, Middle and High School) for Options B and C.

To enroll in ES 203, a student must meet the following criteria:

1. pre-education status,
2. completed at least 14 credits,
3. Minimum GPA of 2.75 or higher,
4. completion of University Writing Requirement.

To enroll in ES 212 a student must meet the following criteria:

1. pre-education status,
2. completed at least 14 credits,
3. resident and total GPAs of 2.75 or higher,
4. completion of University Writing Requirement,
5. passing scores on the Praxis I: Pre-Professional Skills Test (PPST) in reading, writing, and mathematics OR passing scores on Praxis Core Academic Skills Test for Educators (CORE) Tests in mathematics, reading, and writing OR passing scores on the ACT OR passing scores on the SAT OR passing scores on the GRE. See an adviser for a list of passing scores for each of these tests.

Space available for these courses will be limited to resources available.

Program Admission Information
The programs in the Department of Education Studies are designed to continually assess the knowledge, skills, and dispositions of the best candidates to be recommended for endorsement to the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction for certification to teach in the state of Wisconsin. Students are admitted to program on a selective and limited basis from a pool of candidates who meet minimum criteria. Students who enter the University and who plan to pursue one of the program options A, B, or C should understand that not all who seek admission to the College of Education and Human Sciences, and to the program, will be admitted, even if minimum criteria are met. Detailed descriptions of program admission criteria and procedures are available from the department office, given that changes occur in an attempt to use admission results and information to improve curricula.

Admission to Program (Gate #1)
Students who wish to pursue any of the three program options [A: Middle Childhood through Early Adolescence (MC-EA), B: Early Adolescence through Adolescence (EA-A), and C: Early Childhood through Adolescence (EC-A)], must file a formal application by October 1 for spring admission or March 1 for fall admission. Admissions committees are convened and decisions are made in time for students to register for program courses for the ensuing semester. When students are admitted to any of these three programs, they are also admitted to the College of Education and Human Sciences Teacher Education Program.

Admission to the Option A Program (MC-EA): (Block)
Students should obtain the MC-EA Advising Handbook which provides information on process and procedures, as well as rubrics, for scoring the 10 Wisconsin Teaching Standards, and auxiliary information (e.g., certifiable minor choices, resumé format, etc.). Students wishing consideration for admission to the program should apply one year prior to the semester in which they want to be in the “block” (methods) courses. Students may not apply for program while enrolled in ES 203, Exploring Schools in Grades 1-8. Candidates for admission to program prepare a “portfolio” based on four of the 10 teaching standards (#s 1, 2, 4, 9). Additional criteria for admission include: overall GPA, performance in ES 203, Exploring Schools in Grades 1-8, a degree plan, dispositions toward teaching, and overall writing and quality of the application materials. The MC-EA Admissions Committee is comprised of faculty and staff members from the Education Studies department as well as faculty or academic staff members from the teacher associated faculty from the College of Education and Human Sciences. Each portfolio is reviewed by two raters and average scores are determined by the MC-EA program coordinator. Rank-ordered total scores on the portfolio are provided to the chairperson who notifies the applicants of their admission status. Students are admitted based on the total portfolio score. Students who are not admitted may apply one additional time.

Admission to the Option B (EA-A) and C (EC-A) Programs: (Block)

Students who want to be considered for admission to these programs and the College of Education and Human Sciences Teacher Education Program should apply the semester before they want to enroll in the methods sequence of courses, also known as the “block” (e.g., ES 312, ES 318, ES 328, etc.). Students may not apply for program while enrolled in ES 212, the pre-program course. Candidates prepare a portfolio based on the ten Wisconsin Teaching Standards for the Department of Education Studies (see the EA-A/EC-A program coordinator for education program-related questions and rubrics used for scoring portfolios). Additionally, content departments have requirements for admission which focus predominantly on content knowledge (e.g., Foreign Language and Latin American Studies requires passing an oral competency exam in the target language). Students should see their content area adviser for information or direction to the education adviser in that department. The EA-A/EC-A Admissions Committee is comprised of EA-A/EC-A faculty from the Department of Education Studies and at least one member from each of the certifying areas: Art, Music, English, Kinesiology, Mathematics, Social Studies, History, Science, Language, and Theatre Arts. The portfolios are scored by EA-A/EC-A faculty in the Department of Education Studies, and a list of applicants with rank-ordered total portfolio scores is compiled. The EA-A/EC-A program coordinator convenes a meeting of the EA-A/EC-A admissions membership where final decisions are made for admission to the program, College, and the block semester. The list of admitted and declined applicants is provided to the chairperson who notifies the applicants of their admission status. Students who are admitted to program must take ES 312 and ES 318 the subsequent semester. Unsuccessful candidates may re-apply once. For current information see: www.uwec.edu/ES/programs/secondary-eaa-eca.htm (http://www.uwec.edu/ES/programs/secondary-eaa-eca.html).

Admission to the Professional Semester (Gate #2): Professional Semester

Applicants in program option A below must earn a minimum grade of B in the Block practicum field experience for three of the five areas: language arts, mathematics, reading, science, and social studies and earn a minimum GPA of 2.75 across the block courses with no less than a C in the following courses:

Applicants in options B and C below must earn a minimum grade of B- in each of the professional education courses (ES 212, ES 312, ES 317, ES 318*, ES 328, content methods) to be considered for admission to student teach or intern.

*Music Education majors take MUED 318 instead of ES 318.

Recommendation for Licensure (Gate #3)

All students seeking licensure through programs in the department of Education Studies must complete a full semester of student teaching or internship. A full semester of student teaching or internship is defined as completing a full semester, full days following the school district calendar. All applicants for student teaching or internships must have resident, total, and professional education course GPAs of 2.75 or higher and have departmental approval. Grades for student teaching courses (ES 440, ES 441, ES 445, ES 446, ES 470, and ES 475) are reported and recorded on a satisfactory/unsatisfactory basis.

In addition to student teaching requirements, a Gate 3 portfolio must be submitted and approved before licensure is recommended. Students graduating in Fall 2015 or after will be required to participate in and earn passing scores on the EdTPA. Finally, students who have an elementary education major or special education major, or minor will need to complete the WI Foundations of Reading Test (FORT) with a passing score of 240 or higher.

These program options are organized around content majors and education courses and are designed to prepare teachers for early adolescence through adolescence (EA-A) teaching or for early childhood through adolescence (EC-A) teaching in selected areas. Each program requires the student to complete:

1. a comprehensive major (at least 60 credits) or a standard major (at least 36 credits) plus one of the following: another standard major (at least 36 credits), or a minor (at least 24 credits), or a certificate (12-18 credits). Students choosing another major or minor may choose from the approved majors and minors listed in the table below. The approved majors and minors lead to additional certification.

2. a professional sequence consisting of teaching methods and related courses. Advising is done through the content major department.

Upon admission to program, candidates are assigned an adviser in education as well.

OR
ES 446 Internship Teaching in Middle Level Education

This major leads to Middle Childhood through Early Adolescence: Regular Education licensure. Students are required to select a second major or minor from list of Approved Majors and Minors for Option A listed above. A certifiable minor is a requirement of DPI. Students may wish to pursue a second major but that is not a DPI requirement.

Middle Childhood through Early Adolescence Licensure

Program Option A

This program option offers pedagogical studies in the basic areas of reading, language arts, social studies, science, and mathematics, and in special subjects such as art, music, children’s literature, health, speech, physical education, and special education. The major is designed to provide students with strong preparation in all the subjects taught in elementary and middle schools.

Students must also successfully pass the Praxis II Content Test (#5146-Middle School: Content Knowledge), the W-FORT, and the edTPA to be eligible for a teaching license in Wisconsin.

Option A: MC-EA

Honor Societies and Student Organizations:
Student Council for Exceptional Children (SCEC)
A pre-professional organization open to those interested in working with people who have disabilities.

Best Buddies
College students are matched with adults with disabilities in the community to share leisure activities.

Goals and Purposes
The special education programs are designed to provide students with experiences that develop skills in assessing students as well as planning, implementing, and evaluating interventions. Special education graduates are prepared for a variety of specialized jobs. Those who prefer to teach may be employed in public or private schools, institutions, or agencies. Those seeking other careers may work as house parents or home trainers or directors of service agencies. Some graduates will continue their study in other areas of special education. Others will engage in research, develop curricular and instructional materials, or lead in-service teacher training.

Programs
The Department of Special Education offers undergraduate and graduate programs. Bachelor's degree programs are offered in the areas of cognitive disabilities, emotional/behavioral disabilities, learning disabilities, and unified early childhood. These programs lead to the following teacher licensure:

- Cross-categorical Special Education
- Special Education: Unified Early Childhood
- Emotional/Behavioral Disabilities and Regular Education
- Learning Disabilities and Cognitive Disabilities
- Learning Disabilities and Regular Education

A minor in Learning Disabilities is also offered for Middle Childhood/Early Adolescence and Early Adolescence/Adolescence majors. This program leads to teacher licensure in Learning Disabilities.

Adaptive education: special fields programs are available in the areas of art, music, and physical education and lead to licensure to teach learners with disabilities in those areas.

Portfolio Review
As part of the Teacher Education Program, students in the Department of Special Education are expected to develop a portfolio for three distinct gates or admission points. Further information may be obtained from the student’s adviser.

Admission to Program
Minimal criteria for admission to professional programs (Gate 1) are outlined in the College of Education and Human Sciences section under “Admission to Professional Education Programs” (see items 1-6 under “Criteria for Admission”). In addition to meeting these minimum requirements, a separate Special Education application must be completed and submitted to the Department of Special Education. These applications (available in the Special Education office) are due October 1 and March 1.

Admission to any major or minor program in Special Education may be limited by the resources available. Admission to program will be determined by a review committee which will rank applicants based on quality and quantity of service related to the helping professions, quality of formal application (resume, academic success, and recommendations), and documentation of successful completion of SPED 200 and SPED 205. Guidelines for application are available in Centennial Hall 3715, or on the department’s website at www.uwec.edu/sped.

Department Requirements
Students must earn a grade of B- in their special education courses. Students can only repeat a special education course one time for program purposes. Permission to repeat is required.

Admission to Professional Semester
Applicants for student teaching/internship experience must:

1. complete an application with the College of Education and Human Sciences office;
2. have the recommendation of the Department of Special Education;
3. submit a Gate 2 portfolio;
4. earn a minimum grade of B- in special education courses;
5. earn a passing score on the appropriate Praxis II content exam.

All special education majors require the Middle Level content exam, ETS 5146, with the exception of the Special Education: Unified Early Childhood major which requires the Elementary Education content exam, ETS 5014. Even though a B- is required in special education courses, a student must earn a 2.75 cumulative GPA and a 2.75 GPA in the major in order to be eligible for teaching certification.

Student Teaching Requirements
Completion of student teaching courses requires undergraduates to earn at least a grade of B- in SPED 470 or SPED 472 or SPED 475. If the grade requirement is not met, the undergraduate student may repeat the student teaching course or may graduate without the recommendation for teaching licensure. In addition to student teaching requirements, a Gate 3 portfolio must be submitted and approved before licensure is recommended.

Student Transportation
Students in the teacher education program must provide their own transportation to and from field experiences. Some field experiences may require travel to other communities. All costs associated with transportation to and from field experiences are the responsibility of the student.

Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory Policy
No degree credit may be earned under the Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory option in required special education courses except SPED 205 and SPED 301.
Adapted Education: Special Fields Programs for Art, Music, and Physical Education Educators

Admission requirements include bachelor's degree, eligibility for art, music, or physical education licensure, and any additional courses deemed necessary. Course requirements for these programs are as follows:

Cognitive Disabilities (CD) 1-12, Certificate

The Department of Special Education offers a certificate program for special education majors to add Cognitive Disabilities certification for grades 1-12. Students who add this certificate to their existing program will become more marketable and attractive to future employers. Further, this certificate will allow students to become better trained and prepared to meet the needs of a diverse 1-12 population. Finally, this certificate encompasses the requirements for the Department of Public Instruction (DPI) certification in Cognitive Disabilities.

Students seeking this certificate will need to be accepted into their special education program and have successfully completed at least one semester and have a total and resident GPA of 2.75 or higher. Students will apply to the CD certificate program during the department’s regular admission cycle and the Department of Special Education Admissions Committee will decide if the student is suitable for CD certification based on the student’s prior course experiences, knowledge, and dispositions.
Required courses:
Students must earn a B- or better in all courses.

Emotional Behavioral Disabilities (EBD) 1-12, Certificate
(Code 950-602)

The Department of Special Education offers a certificate program for special education majors to add Emotional Behavioral Disabilities certification for grades 1-12 in the form of a certificate. Students who add this certificate to their existing program will become more marketable and attractive to future employers. Further, this certificate will allow students to become better trained and prepared to meet the needs of a diverse 1-12 population. Finally, this certificate encompasses the requirements for the Department of Public Instruction (DPI) certification in Emotional Behavioral Disabilities.

Students seeking this certificate will need to be accepted into their special education program and have successfully completed at least one semester and have a total and resident GPA of 2.75 or higher. Students will apply to the EBD certificate program during the department’s regular admission cycle and the Department of Special Education Admissions Committee will decide if the student is suitable for EBD certification based on the student’s prior course experiences, knowledge, and dispositions.

Communication Sciences and Disorders

Human Sciences and Services 112

Communication is one of the most important human attributes. The child or adult unable to speak or hear normally can be isolated. Communication Sciences and Disorders (Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology) is the profession devoted to helping people overcome disabilities in speech, language, swallowing, and/or hearing, and to increasing our knowledge of the human communication processes.

The first step toward a career in this field is the earning of an undergraduate degree with a major in Communication Sciences and Disorders. The undergraduate degree program, which involves a comprehensive major of an interdisciplinary nature or a standard major, includes a strong liberal arts and sciences component. A master’s degree is required to complete the professional education prior to initial employment. For a description of the UW-Eau Claire master’s degree program in speech-language pathology, contact the Department. The master’s degree program is accredited in speech-language pathology by the Council on Academic Accreditation of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association and is approved by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction.

Department Honors Program

Eligibility: Acceptance into the program is limited to upper-class majors with resident and total GPAs of 3.50 or higher, an average of 3.50 or higher in CSD courses, and the consent of the department. Successful completion at time of application of CSD 256, CSD 257, and CSD 353, with a grade of B or above. Students invited to join the CSD Departmental Honors program will not have taken any courses for a grade of Satisfactory or Unsatisfactory.

Requirements: Completion of a two-credit Research Seminar; two upper division CSD courses offering an Honors Contract; a Scholarship project selected from four options; presentation of project or research results at CSD Pro-Sem during spring of senior year; presentation of project or research at UW-Eau Claire Student Research Day and for other campus, state, or national research conferences; and graduating with a total GPA of 3.5 or higher and a GPA of 3.5 or higher in CSD course work.

Admission to Major Requirements

Formal admission to the Communication Sciences and Disorders program must be made. A student must be admitted to UW-Eau Claire as a pre-CSD student before applying to the CSD program. Admissions will take place twice each year. Applications, using the e-form, are due by February 15 and September 15 each year. In order to be considered for admission, students must have the following:

1. Been accepted as a pre-CSD student in the university in good standing.
2. Completed WRIT 114, WRIT 116 or WRIT 120, and IDIS 100 or SW 100, and PSYC 100.
3. Completed one 4- or 5-credit Biology, Chemistry or Physics course from the following options: BIOL 105, BIOL 151, BIOL 214 or BIOL 221, IDIS 125, CHEM 100, CHEM 103, CHEM 115, or CHEM 127 or PHYS 100, PHYS 205, PHYS 211 or PHYS 308.
5. Completed one (1) of the following pairs of courses: CSD 256 AND CSD 262 or CSD 257 AND CSD 353.
6. Earned a grade of C or above in all courses listed above.
7. Earned a combined GPA of at least 3.0 across 3 of the 5 CSD courses listed above, plus one 4-credit science course listed above.
8. Submitted the application form, along with a recent degree audit by the deadline.

The CSD department uses a holistic admissions process. This means that grades earned in all course work will be used to make admissions decisions. In addition to grades, the admissions committee will use information gathered through class participation in the CSD courses to support demonstration of acceptable speaking and writing skills and appropriate dispositional skills essential for success in this major. A faculty committee will make admissions decisions and notify all applicants before fall or spring registration begins.

The department may find it necessary to deny admission to a qualified applicant because of enrollment limits in the upper division CSD courses. Depending on the number of applicants, it is likely that the GPA required to be competitive for admission may be well above the 3.0 minimum GPA. Meeting the minimum standards does not guarantee a student will be admitted to the major. Resources allow admission of approximately 60 students each year.

Certificates

- Certificate: American Sign Language (ASL) (p. 496)

American Sign Language, Certificate

(Code 622-601)

The Communication Sciences and Disorders program offers a certificate program for interested students in American Sign Language (ASL). The goals of this program are for students to develop a depth of knowledge and skill in the use of ASL; students will appreciate the distinct culture of the Deaf community and behave according to the social norms of the culture; and students will apply semantic and/or linguistic elements of ASL in their use of the language. This certificate will not satisfy external standards. Interpreters must complete a minimum of an Associate’s degree; teachers of ASL must be licensed to teach ASL or hold Deaf and Hard of Hearing teacher licensure.

Degree Requirements

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

Human Sciences Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All degree candidates must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 or higher in both the major and the second program if one is required. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the second program are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. Each candidate for a baccalaureate degree must present one of the following:
• Comprehensive major (at least 59-60 credits)
• Standard major (at least 36 credits) plus one of the following:
  • Another standard major (at least 36 credits), or
  • A minor (at least 24 credits), or
  • A certificate (12-18 credits)

No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major or with two majors of 36 credits each.

Certain degree programs which include Comprehensive Majors may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Major Requirements
Fifty-nine semester credits, including:

CSD 235  Undergraduate Research in Communication Sciences and Disorders  2
CSD 256  Anatomy and Physiology of Speech and Hearing  4
CSD 257  Normal Communication Development  3
CSD 262  Phonetics: Theory and Application  2
CSD 321  Aural Rehabilitation  3
CSD 326  Voice and Resonance Disorders  3
CSD 331  Child Language Disorders  4
CSD 352  Fluency Disorders  3
CSD 353  Speech and Hearing Science  3
CSD 358  Phonological Disorders  3
CSD 373  Basic Audiology  3
CSD 378  Introduction to Sign Language  3
or CSD 101  American Sign Language I  2
CSD 440  Neurological Aspects of Communication  2
CSD 485  Serving Diverse Populations  2

Non-CSD courses:
PSYC 100  Introduction to Psychology  3
PSYC 260  Educational Psychology  3
ES 385  Social Foundations: Human Relations  3
SW 100  Introduction to Social Welfare  3

Seven credits from the following CSD Electives:  7
CSD 150  Introduction to Communication Sciences and Disorders
CSD 370  Clinical Procedures in Communication Disorders
CSD 410  Communication Changes and Disorders of the Older Adult
CSD 411  Facilitating Communication in Preschool Children
CSD 415  Instructional Internship in Communication Disorders
CSD 419  Assistive Technology and Augmentative and Alternative Communication
CSD 448  Aphasia and Related Disorders
CSD 470  Clinical Practicum in Communication Disorders I
CSD 499  Independent Study - Seniors

Total Credits  59

1 SPED 220 is the equivalent to UEC 220

For students pursuing this degree, the Liberal Education program will include:

Required courses not counted toward credits in major:

K1 (Natural Sciences)
At least one Biology course from the following:
  • BIOL 105  General Biology
  • BIOL 151  Biology of Humans
  • BIOL 214  Human Anatomy and Physiology I
  • BIOL 221  Foundations of Biology I
  OR
  • IDIS 125  Brain: Introduction to Neuroscience
AND at least one Chemistry or Physics course from the following:
  • CHEM 100  Chemistry: Issues and Answers
  • CHEM 103  General Chemistry I
  • CHEM 104  General Chemistry II
  • CHEM 115  Chemical Principles
  • CHEM 127  Chemistry and Climate
  • PHYS 100  Physical Science
  • PHYS 205  Physics of Renewable Energy
  • PHYS 211  General Physics
  • PHYS 231  University Physics I
  • PHYS 308  Science of Musical Sound

K2 (Social Sciences)
PSYC 100  Introduction to Psychology  3
PSYC 260  Educational Psychology  3

K3 (Humanities)
At least one literature course and another learning experience  4

K4 (Fine Arts)
One fine arts course

S1 (Written and Oral Communication)
At least one writing course from the following:
  • WRIT 114  Intensive Blugold Seminar in Critical Reading and Writing
  • WRIT 116  Blugold Seminar in Critical Reading and Writing
  • WRIT 118  Accelerated Blugold Seminar in Critical Reading and Writing
  • WRIT 120  Blugold Seminar in Critical Reading and Writing for Transfer Students

AND at least one oral communication course from the following:
  • CJ 201  Introduction to Interpersonal Communication
  • CJ 202  Fundamentals of Speech
  • CJ 203  Fundamentals of Human Communication

S2 (Mathematics)
MATH 246  Elementary Statistics  4

S3 (Creativity)
CSD 470  Clinical Practicum in Communication Disorders I (or another learning experience)  2
Undergraduate Catalog

Course in Western History or Western Contemporary Culture and course in Non-Western History or Non-Western Contemporary Culture.

NOTE: A master’s degree in Communication Sciences and Disorders is required for Early Childhood through Adolescence licensure in speech and language pathology prior to employment in Wisconsin schools.

NOTE: Enrollment in upper division courses, with the exception of CSD 301, CSD 302, CSD 311, CSD 353, CSD 378, CSD 410, CSD 411, CSD 415, CSD 419, CSD 495, and CSD 499, is restricted to students who have been admitted to the major.

Scholastic Requirements: A minimum total GPA of 2.50 is required to take 300- and 400-level major courses, with the exception of CSD 353, Speech and Hearing Science. A minimum CSD GPA of 3.50 and total GPAs of 3.0 are required to enroll in CSD 370 and CSD 470.

Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory Policy. No degree credit may be earned under the Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory option in any course presented for completion of a major in Communication Sciences and Disorders unless Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory is the only grading option available for a course.

Kinesiology

McPhee 219
715-836-3700
www.uwec.edu/kin

Kinesiology is the study of the art and science of human movement. The mission of the Department of Kinesiology at the University of Wisconsin–Eau Claire is to foster purposeful learning in the science, application, and principles of kinesiology to understand the full nature of human movement across the lifespan. We live and promote this mission by developing and preparing transformative learners to lead others in the achievement of a healthy, physically active lifestyle, and an enhanced quality of life.

Toward this end, the department offers majors in Athletic Training and Kinesiology. The Kinesiology major has four emphases to choose from including Human Performance, Teaching Early Childhood through Adolescence Physical Education, Sport Pedagogy, and Movement Studies. Minors are offered in the Science of Coaching, Adaptive Physical Education, and Kinesiology.

All the programs in the department are designed to stimulate intellectual development, instill leadership qualities, and promote service to others.

Information for All Students

A number of required courses within the majors and minors may undergo revision. Course information is therefore subject to change. See your academic adviser for additional information on how these changes may affect your individual plan of study.

Some courses require a special fee because of the nature of the activity. Current special course fees are shown in the Class Schedule.

Department programs may be limited by resources available. All new students are strongly encouraged to make contact with their assigned academic adviser early in the semester.

Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory Policy

No degree credit may be earned under the Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory option in any course presented for completion of a major or minor in Athletic Training or Kinesiology unless Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory is the only grading option available for a course.

Additional Licensure and Certification

Adaptive Physical Education

Degree Requirements

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

Human Sciences Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All degree candidates must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 or higher in both the major and the second program if one is required. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the second program are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. Each candidate for a baccalaureate degree must present one of the following:

• Comprehensive major (at least 59-60 credits)
• Standard major (at least 36 credits) plus one of the following:
  • Another standard major (at least 36 credits), or
  • A minor (at least 24 credits), or
  • A certificate (12-18 credits)

No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major or with two majors of 36 credits each.

Certain degree programs which include Comprehensive Majors may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Admission Requirements

Admission to Athletic Training Major

This major prepares students to become entry-level certified athletic trainers who are highly educated health care professionals who specialize in educating patients, preventing, recognizing, managing, and rehabilitating injuries that result from physical activity. Certified athletic trainers are part of a complete health care team that works under the direction of a licensed physician and in cooperation with other health care professionals and may work in high schools, colleges/universities, clinics/hospitals, corporations/industries, or for professional sports teams. Clinical/field experience is a valuable educational tool and an area of emphasis in the athletic training education program through clinical site rotations. All students majoring in athletic training are required to complete clinical/field experiences arranged by the athletic training educational program.

The Athletic Training major is accredited through the Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education (CAATE). Successful completion of this major allows students to sit for the Board of Certification (BOC) examination to become a certified athletic trainer.

All freshmen/transfer students who declare athletic training as their major on admittance to the University must meet with the Program Director in an advising group meeting before the start of the first semester. Students who declare athletic training as their major after the beginning of the spring semester will be advised to start candidacy in the fall semester. As part of the candidacy period, all students are required to complete 50 hours of observation with a certified athletic trainer prior to the application deadline of April 1.

Formal application may be made to the Athletic Training Major during the second semester of the first year of attendance. This will allow selected students to start the three-year course of study during the fall semester of the following year. The number of students admitted to the program is limited by resources available. Not everyone who applies can be guaranteed admission (currently 12-15 new students are admitted each year).

The Athletic Training Education Program Committee will screen students for admission to the program and make recommendations to the department chair. At the time of application, students must submit:

1. A completed program application form.
2. Transcripts indicating a total GPA of 2.75 or higher on a minimum of 25 credits of degree work.
3. Proof of the completion of 50 hours of observation under the direct supervision of a certified athletic trainer.
4. Evidence of completing and passing a background check.
5. Transcripts indicating completion of KINS 274 or hold a current American Red Cross Lay Responder CPR/AED and First Aid card (or equivalent).
6. Evidence of being tuberculosis free (Student Health Service offers TB tests).
7. Evidence of receiving at least two of the three required immunizations in the Hepatitis B vaccine series (or a signed Hepatitis B immunization declination) and verification of immunization history for measles, mumps, rubella, tetanus, and diphtheria.
8. Completion of KINS 204, Introduction to Athletic Training, with a grade of "B" (3.00) or above.
9. Documentation of compliance with the Athletic Training Education Program Technical Standards for Admission, which are based on the physical, cognitive, and attitudinal abilities that an entry-level athletic trainer must possess (see Athletic Training Education Program director for more information or copies of the technical standards).

Student admission will be based on the following criteria:

1. Performance evaluations by clinical supervisors—30%
2. Interview—30%
3. Cumulative University GPA—40%

Each student will be given a numerical score for each of the above categories. The totals for each student will be ranked, and the top 18-20 students will be recommended to the department chair for admission to the program. Letters of acceptance status will be sent by June 15 each year. Students who are not accepted are encouraged to select another major at the University. Those students who choose to reapply the following year are reminded that the major is a three-year course of study once accepted and that reapplying will delay their graduation by at least one year.

Students accepted into the program will have to have a physical examination completed during the summer. Students will begin their athletic training course work and clinical education/field experiences in the fall.

Any costs incurred with application and acceptance into the program are the athletic training student’s responsibility. These costs may include, but are not limited to: fees for CPR and First Aid certification, Hepatitis B vaccinations, updates of other immunizations, physical examination, membership in the NATA, athletic training specific clothing, travel to and from clinical sites, and other items needed for didactic and/or clinical study.

Retention

Once admitted into the Athletic Training major, the student must meet the following criteria to remain in the major:

1. Maintain a 3.00 GPA total in all athletic training core courses.
2. Earn a grade of B- or above in all ATEP core courses. ATEP courses with a letter grade below B- must be repeated.
3. Continue to be in compliance with the Athletic Training Education Program Technical Standards for Admission and the National Athletic Trainers’ Association (NATA) Code of Ethics, policies and guidelines established by the program’s accrediting agency (CAATE), and the policy and procedures manual established by the ATEP (see the Athletic Training Education Program director for a copy of the manual).

4. Satisfactorily complete all clinical experiences and other required program criteria.

To graduate from this program a student must achieve a 2.75 or higher total GPA.

Transfer Students

Transfer students must meet all application requirements prior to application to the program. KINS 204, Introduction to Athletic Training, must be taken on campus. Those students who are transferring from another institution with an accredited (CAATE) athletic training program and have taken an equivalent course, may petition the selection committee to accept the course. Transfer students who are interested in the Athletic Training major should inform the Admissions Office upon application for admission to the university and contact the Athletic Training Education Program director.

Special Fall Admission Policy

First-time applicants, who meet all of the stated admission criteria, may apply by November 1 for admission to the athletic training major. This application period is intended for students who enroll during the spring semester or transfer from another accredited athletic training program. Enrollment will be limited to the number of clinical positions available. Applicants who are considered during the special fall admission period and are not accepted at that time will be considered again during the spring application period.

Student Transportation

Students in the athletic training education program must provide their own transportation to and from clinical experiences. Some clinical experiences may require travel to other communities.

Degree Requirements

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

Human Sciences Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All degree candidates must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 or higher in both the major and the second program if one is required. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the second program are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. Each candidate for a baccalaureate degree must present one of the following:

- Comprehensive major (at least 59-60 credits)
- Standard major (at least 36 credits) plus one of the following:
  - Another standard major (at least 36 credits), or
  - A minor (at least 24 credits), or
  - A certificate (12-18 credits)

No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major or with two majors of 36 credits each.

Certain degree programs which include Comprehensive Majors may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Admission Requirements

Admission to Human Performance Emphasis

The Human Performance Emphasis is intended to prepare students to work in clinical, commercial, corporate, and community health fitness settings. Formal application to the Human Performance Emphasis should be made during the second year (either fall or spring) of attendance while enrolled in KINS 309, Introduction to Human Performance. This will allow students to begin taking courses in their area of option (Sport Performance, Fitness Management, Health Promotion, or Pre-Professional) the next semester and begin the professional phase courses the following semester (e.g., KINS 355 and KINS 358). The number of students admitted to the program each year is limited by available resources. Not everyone who applies can be guaranteed admission (currently up to 30 new students are admitted each semester). Program admission will be stratified based on primary interest in one of the four options (Sport Performance, Fitness Management, Health Promotion, or Pre-Professional), with up to five candidates being admitted in each area. Additional candidates will then be admitted based on merit regardless of specialization area.

The Human Performance Program Committee will screen students for admission to the program. At the time of application, students must:

1. Submit a completed program application form and intended plan of study.
2. Be enrolled in or completed KINS 304, KINS 308, and KINS 309.

Student admission will be based on the following criteria:

1. Total GPAs—40%
2. Overall performance in Kins 304, 308, and 309—36%
3. Evaluation of student cover letter, resumé, and application self reflective essays—24%

Students who are not accepted in the Human Performance program may apply again the following semester. Those students who choose to re-apply are reminded that the program is a two-year course of study once accepted and that reapplying could delay their graduation up to one year.

Admission requirements: Kinesiology: Human Performance Emphasis

Application deadline: Fall, spring semester while enrolled in KINS 309

Credits required prior to program admission: Completion of 30 credits or more

Minimum GPA: 2.75 resident, major, and total GPA

Special grade/course requirement: Completion of KINS 304, KINS 308, and KINS 309

Other requirements: Submission of application, resumé, and cover letter

Enrollment limitations: Maximum of 30 students admitted per semester

Admission to internship: Completion of KINS 309, KINS 355, and KINS 358; maintenance of current American Red Cross First Aid and CPR certification or equivalent; completion of background information disclosure check prior to the start of internship; and submission of internship position description.
Retention

Once admitted into the Human Performance program, the student must meet the following criteria to remain in the program:

1. Maintain a 3.00 GPA in all Kinesiology major courses.
2. Continue to display appropriate dispositions regarding professional development, as outlined in the Policy for Disposition Intervention, Department of Kinesiology, Human Performance Emphasis.
3. Satisfactorily complete all course, lab, and practicum experiences within the Human Performance Emphasis core with a C+ or above. Human Performance core courses with a grade lower than C+ must be repeated.
4. Students must maintain a 2.75 or higher total GPA to remain in the Human Performance emphasis.

Transfer Students

Transfer students must meet all application requirements prior to application to the program. KINS 309 must be taken on campus. Transfer students who are interested in the Human Performance Emphasis should inform the Admissions Office upon application for admission to the University and contact the Human Performance program director.

College Degree Requirements

Human Sciences Departments

Specific Degree Requirements

Specific requirements for some human science degrees are published in conjunction with the Catalog description of the major leading to the degree, with specific courses required in several Liberal Education outcomes.

Bachelor of Science Degree in the College of Education and Human Sciences

Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science from a human sciences department must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

General Information

Placement Tests. The mathematics/foreign language placement tests are given during the orientation periods for new freshmen and transfers. Further information about the foreign language or the mathematics tests is available from the chair of the appropriate department.

Laboratory Science Courses. The following have been designated as fulfilling the requirements for laboratory science courses in the human sciences departments.

Degree Requirements

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

Human Sciences Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All degree candidates must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 or higher in both the major and the second program if one is required. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the second program are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. Each candidate for a baccalaureate degree must present one of the following:

- Comprehensive major (at least 59-60 credits)
- Standard major (at least 36 credits) plus one of the following:
  - Another standard major (at least 36 credits), or
  - A minor (at least 24 credits), or
  - A certificate (12-18 credits)

No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major or with two majors of 36 credits each.

Certain degree programs which include Comprehensive Majors may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Admission Requirements

Admission to Human Performance Emphasis

The Human Performance Emphasis is intended to prepare students to work in clinical, corporate, commercial, and community health fitness settings. Formal application to the Human Performance Emphasis should be made during the second year (either fall or spring) of attendance while enrolled in KINS 309, Introduction to Human Performance. This will allow students to begin taking courses in their area of option (Sport Performance, Fitness Management, Health Promotion, or Pre-Professional) the next semester and begin the professional phase courses the following semester (e.g., KINS 355 and KINS 358). The number of students admitted to the program each year is limited by available resources. Not everyone who applies can be guaranteed admission (currently up to 30 new students are admitted each semester). Program admission will be stratified based on primary interest in one of the four options (Sport Performance, Fitness Management, Health Promotion, or Pre-Professional), with up to five candidates being admitted in each area. Additional candidates will then be admitted based on merit regardless of specialization area.

The Human Performance Program Committee will screen students for admission to the program. At the time of application, students must:

1. Submit a completed program application form and intended plan of study.
2. Be enrolled in or completed KINS 304, KINS 308, and KINS 309.

Student admission will be based on the following criteria:

1. Total GPAs—40%
2. Overall performance in Kins 304, 308, and 309—36%
3. Evaluation of student cover letter, resumé, and application self reflective essays—24%

Students who are not accepted in the Human Performance program may apply again the following semester. Those students who choose to re-apply are reminded that the program is a two-year course of study once accepted and that reapplying could delay their graduation up to one year.

Admission requirements: Kinesiology: Human Performance Emphasis

Retention

Once admitted into the Human Performance program, the student must meet the following criteria to remain in the program:

1. Maintain a 3.00 GPA in all Kinesiology major courses.
2. Continue to display appropriate dispositions regarding professional development, as outlined in the Policy for Disposition Intervention, Department of Kinesiology, Human Performance Emphasis.
3. Satisfactorily complete all course, lab, and practicum experiences within the Human Performance Emphasis core with a C+ or above. Human Performance core courses with a grade lower than C+ must be repeated.
4. Students must maintain a 2.75 or higher total GPA to remain in the Human Performance emphasis.

Transfer Students

Transfer students must meet all application requirements prior to application to the program. KINS 309 must be taken on campus. Transfer students who are interested in the Human Performance Emphasis should inform the Admissions Office upon application for admission to the University and contact the Human Performance program director.

Certain degree programs which include Comprehensive Majors may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.
Admission Requirements

Admission to Human Performance Emphasis

The Human Performance Emphasis is intended to prepare students to work in clinical, commercial, corporate, and community health fitness settings. Formal application to the Human Performance Emphasis should be made during the second year (either fall or spring) of attendance while enrolled in KINS 309, Introduction to Human Performance. This will allow students to begin taking courses in their area of option (Sport Performance, Fitness Management, Health Promotion, or Pre-Professional) the next semester and begin the professional phase courses the following semester (e.g., KINS 355 and KINS 358). The number of students admitted to the program each year is limited by available resources. Not everyone who applies can be guaranteed admission (currently up to 30 new students are admitted each semester). Program admission will be stratified based on primary interest in one of the four options (Sport Performance, Fitness Management, Health Promotion, or Pre-Professional), with up to five candidates being admitted in each area. Additional candidates will then be admitted based on merit regardless of specialization area.

The Human Performance Program Committee will screen students for admission to the program. At the time of application, students must:

1. Submit a completed program application form and intended plan of study.
2. Be enrolled in or completed KINS 304, KINS 308, and KINS 309.

Student admission will be based on the following criteria:

1. Total GPAs—40%
2. Overall performance in KINS 304, 308, and 309—36%
3. Evaluation of student cover letter, résumé, and application self-reflective essays—24%

Students who are not accepted in the Human Performance program may apply again the following semester. Those students who choose to re-apply are reminded that the program is a two-year course of study once accepted and that reapplying could delay their graduation up to one year.

Admission requirements:
Kinesiology: Human Performance Emphasis

Application deadline:
Fall, spring semester while enrolled in KINS 309

Credits required prior to program admission:
Completion of 30 credits or more

Minimum GPA:
2.75 resident, major, and total GPA

Special grade/course requirement:
Completion of KINS 304, KINS 308, and KINS 309

Other requirements:
Submission of application, résumé, and cover letter

Enrollment limitations:
Maximum of 30 students admitted per semester

Admission to internship:
Completion of KINS 309, KINS 355, and KINS 358; maintenance of current American Red Cross First Aid and CPR certification or equivalent; completion of background information disclosure check prior to the start of internship; and submission of internship position description.

Retention

Once admitted into the Human Performance program, the student must meet the following criteria to remain in the program:

1. Maintain a 3.00 GPA in all Kinesiology major courses.
2. Continue to display appropriate dispositions regarding professional development, as outlined in the Policy for Disposition Intervention, Department of Kinesiology, Human Performance Emphasis.

Degree Requirements
University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

Human Sciences Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All degree candidates must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 or higher in both the major and the second program if one is required. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the second program are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. Each candidate for a baccalaureate degree must present one of the following:

- Comprehensive major (at least 59-60 credits)
- Standard major (at least 36 credits) plus one of the following:
  - Another standard major (at least 36 credits), or
  - A minor (at least 24 credits), or
  - A certificate (12-18 credits)

No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major or with two majors of 36 credits each.

Certain degree programs which include Comprehensive Majors may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Admission Requirements
Admission to Human Performance Emphasis
The Human Performance Emphasis is intended to prepare students to work in clinical, commercial, corporate, and community health fitness settings. Formal application to the Human Performance Emphasis should be made during the second year (either fall or spring) of attendance while enrolled in KINS 309, Introduction to Human Performance. This will allow students to begin taking courses in their area of option (Sport Performance, Fitness Management, Health Promotion, or Pre-Professional) the next semester and begin the professional phase courses the following semester (e.g., KINS 355 and KINS 358). The number of students admitted to the program each year is limited by available resources. Not everyone who applies can be guaranteed admission (currently up to 30 new students are admitted each semester). Program admission will be stratified based on primary interest in one of the four options (Sport Performance, Fitness Management, Health Promotion, or Pre-Professional), with up to five candidates being admitted in each area. Additional candidates will then be admitted based on merit regardless of specialization area.

The Human Performance Program Committee will screen students for admission to the program. At the time of application, students must:
1. Submit a completed program application form and intended plan of study.
2. Be enrolled in or completed KINS 304, KINS 308, and KINS 309.

Student admission will be based on the following criteria:

1. Total GPAs—40%
2. Overall performance in Kins 304, 308, and 309—36%
3. Evaluation of student cover letter, résumé, and application self-reflective essays—24%

Students who are not accepted in the Human Performance program may apply again the following semester. Those students who choose to re-apply are reminded that the program is a two-year course of study once accepted and that reapplying could delay their graduation up to one year.

Admission requirements: Kinesiology: Human Performance Emphasis

Application deadline: Fall, spring semester while enrolled in KINS 309

Credits required prior to program admission: Completion of 30 credits or more

Minimum GPA: 2.75 resident, major, and total GPA

Special grade/course requirement: Completion of KINS 304, KINS 308, and KINS 309

Retention

Once admitted into the Human Performance program, the student must meet the following criteria to remain in the program:

1. Maintain a 3.00 GPA in all Kinesiology major courses.
2. Continue to display appropriate dispositions regarding professional development, as outlined in the Policy for Disposition Intervention, Department of Kinesiology, Human Performance Emphasis.
3. Satisfactorily complete all course, lab, and practicum experiences within the Human Performance Emphasis core with a C+ or above. Human Performance core courses with a grade lower than C+ must be repeated.
4. Students must maintain a 2.75 or higher total GPA to remain in the Human Performance emphasis.

Transfer Students

Transfer students must meet all application requirements prior to application to the program. KINS 309 must be taken on campus. Transfer students who are interested in the Human Performance Emphasis should inform the Admissions Office upon application for admission to the University and contact the Human Performance program director.

No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major or with two majors of 36 credits each.

Certain degree programs which include Comprehensive Majors may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Admission Requirements

Admission to Movement Studies Emphasis
Upon completing 30 credits and earning a minimum total GPA of 2.50, students may declare the Movement Studies emphasis through a Kinesiology adviser. To remain in and graduate from this program, students must maintain a 2.50 total GPA. Students falling below the total GPA of 2.50 will be dropped from the program and will need to meet with the program director for readmission.

1. Liberal Education requirements in the College of Education and Human Sciences.
2. Grade point requirements:
   - Abbreviation | Full Title | Credits
   - Residence | 2.75 average |
   - Total | 2.75 average |
   - Major | 2.75 average |
   - Minor (for certification only) | 2.75 average |
3. Residency requirements:
   - Abbreviation | Full Title | Credits
   - Minimum Total | 30 credits |
   - Senior Year | 23 credits |
   - Major, in upper division courses | 12 credits |
   - Comprehensive Major, in upper division courses | 21 credits |
4. Criteria and requirements for Professional Programs and for Admission to the Professional Semester.
5. Specific requirements of programs offered in the College of Education and Human Sciences. (See the departmental sections of this catalog.)

Teacher Licensure Requirements - EC/A Licensure

Program Options B and C
These program options are organized around content majors and education courses and are designed to prepare teachers for early adolescence through adolescence (EA-A) teaching or for early childhood through adolescence (EC-A) teaching in selected areas. Each program requires the student to complete:

1. a comprehensive major (at least 60 credits) or a standard major (at least 36 credits) plus one of the following: another standard major (at least 36 credits), or a minor (at least 24 credits), or a certificate (12-18 credits). Students choosing another major or minor may choose from the approved majors and minors listed in the table below. The approved majors and minors lead to additional certification.
2. a professional sequence consisting of teaching methods and related courses. Advising is done through the content major department.

Upon admission to program, candidates are assigned an adviser in education as well.

Option C: EC-A

Admission to Professional Education Programs (p. 474)

Admission to the College of Education and Human Sciences Teacher Educational Program

See additional requirements for admission to EA-A (p. 477) and EC-A (p. 478) programs as well as additional requirements for licensure. The Physical Education Teaching Program Committee will screen students for admission to the program and make recommendations to the EA-A/EC-A Admissions Committee based on:

1. A completed resumé outlining
   a. experiences with children and adolescents.
   b. involvement in professional organizations.
2. A formal interview.
3. A completed course of study form.
4. Performance evaluations from Kins courses.
5. Resident and total GPA of 2.75 or higher.

Resources available limit the number of students admitted to the program. Not everyone who applies can be guaranteed admission.

2 See special requirements in each College.
3 See special requirements for the College of Education and Human Sciences.
Liberal Education Core

The University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire measures learning outcomes to ensure that its graduates have achieved a liberal education and prepared themselves to contribute to a complex society. Upon graduation, each undergraduate will have met the four learning goals of our liberal education core and the 11 learning outcomes they comprise.

College Degree Requirements

Human Sciences Departments

Specific Degree Requirements

Specific requirements for some human science degrees are published in conjunction with the Catalog description of the major leading to the degree, with specific courses required in several Liberal Education outcomes.

Bachelor of Science Degree in the College of Education and Human Sciences

Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science from a human sciences department must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.(see University Graduation Requirements (p. 46))

General Information

Placement Tests. The mathematics/foreign language placement tests are given during the orientation periods for new freshmen and transfers. Further information about the foreign language or the mathematics tests is available from the chair of the appropriate department.

Laboratory Science Courses. The following have been designated as fulfilling the requirements for laboratory science courses in the human sciences departments:

Degree Requirements

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

Human Sciences Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All degree candidates must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 or higher in both the major and the second program if one is required. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the second program are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. Each candidate for a baccalaureate degree must present one of the following:
• Comprehensive major (at least 59-60 credits)
• Standard major (at least 36 credits) plus one of the following:
  • Another standard major (at least 36 credits), or
  • A minor (at least 24 credits), or
  • A certificate (12-18 credits)

No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major or with two majors of 36 credits each.

Certain degree programs which include Comprehensive Majors may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Major Requirements

This major WILL NOT lead to licensure in physical education upon graduation.

Admission Requirements

Minimum GPA: at least 2.75 total

Core Requirements for All Kinesiology Majors

NOTE: The College of Education and Human Sciences LE requirements should be met if the student desires to pursue licensure in the future. In order to be eligible for future licensure, a student must achieve a 2.75 or higher total GPA upon graduation. Students must maintain a 2.75 or higher total GPA to remain in the Sport Pedagogy emphasis. Students will need to pursue additional course work and program requirements to receive licensure and should meet with their adviser to discuss career options. Students wanting to graduate with licensure in teaching should pursue the Physical Education Teaching emphasis. The Service-Learning requirement is met by completion of required coursework in this emphasis.

The mission of the baccalaureate social work program at the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire is to prepare students to engage in ethical, competent, evidence-informed generalist practice. Graduates will be committed to diversity, social and economic justice, the promotion of community well-being, and the interdependence of local and global issues. The goals of the Social Work Program are:

1. to prepare entry-level generalist social workers grounded in liberal arts education and the person in the environment construct;
2. to prepare entry-level generalist social workers for practice in a multicultural society within the context of professional values and ethics in public and private social service agencies, especially in those services which meet the needs of diverse individuals, families, groups, organizations and communities;
3. to prepare students to integrate research-informed practice and practice-informed research and to think critically and apply ethical principles in practice;
4. to prepare students for and instill in them a commitment to lifelong learning and the recognition, support and advancement of the profession; and
5. to prepare students for practice with diverse populations and for effective participation in community affairs in a global society through the promotion of social and economic justice.

The bachelor's degree in social work (B.S.W.) is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education. Graduates of the program are eligible for examination for certification or licensure at the baccalaureate level. Graduates receive advanced standing in many Master of Social Work (MSW) programs.

Honor Societies and Student Organizations

As members of the university community, social work students have an opportunity to participate in many student organizations, including the Association of Student Social Workers (ASSW). In addition to providing important chances for identification and socialization with the profession of social work, ASSW selects student representatives to participate actively in faculty committees. Other professional organizations open to students are the Council on Social Work Education, the National Association of Social Workers, and the Wisconsin Social Service Association. The Eta Upsilon Chapter of Phi Alpha, a National Social Work Honor Society, offers recognition for scholarship to eligible upper-class members who maintain total GPAs of 3.00 or higher on a 4.00 scale and have achieved a 3.25 or higher average in required Social Work classes. Visit the department office for further information.

Caregiver Law

All individuals involved in experiential education courses for credit in the Social Work Department must complete the background check process and are responsible for the associated processing fees. Students must complete these forms at registration or the beginning of the course or show evidence of a recently completed (within one year) criminal history report. This applies to the following courses: SW 315, SW 395 (Building Bridges section), and SW 481.

Students are also advised that past or future serious crimes that are substantially related to the duties of the position may limit or inhibit the student from securing service-learning opportunities, or internship placements,
Admission to Social Work Program

The Social Work Program operates under a selective admissions policy. The policy is based on the need to maintain a program of excellence in the classroom and to assure availability of quality internship placements. The Department of Social Work reserves the right to admit a limited number of students each semester. Meeting the minimum standards does not guarantee a student will be admitted to the major.

Social Work is a professional discipline on the baccalaureate level, and, thus, admissions and retention processes are implemented and strictly followed. Students are evaluated on a regular basis. Students interested in earning a Bachelor of Social Work Degree must first be admitted to the Social Work major. Enrollment in selected upper division social work courses is restricted to students who have been formally admitted to the major. This formal application to the major is the first step in meeting requirements for graduation with a B.S.W. degree. A second review of continued eligibility occurs with application for admission to internship (SW 481). Students with any concerns regarding eligibility are urged to consult their academic adviser. Students will be asked to sign a statement that they have read and agreed to abide by the Code of Ethics. Students may appeal a denial of admission to the major or internship by following procedures outlined in the Social Work Student Handbook or the Social Work Internship Manual, as applicable.

Application Process and Procedures

1. Students seeking admission are required to complete an application form available from the department office. At the point of admission:
   a. Students must have accumulated 60 credits
   b. The university service learning requirement must have been completed.
   c. A minimum GPA of 2.5 is required in the following courses: IDIS 100 or SW 100, SW 220, SW 290, and PSYC 100. Each course must be completed with a grade of C or above.
   d. A minimum total GPA of 2.5 is required, which includes courses transferred from other colleges and universities
   e. Demonstrated acceptable skill in writing and speaking.
   f. Students will show knowledge of social work and a commitment to social work values as demonstrated by the submission of a single-spaced essay up to two pages that addresses how your values and experiences have informed your decision to select social work as a major.

2. Students must be in good academic standing in the semester in which they apply.

3. Any student who withdraws from the social work major at UW-Eau Claire or who does not take classes at UW-Eau Claire for two or more sequential semesters must reapply for admission into the program.

4. Students may repeat a grade below C in IDIS 100 or SW 100 and/or SW 220 and/or SW 290 according to University guidelines. Repeat of course(s) must be completed (not current) for any such courses before application for admission will be processed.

5. Students will apply for admission to the social work program while they are in SW 335, except under special circumstances as approved by the admissions committee chair.

Admission to Social Work Internship

Criteria for admission into Internship: The Social Work Field Director will determine eligibility for internships on the basis of the following criteria. A student must have

1. completed IDIS 100 or SW 100; SW 220, SW 290, SW 320, SW 323, SW 335, SW 383, SW 405, and SW 471 with a grade of C or above. This includes courses that are transferred in as equivalent to any of these courses;
2. earned a minimum GPA of 2.50 in IDIS 100 or SW 100 and all courses with an SW prefix;
3. earned a total GPA of 2.50;
4. completed a criminal background application within one year of the planned internship;
5. participated in the Internship Orientation Sessions prior to registration;
6. been accepted by an agency approved for field instruction by the Department of Social Work;

Graduation Requirements

To graduate with the Bachelor of Social Work (B.S.W.) degree, students must have

1. a GPA of 2.50 in IDIS 100 or SW 100 and in all courses with the SW prefix;
2. achieved completion of IDIS 100 or SW 100 and all required SW courses, including transfer courses, with a grade of C or above;
3. demonstrated competencies suitable for the profession; and
4. completed all program requirements.

Departmental Honors Programs

Eligibility: Acceptance into the program is limited to upper-class majors with resident and total GPAs of 3.50 or higher, an average of 3.50 or higher in Social Work courses, and the consent of the department.

Requirements: Completion of at least six credits in a Seminar and/or Independent Study; completion of an honors examination demonstrating superior performance in Social Work research, Social Work methodology, and an area of the student’s choice; and graduation with a total GPA of 3.50 or higher and a GPA of 3.50 or higher in Social Work pre-fixed courses.

1 Students who have taken MATH 104 or higher or have met the Math Competency may take PSYC 265 instead of MATH 246.

Other courses may apply. Students should consult an adviser to determine applicability of courses being considered.

NOTE 1: Social Work majors will still be required to complete their Service-Learning Requirement prior to application for admission to the program and SW 290 has Service-Learning embedded for all students. Some social work positions require fluency in a foreign language, and students are encouraged to consider a minor in Spanish.

Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory Policy. No degree credit may be earned under the Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory option in IDIS 100 or SW 100 or any Social Work Department course numbered 200 or higher which is required for the major.

Students must meet all course prerequisites.

College of Nursing and Health Sciences

Linda K. Young, Dean and Educational Administrator (Nursing 103)
Debra Jansen, Associate Dean (Nursing 103/215)

Mission Statement of the College of Nursing and Health Sciences

The College of Nursing and Health Sciences provides undergraduate and graduate programs for Nursing. Building on a foundation of excellence, the college prepares liberally educated individuals for professional practice. Creative educational experiences, scholarship, and service to our communities enhance the personal and professional growth of students and faculty and promote life-long learning. As a college, we value a caring spirit, ethical practice, and advocacy for policies and actions that contribute to the improvement of the human condition.

Accreditation

The nursing programs are approved by the Wisconsin State Board of Nursing. The baccalaureate and master’s programs are accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE), One Dupont Circle, NW, Suite 530, Washington, DC 20036, (202) 887-6791, through December 31, 2021. The Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) program is accredited by CCNE through December 31, 2016.

Baccalaureate Program

The nursing programs are oriented toward the belief that a broad liberal education is an essential foundation for the preparation of professionals. Through the biological and social sciences, the humanities, and the nursing science courses, the concepts of humanity, health, environment, and nursing are interwoven in a curriculum that clinically addresses nursing across the lifespan of health-care recipients.

Marshfield Site

In addition to the Eau Claire campus, the nursing program of study is available in Marshfield, Wisconsin in cooperation with Saint Joseph’s Hospital. Persons interested in further information about the Marshfield site should contact the College of Nursing and Health Sciences Assistant Dean, Marshfield Site.

Program/Student Learning Outcomes

Students graduating from UW-Eau Claire with the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree demonstrate accomplishment of the AACN Baccalaureate Essentials* through:

1. Integration of liberal and nursing education, with particular distinction in:
   1. Leading change in complex health care environments.
2. Organizational and systems leadership for patient safety and quality care, with particular distinction in:
   • Developing effective working relationships for quality improvement and optimizing patient care outcomes.
3. Scholarship for evidence-based practice, with particular distinction in:
   • Providing leadership in the synthesis and application of evidence with integration into changing standards of care.
4. Interprofessional communication and collaboration for improving patient health outcomes, with particular distinction in:
   • Delivery of evidence-based, patient-centered care;
   • Coordination of care across settings and through the health-illness trajectory.
5. Information management and application of patient care technology.
6. Understanding of health care policy, finance and regulatory environments, with particular distinction in:
   • Advocacy for individuals, families, and communities.
7. Interprofessional communication and collaboration for improving patient health outcomes, with particular distinction in:
   • Development of action strategies.
8. Clinical prevention and population health for optimizing health, with particular distinction in:
   • Analysis of population health needs, determinants, and resources, and development of action strategies.
9. Professionalism and professional values, with particular distinction in:
   • Ethical practice, social responsibility, a commitment to social justice, and global citizenship;
   • Delivery of culturally competent care within diverse settings and/or populations.
10. Beginning competence in baccalaureate generalist nursing practice, with particular distinction in:
    • Holistic, relationship-based care incorporating therapeutic use of self;
    • Integration of nursing concepts, human responses, and safe and competent nursing care;
    • Use of nursing process to effect highest quality health outcomes.

*The Essentials of Baccalaureate Education for Professional Nursing Practice, AACN 2008

Costs

Nursing is a professional discipline, and students enrolled in the nursing program must anticipate some additional costs that are directly related to the nursing program. These include, for example, uniforms, nursing textbooks, health requirements, background checks, application and course fees, some clinical equipment (e.g., stethoscope, skills laboratory supplies), and transportation associated with clinical experiences. Note that textbook costs can be high, particularly in the early nursing courses; however, many of the books continue to be utilized in subsequent semesters. Additionally, admitted students should have wireless laptop access. Courses at the Marshfield Site are charged fees in addition to the typical undergraduate tuition. Contact the Assistant/Associate Deans for details.

Financial Assistance

Nursing students applying for financial assistance will be considered by the Financial Aid Office on the same basis as other university students. Funding specific to nursing students is also available. Application forms for financial assistance are available from the university Office of Financial Aid. Information regarding scholarships available to students after admission to the nursing program is available on the College of Nursing and Health Sciences (http://www.uwec.edu/conhs) website, in the Eau Claire Nursing Learning Resource Center (Room 154), in the Marshfield Site program office, and on the UW-Eau Claire Financial Aid website.

Clinical Experiences

Various health and social agencies and institutions are utilized for student learning experiences. Experiences are provided through facilities such as hospitals, schools, nursing homes, public health agencies, child day-care centers, and other community health agencies. Students are responsible for transportation to and from clinical experiences. Some clinical experiences are in other communities.
Organizations and Activities

Membership in the National Student Nurses’ Association and the Wisconsin Student Nurses’ Association is achieved through joining the Eau Claire Student Nurses’ Association. The organization meets regularly to promote the aims of nursing education and provide students experience with respect to the issues and operations of the professional nursing organizations.

Sigma Theta Tau International is the Nursing Honor Society. Membership is by invitation to juniors, seniors, and graduate students who demonstrate outstanding scholarship and leadership potential.

Study Abroad Program

INTA 329 Study Abroad-Health Care in Costa Rica is a program of special interest to students in nursing and other majors with an interest in health care. Students expecting to take first semester senior nursing courses during a fall term may consider a nursing study abroad opportunity available through the University of Evansville at Harlaxton, England.

Academic Regulations

Students who are enrolled in nursing courses are expected to arrange for the make-up of all class and laboratory work missed, regardless of the reason for the absence. If the absence is anticipated, arrangements for make-up should be made prior to the absence. Students who have missed an excessive portion of the course may be advised to withdraw. Please also refer to the College Admission Requirements (p. 530) and the College Graduation Requirements (p. 532) for additional academic regulations.

Incompletes

A grade of “incomplete” is allowed only when illness or other extenuating circumstances beyond the student’s control have interfered with completion of the course, and the plan for completion is a clearly viable alternative for meeting the course objectives. Students may not progress to courses that have a prerequisite course in which a mark of “incomplete” has been received. For the traditional undergraduate nursing program, students are not allowed to progress further in the nursing program until the course with the incomplete grade is successfully completed.

 Unsatisfactory Grades in Nursing Courses (Grade of less than C) Any of the following may result in an unsatisfactory grade in a nursing course:

- Clearly unsatisfactory achievement in either the theoretical or the practicum component of a nursing course.
- Failure to meet clinical behavior expectations.
- Failure to submit course assignments or projects.
- Failure to meet make-up requirements in relation to course work missed.
- Failure to appear for the final examination, unless prevented by illness or other emergency from taking the examination at the scheduled time.
- Offenses as defined by the University of Wisconsin Board of Regents in chapter UWS 17 and published on the Dean of Students website.
- Failure to comply with attendance policy as stated in writing by the instructor.

Nursing Student Progression

1. Students must receive a satisfactory clinical evaluation in each of the critical areas on a summative clinical evaluation of a course. These areas are:
   a. Effective noticing (focused observation, recognizing deviations from expected patterns, and information seeking);
   b. Effective interpreting (prioritizing data and making sense of data);
   c. Effective responding (calm, confident manner, clear communication, well-planned intervention/flexibility, and being safe and skillful);
   d. Effective reflecting (evaluation/self-analysis and commitment to improvement);
   e. Respectful and professional behavior;
   f. Professional attire;
   g. Professional values; and
   h. Accountability and responsibility for own professional behavior.

2. If a student demonstrates deficiencies that the instructor determines are clearly unsafe or unprofessional behaviors, the student will be immediately removed from the clinical situation.
3. Allowing students to do remedial work in a required nursing course is a class faculty decision.
4. Remedial work not completed before the end of a semester will result in the student receiving an incomplete or a failing grade.
5. A student may repeat only two required nursing courses. Only one of these repeated courses may be a clinical course. Failure in or withdrawal from a third nursing course, or a second clinical course, will result in dismissal from the program.
6. When a faculty member has determined that a student has failed a clinical component of a course at any point during the semester, a course grade of F will be assigned and the student cannot withdraw from the course.

Termination from Program

A student may be terminated from the nursing program for any of the following reasons:

- Failure to regain good standing.
- A second instance of probation.
- Failure to demonstrate the potential for consistently safe and responsible nursing practice.
- Likelihood that a student’s condition or prior experience will adversely affect the student, other persons, the university, an agency or unit used for clinical practice, or the patients or clients served.

A student who has been notified of termination may appeal for reinstatement. Termination from the program constitutes dismissal from the nursing program only. A student’s status within the university is not affected provided the university standards for good standing are met.

Dean’s List

At the end of each semester, the College of Nursing and Health Sciences recognizes excellence in scholastic achievement by publishing the Dean’s List. To be eligible, a student must:

1. Be in good academic standing;
2. Have a minimum semester GPA of 3.70;
3. Have completed at least 12 credits during the semester, with no incompletes, no courses below the 100 level, no repeats, and no Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory registrations (except in degree credit-bearing courses that are offered only on the S/U grading system in which a grade of S has been earned).

Students who meet this standard of achievement receive personal letters of notification and congratulations from the dean.

Credit by Examination Policy

Selected undergraduate nursing courses are available to eligible students for credit by examination. Credit for a maximum of two clinical nursing courses may be earned by examination. No more than 20 credits in nursing
Eligibility. Independent Study courses are open only to juniors and seniors. A student with a nursing major may elect an Independent Study, provided the student has at least 3.00 resident and total GPAs. Registration requires the permission of the faculty member who agrees to supervise the project and of the department offering the course.

Restrictions. One to three credits of Independent Study (399 or 499) may be elected during any semester. A total of no more than six independent study credits in nursing may be counted toward graduation. Directed Study courses may not be applied toward completion of the liberal education requirements.

Procedure. The student shall obtain the Independent Study form from the Registrar’s Office website and complete the form in consultation with the supervising faculty member. Initial approval by the department chair is required prior to enrollment.

Certificates, Minors, Second Majors
Students may select a certificate, minor, or second major in a non-nursing field. The Spanish for Health Professionals minor (Code 320-408) is designed for students in nursing or other health-care related professions who desire a proficiency in the Spanish language. (See Department of Languages for program requirements. (p. 274)) Completion of a certificate, minor, or second major will require credits beyond the minimum necessary for graduation from the university. Scheduling difficulties may be encountered when attempting to complete a certificate, minor, or second major. See the major/minor concentration policies in the section on University Graduation Requirements. Students who select a minor or second major must obtain an academic adviser in that area.

Independent Study
Under the course numbers 399 and 499, the Department of Nursing in the College of Nursing and Health Sciences provides students with opportunities for student-initiated independent study in areas of special interest with guidance of a faculty member.

Eligibility. Independent Study courses are open only to juniors and seniors. A student with a nursing major may elect an Independent Study, provided the student has at least 3.00 resident and total GPAs. Registration requires the permission of the faculty member who agrees to supervise the project and of the department offering the course.

Restrictions. One to three credits of Independent Study (399 or 499) may be elected during any semester. A total of no more than six independent study credits in nursing may be counted toward graduation. Directed Study courses may not be applied toward completion of the liberal education requirements.

Procedure. The student shall obtain the Independent Study form from the Registrar’s Office website and complete the form in consultation with the supervising faculty member. Initial approval by the department chair is required prior to enrollment.

Directed Study
Courses numbered 295, 395, and 495 offered by the Nursing Department in the College of Nursing and Health Sciences are designed to permit individual students or groups of students to undertake special projects related to their educational interests and goals.

Eligibility. Registration for a Directed Study course requires the permission of the faculty member who agrees to supervise the project and of the department offering the course. Any further conditions of eligibility may be established by the department or published as part of the course description.

Restrictions. One to three credits of Directed Study (295, 395, or 495) may be elected during any semester. A total of no more than six directed study credits in nursing may be counted toward graduation. Directed Study courses may not be applied toward completion of the liberal education requirements.

Procedure. The student shall obtain the Directed Study form from the Registrar’s Office website and complete the form in consultation with the supervising faculty member. Initial approval by the department chair is required prior to enrollment.

Departmental Honors in Nursing Program
The purpose of the Departmental Honors in Nursing Program is to provide an opportunity for students to discover nursing knowledge in a specific topic area using advanced scholarship abilities beyond the student learning outcomes of the baccalaureate nursing program. Nursing Honors students will:

1. Demonstrate professional motivation and commitment to the contribution of nursing knowledge by participating in a scholarly project that engages the student in any of the following formats: research, evidence-based practice, service project with a health care/community partner, and/or leadership.
2. Demonstrate some or all of the following scholarly behaviors with abundant depth and breadth through the scholarly project:
   a. Formation of a focused practice/academic/management problem or need
   b. Retrieval, appraisal, analysis, and synthesis of scholarly literature/evidence
   c. Collaborative design of a scholarly project to meet the identified need
   d. Implementation of the scholarly project
   e. Dissemination of the results of the scholarly project in a professional format (oral or poster presentation, manuscript, or other).
3. Cultivate professional relationship(s) with Nursing Honors Advisor and/or other significant professional partners.

Eligibility. Nursing students with resident and total GPAs of 3.50 or higher may be admitted.

Application. A written application shall be approved by the Dean of the College of Nursing and Health Sciences and the Nursing Honors Committee.

Requirements for Completion. See college website and Blugold Insider for the most up-to-date requirements and guidelines.

Admission
All students interested in nursing applying for admission to the university follow the regular procedure and are assigned an academic adviser by the university.

The College of Nursing and Health Sciences welcomes the opportunity to give guidance in program planning to students in high school who have chosen nursing or are considering it as a career. These students are encouraged to include courses in high school which provide the best foundation for study at the university and in the major field. Recommended are:

Admission to the Traditional Undergraduate Pre-licensure Nursing Program

Formal application to the traditional undergraduate pre-licensure nursing program must be made. A student must be admitted to UW-Eau Claire as a pre-nursing student before applying to the nursing program. Students are encouraged to apply during the semester in which 30 credits will be completed. The deadlines for filing applications to the College of Nursing and Health Sciences are May 1 and December 1 for the Eau Claire campus; May 1 and December 1 for the Marshfield site. In order to be considered for admission to the nursing program, one must have:

1. been accepted as a pre-nursing student in the University in good standing.
2. completed at least 30 semester credits, not including courses for nursing assistant certification, with a total cumulative GPA of at least 3.00.
3. completed at least three of the five required science courses, two of which are laboratory science courses, with a GPA of at least 2.50.
4. earned a grade of C or above in all courses required for nursing.
5. completed all application materials including quality essay, and submitted a nonrefundable application fee.
6. completed health record, CPR certification, and background check at the time of admission to the program.

Note: Evidence of certification as a Nursing Assistant must be submitted prior to registration for sophomore nursing clinical courses (NRSG 267) following admission to the Nursing Program.

Other data utilized by the Admissions Committee are derived from a variety of sources that include applications for admission to the University and the nursing program, high school transcript showing rank in class, previous collegiate records, and standardized tests such as ACT or SAT. International, non-native speakers of English applying to an undergraduate nursing program must have a TOEFL score as follows: TOEFL Written >560 (or IELTS score of 6.5); or TOEFL (CBT) >220; or TOEFL (iBT) >83.

The College may find it necessary to deny admission to a qualified applicant because of enrollment limits in the professional program. Depending on the number of qualified applicants, it is likely that the GPA required to be competitive for admission may be well above the 3.00 minimum cumulative GPA.

The Nurse Scholars Program provides conditional admission to the nursing program for those high achieving pre-nursing students who have been invited to enter the Nurse Scholars and University Honors programs (see University Honors (p. 33)) at the time of admission to the University. Students eligible for the Nurse Scholars Program are identified at the time of admission to the University and must accept the offer when invited. The Nursing Dean’s office contacts the students who are eligible for the program. Eligibility is determined by identified major, high school class rank, ACT score, and admission to University Honors. To maintain Nurse Scholar eligibility for admission to the nursing program, the student must meet specific credit, GPA, and Honors course criteria, as well as additional admission requirements as applicable to all pre-nursing students. Further information is available from the Associate Dean for the college. Pre-nursing students participating in University Honors who believe they mistakenly may not have received a Nurse Scholar invitation must contact the Associate Dean no later than mid-August, prior to starting courses at UW-Eau Claire.

Admission to the BSN Completion Program

The BSN Completion Program is for practicing registered nurses with an associate degree or diploma in nursing from an accredited nursing program who wish to obtain a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree. Formal application to the BSN Completion Program must be made in the semester prior to enrolling in nursing courses. To be considered for admission to the BSN Completion Program, students must have:

- Graduated with an associate degree in nursing from a nationally accredited (e.g., NLN, NLNAC, and ACEN) nursing program with a minimum grade point average of 2.50.
- A current Wisconsin RN license.
- Been admitted to UW-Eau Claire in good standing.
- Completed at least 30 credits of transferable liberal education courses with a total grade point average of at least 2.50.
- Completed at least three of the five required science courses, with a grade point average of at least 2.50.
- Earned a grade of C or above in all courses required for nursing.
- Submitted and completed all application materials (including but not limited to: application, application fee, official transcript from associate degree or diploma program, evidence of Wisconsin RN licensure).

Health Requirements

Admitted students must present evidence of having met current health requirements, such as immunity against diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus, varicella, rubella, measles, mumps, rubella, and hepatitis B, annual influenza vaccination, and tuberculin skin testing (evidence of two-step TB skin test is required if the student has never been tested for TB). Please refer to the specific health requirement information delineated on the College (http://www.uwec.edu/conhs) website. Additional testing and medical follow-up may be requested. To secure admission acceptance, all health requirements, evidence of CPR certification, background check information, etc. must be submitted, along with the appropriate fee(s).

Admitted students must maintain their immune status against infectious diseases. Tuberculin skin tests are offered at the Student Health Service. Any student whose skin test converts from negative to positive while enrolled in the program must have a chest X-ray and a medical evaluation, and provide a statement of the clinician’s findings and recommendations. Students at the Marshfield site must follow the health requirements of Saint Joseph’s Hospital, Marshfield, to participate in clinical rotations. Annual interferon-gamma release assays (IGRAs) including QFT-Gold and T-Spot results may be acceptable in lieu of TB skin test results. Students are not permitted to participate in clinical course work unless all immunizations, TB tests, CPR certification, and background checks are current. Clinical facilities may have additional requirements.

All expenses associated with health surveillance and care are borne by the student unless the Student Health Service specifically indicates otherwise. Students are not covered by health or accident insurance by UW-Eau Claire, the practicum facility, or the practicum institution. In addition, workers’ compensation insurance does not cover students while engaged in clinical practice. If a student suffers a needle stick or is hurt while in practicum, he or she will need personal health insurance to cover medical bills.

CPR Certification

All applicants must hold Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) Certification at the healthcare provider level (American Heart Association level C or American Red Cross Health Care Professional). Evidence of CPR certification must be submitted at the time of admission. Admitted students must keep their certification current.

Student Background Check Requirements

Based on Wisconsin State law, clinical agencies require completed background checks. The College of Nursing and Health Sciences requires students admitted to the nursing programs to complete background check materials which are submitted by the students to Castlebranch.com.

CastleBranch.com conducts Wisconsin and out of state criminal record and healthcare fraud and abuse searches, and includes the Wisconsin Department of Health and Family Services (DHFS) Background Information Disclosure (BID), a release for a Wisconsin Department of Justice Criminal Background Check. Further information regarding the Wisconsin Caregiver Law can be obtained from DHFS’s (http://www.dhfs.state.wi.us) Web site. Students participating in clinicals in Minnesota may be required to complete additional background checks (with associated fees). Additional, including out of state, background checks (with associated fees) may be required by the college and by the clinical agencies. Final admission status to the nursing program is contingent upon return of criminal background check(s) with no findings that would prevent participation in the program. Because of background check or BID findings, clinical agencies may refuse placement of students. This may prevent progression in or completion of the program. The findings also may affect licensure good standing and employment. A criminal history is not an automatic bar to clinical agency placement, program progression, licensure/certification and/or future employment. Admitted students are under a continuing obligation to notify the Dean’s Office at the College of Nursing and Health Sciences of any pending charges or violations of federal, state, and local laws or the campus student conduct code that occur at any future date and during their tenure as College of Nursing and Health Sciences students.

Transfer Students

Any student anticipating transfer to the university for the nursing degree is urged to consult the university Admissions Office as early as possible for information about GPA and course requirements for admission and for the degree requirements (see specific nursing program admission requirements). Official review of the student’s academic record is made by the University Office of Admissions.

Applicants to the nursing program who have completed nursing courses in an accredited baccalaureate nursing program at another college or university will be considered on an individual basis, but will likely need to complete the nursing application process. Acceptance will be determined by overall quality of academic record, space availability, and the articulation of courses with those offered by the College of Nursing and Health Sciences.

Readmission to Nursing Program

Students who withdraw from the program and wish to return for completion must send a letter to the Dean requesting readmission to the nursing program at least three months in advance of the desired readmission date. Applicants must meet the current admission requirements of the nursing program.

Consideration will be given to the length of absence, the student’s ability to achieve, and the available spaces in the clinical courses in which the student will enroll. Students may be asked to reapply to the program, especially if significant time has passed or if curricular changes or other circumstances have occurred. If readmission is granted, the remaining program will be planned as considered best for the student and according to the current curriculum.

College Graduation Requirements

Academic Standards

The following scholastic standards must be maintained by students after admission to the nursing program if they are to be considered in good standing:

1. Achieve a semester GPA of at least 2.25;
2. Maintain a resident GPA of at least 2.50;
3. Achieve a grade of at least C in each specific course required by nursing.

If a student fails to meet any of the academic standards, the student is placed on probation in the College of Nursing and Health Sciences. The student who is placed on probation in the college will be officially notified of the change in academic standing and will be required to negotiate a contract designed for regaining good standing with the dean of the college. Should a grade of less than C in a specific course required by nursing be a factor in the probationary status, the student must repeat that course before earning credit for any course for which the repeated course is a prerequisite. For the traditional undergraduate nursing program, students are not allowed to progress further in the nursing program until the course with the less than satisfactory grade is successfully completed. No more than one instance of probation within the nursing programs is allowed. Please also refer to the college academic regulations listed in the College Overview (p. 54) and to the nursing student handbooks available in Blugold Insider.

Degree Requirements

To qualify for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing, the candidate must present at least 120 semester credits with a total GPA of at least 2.50; must meet all university requirements for graduation; and must meet all nursing program requirements for the degree.

Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory Policy

No course required for the degree in nursing may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis. Audit enrollment is not allowed.

Nursing

Mission Statement of the Nursing Program

The purpose of the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire Department of Nursing is to provide a scholarly environment in which faculty and students gain and extend knowledge of health, health care, and professional nursing. Nursing offers on-campus and distance baccalaureate, graduate, and continuing education for the practice of professional nursing.

The select mission of Nursing is to:

1. Educate nurses to lead within diverse, complex environments
2. Promote health and the public good through ethical leadership, collaboration, and practice
3. Contribute to knowledge development for health and nursing
4. Serve the broader missions of the college and university

K1 Natural Sciences (two experiences, one with lab)
- CHEM 103  General Chemistry I  4
- CHEM 150  Survey of Biochemistry  3

K2 Social Sciences (two experiences)
- PSYC 100  Introduction to Psychology  3
- PSYC 230  Human Development (PSYC 100 is a prerequisite)  3

K3 Humanities (two experiences)
- Need two K3 experiences/courses

K4 Fine Arts (one experience)
- Need one K4 experience/course

S1 Written and Oral Communication (two experiences)
- WRIT 116  Blugold Seminar in Critical Reading and Writing (or appropriate Blugold Seminar Critical Reading and Writing course)  5

- Need 2nd S1 experience/course

S2 Mathematics (one experience)
- MATH 246  Elementary Statistics  4

S3 Creativity (one experience)
- NRSG 428  Practicum: Nursing Leadership I  3
- or CND 480  Nursing within Systems: Analysis and Application

R1 Equity, Diversity, and Inclusivity (two experiences including one Design for Diversity course)

Master of Science in Nursing (MSN)

The graduate program leading to the Master of Science in Nursing degree is designed to prepare nurses to assume leadership and scholarship roles in professional nursing in the areas of nursing education or nursing administration/leadership & management. Students choose an adult-gerontologic or family population focus and functional role preparation in nursing education or administration/leadership & management. After admission to the program, the student must complete approximately 40-41 graduate credits for the MSN degree. Completion of the program usually requires four semesters and a summer and winter session. Individuals interested in pursuing the nurse practitioner or clinical nurse specialist role preparations need to apply to the post-baccalaureate Doctor of Nursing Practice (BSN-to-DNP) degree option, in keeping with the American Association of Colleges of Nursing (AACN) decision to transition advanced practice nursing preparation to the Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) degree level.

More specific information is available in the Graduate Catalog or from the Nursing Graduate Programs Director, College of Nursing and Health Sciences.

Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP)

The College of Nursing and Health Sciences offers Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) degree options for individuals pursuing education in advanced practice nursing. The DNP is a clinical doctorate designed to prepare nurses to assume leadership roles in the areas of advanced clinical practice nursing (nurse practitioner or clinical nurse specialist) or nursing administration/nurse executive. Both MSN–to-DNP and BSN–to-DNP options are offered. The MSN–to-DNP option includes an advanced clinical practice (for nurse practitioners or clinical nurse specialists) option or a nurse executive option. More specific information is available online from the college website (http://catalog.uwec.edu/undergraduate/nursing-health-sciences/nursing/) or from the Nursing Graduate Programs Director, College of Nursing and Health Sciences.

Nursing, Accelerated B.S.N. Option, Comprehensive Major

(Code 700-007) – Currently on hold.

Admission Requirements

Admission to the Professional Nursing Program. (p. 530)

Major Requirements

UW-Eau Claire offers, when resources allow, an accelerated B.S.N. degree option for individuals with a bachelor’s degree in another field who wish to earn a second bachelor’s degree in nursing. Admission into this option currently is on hold. In order to be considered for the Accelerated B.S.N. program, students must hold a bachelor’s degree, have been accepted to the university, have completed required prerequisite courses, have earned a minimum overall GPA of 3.00 in most recent bachelor’s or higher degree and a GPA of 2.50 in required science courses, satisfy the university design for diversity requirement, be certified as a nursing assistant, and be certified in CPR. The Accelerated B.S.N. program includes 60 credits of nursing courses offered over a shortened time frame.

To qualify for the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree, students must complete at least 120 semester credits with a total GPA of at least 2.50; must meet all university requirements for graduation; and must meet all nursing program requirements for the degree. Students taking a comprehensive major are not required to take a minor in another area. However, students who are interested in a minor are encouraged to discuss options with their adviser. Students must also seek an adviser in the area of the minor.

Liberal Education (LE) Requirements

This table shows how the above courses meet the Liberal Education Requirements

K1 Natural Sciences (two experiences, one with lab)
the opportunity for the qualified nurse to earn credits toward the M.S.N. while completing the baccalaureate degree in nursing. This is accomplished by enrolling as a senior undergraduate student in selected graduate courses. A grade of B or better must be earned in a graduate course in order to be eligible to register for additional graduate courses. The graduate courses serve as confirming courses for up to nine credits in the undergraduate BSN completion curriculum; a grade of C or better is needed to earn the confirming credits. Permission must be obtained from the Nursing Graduate Programs Director of the College of Nursing and Health Sciences prior to enrollment in this option.

Students approved for this option may enroll in:

Graduate Courses

- NRSG 701 Nursing Research: Methods (Fall Semester) 4
- NRSG 715 Leadership and Health Policy in Nursing (Spring Semester) 3
- Cognate (Varies with Role Preparation) 2

And receive credit for:

Undergraduate Courses

- CND 446 Research and Evidence-Based Practice 3
- CND 447 Leadership & Management 3
- Nursing Elective 2

Requirements for eligibility:

- Senior status in nursing: 90 semester credits completed, including two courses in upper division nursing and an undergraduate statistics course (grade of C or higher).
- If a second degree student, prerequisites for nursing, university requirements for a second degree, and two courses in upper division nursing and an undergraduate statistics course (grade of C or higher) must have been completed.
- Cumulative GPA of 3.00 or higher in course work accepted toward the B.S.N.
- Recommendation of the Nursing Graduate Programs Director of the College of Nursing and Health Sciences.

Upon graduation, each undergraduate will have met the four learning goals of our liberal education core and the 11 learning outcomes they comprise.
Admission Requirements

Admission to the Professional Nursing Program. (p. 530)

Major Requirements

WTCS Associate Degree in Nursing/May 1996 or later BSN Completion Program (Collaborative Nursing Degree)

UW-Eau Claire, together with other UW institutions offering nursing programs, has developed a collaborative degree completion program for registered nurses. This collaborative endeavor is possible due to developing technology in the electronic transmission of courses. Students naming UW-Eau Claire as their home institution in the BSN Completion Program receive student services from this university. Liberal education requirements can be taken at any institution where equivalent transfer credit can be obtained. This liberal education must meet the overall UW-Eau Claire liberal education requirements if the degree is to be obtained from UW-Eau Claire. The majority of nursing courses in the program are taught through a variety of distance technology methods. The foundational course (CND 310) and a capstone course (CND 480) with a clinical component are offered in a hybrid on-campus/online format (see nursing courses with CND prefix).

Students in this option are eligible for the benefits of the articulation agreement between UW System and WTCS non-college associate degree programs in nursing.

To qualify for the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree, students must complete at least 120 semester credits with a total GPA of at least 2.50; must meet all university requirements for graduation; and must meet all nursing program requirements for the degree, including satisfactory completion of statistics and biochemistry. Students taking a comprehensive major are not required to take a minor in another area. However, students who are interested in a minor are encouraged to discuss options with their adviser. Students must also seek an adviser in the area of the minor.

R.N./B.S.N./M.S.N. Option

The R.N./B.S.N./M.S.N. option is a program that facilitates the progression of qualified Registered Nurse students, enrolled in the BSN Completion Program (Collaborative Nursing Program), to progress in pursuing the Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) Program at UW-Eau Claire. This option provides the opportunity for the qualified nurse to earn credits toward the M.S.N. while completing the baccalaureate degree in nursing. This is accomplished by enrolling as a senior undergraduate student in selected graduate courses. A grade of B or better must be earned in a graduate course in order to be eligible to register for additional graduate courses. The graduate courses serve as confirming courses for up to nine credits in the undergraduate BSN completion curriculum; a grade of C or better is needed to earn the confirming credits. Permission must be obtained from the Nursing Graduate Programs Director of the College of Nursing and Health Sciences prior to enrollment in this option.

Students approved for this option may enroll in:

Nursing Elective 2

Requirements for eligibility:

- Senior status in nursing: 90 semester credits completed, including two courses in upper division nursing and an undergraduate statistics course (grade of C or higher).
- If a second degree student, prerequisites for nursing, university requirements for a second degree, and two courses in upper division nursing and an undergraduate statistics course (grade of C or higher) must have been completed.
- Cumulative GPA of 3.00 or higher in course work accepted toward the B.S.N.
- Recommendation of the Nursing Graduate Programs Director of the College of Nursing and Health Sciences.

Topical Minor, Minor

Nursing (Code 610-432)

A topical minor is composed of 24 semester credits selected by the student to meet the student’s own interests and scholarly objectives. Courses for the minor may be chosen on the basis of a coherent theme, a definable professional need, or complementary relation to the student’s major.

The topical minor is not intended to duplicate any major or minor offered as a regular program.

Nursing Comprehensive Major

The topical minor must include 12 credits from the College of Nursing and Health Sciences and 12 credits from at least one department in any other college within the university. No more than six credits in the comprehensive major may be applied to the minor. At least 12 of the 24 credits must be earned in courses numbered 300 or above.

Standard Major. The topical minor must include courses from at least two departments, with no more than 12 credits from any one department and no more than six credits from the department of the student’s major. Courses included in the major cannot be applied to the minor. At least 12 of the 24 credits must be earned in courses numbered 300 or above and 12 of the 24 credits must be earned in the College of Nursing and Health Sciences courses. The remaining credits may be earned from any college in the university.

Procedure. The student interested in obtaining a topical minor through the College of Nursing and Health Sciences shall obtain a topical minor application form from the College of Nursing and Health Sciences Dean’s office and identify a topical minor adviser. The completed form will be forwarded to the adviser for approval.
COURSES

Course Numbering System

The first digit in a course number indicates the level of the course:

- 1-99: courses that cannot be counted toward minimum degree requirements
- 100-199: courses primarily for freshmen
- 200-299: courses primarily for sophomores
- 300-499: courses open to juniors and seniors
- 500-699: junior-senior courses approved for graduate credit
- 700-799: course open only to graduate students
- 800-899: course open only to Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) students

1 Students who have taken a course at the 300- or 400-level may not include that course at the 500- or 600-level in a graduate program, except in the case of special topics courses when the topic is not the same as that taken at the undergraduate level or at the discretion of the program adviser.

Cross-listed Courses

Courses are cross-listed when the curriculum is interdisciplinary in nature and the course is offered through multiple departments. That is, two course listings identify the same courses. The listings will have identical numbers—only the course prefix varies.

Some certifications, licensures, and programs may require a specific number of credits from certain curricular disciplines. Therefore, students should review program constraints before enrolling for cross-listed courses.

Experimentation with different media, creative uses of textures and color. Printmaking on a more technologically and conceptually advanced level.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 357 Ceramics I (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 110 or consent of instructor. Limited to art majors and minors. Consent: Department Consent Required
Studio course comprised of introductory experience in mixing clay, making glazes, throwing, hand building, glazing, and methods of firing.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 358 Ceramics II (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 357
Continuation of Art 357 with emphasis on loading and firing kilns.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 364 Assembled Form (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 264 or completion of at least four 200-level or higher art courses.
The advanced study of the manipulation, fabrication, and combined usages of disparate materials in sculpture.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 365 Site-Specific Sculpture (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Completion of at least four 200-level or higher art courses.
This course is an introduction to the creation and history of site-specific sculpture. Students will create works that fully integrate the context of site into the viewer’s interpretation of content and context.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 366 Found Media (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 264
Course will focus on the integration, manipulation, and conceptualization of “found media” into sculpture.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6
ART 373 Motion Graphics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 107, ART 108, ART 110, and ART 312 or ART 274, plus two art studio courses in an emphasis area approved by the student's adviser. Consent: Department Consent Required
A studio course exploring the concept, creativity and techniques of 2-dimensional digital motion graphics, including the applications of TV and film identity, internet motion graphics, representative or abstract animation, and artistic presentation in galleries.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 374 Graphic Design IV: Publication Design (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 275
Studio course applying the advanced principles of typographical design and relationships to graphic communications.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 375 Electronic Media Design I: Information Environments (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 275 or ART 312.
Studio course exploring the potential of print related design, pre-press capabilities, related graphic software, and the introduction of multimedia interface design.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 376 Graphic Design V: Visual Identity Applications (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 374
Studio course applying the concepts of editorial design, layout, and print-related graphics. Visitations to studios and agencies involved with the production of such imagery can be expected.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 377 Digital Painting (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 244
Students engage with art-making using Wacom tablets and Adobe Photoshop Software. Projects range from representational to non-representational modes of image making. Students also must write, reflect on and discuss ideas presented in class or through readings.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 378 3-D Computer Animation I (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 278
Continued development of computer 3-D modeling skills begun in Art 278. Students study comprehensive creative concepts and advanced 3-D artistic modeling for objects and life-figures. Additional animation techniques are included.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 381 Intermediate Photography: Darkroom (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 281
Continued work with photography genres, concepts, and processes. Students learn black-and-white film developing and printing and alternative processes such as silver emulsion (Liquid Light), Cyanotype, and pinhole. Emphasis on concept development.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 382 Intermediate Photography: Digital (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 281 or consent of instructor.
Utilizing digital techniques, students continue to develop skills and personal visions in photography through a variety of theme-based assignments. Students learn digital SLR-camera, file management, image adjustments, and printing. Emphasis on conceptual development.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 383 Video for Art and Design (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 281 or consent of instructor.
Development of theoretical, critical, aesthetic, and historic issues as they relate to time based imagery in contemporary art practice. Students develop technical and visual tools necessary to execute and articulate conceptual ideas and personal visions.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 384 Artist Books: Image & Text (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Any 200-level course in studio art.
Interdisciplinary exploration of art in the book form. Examines the conventions of the written word, the image, and image-text relations. Explores book structures and designs through bookbinding demonstration and hands-on practices.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6
ART 395 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
Investigation of a special studio art/art related project.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Repeat: Course may be repeated

ART 399 Independent Study - Juniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
Individual research projects under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

ART 402 Advanced Studio Practice (3 crs)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Studio course mixing advanced studio students of various disciplines who are researching individually proposed projects. Emphasizes the professional presentation of artwork.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 9 credits
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 404 Advanced Studio - Art Education (1-6 crs)
Prerequisite: ES 350 or ES 354 or consent of instructor
Consent: Department Consent Required
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 12 credits

ART 405 Advanced Three-Dimensional Studio (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.
Topical projects and investigation of personal concepts through a variety of three-dimensional media.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 9 credits

ART 411 Advanced Studio - Life Drawing (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Grade of C+ or above in ART 341.
Consent: Department Consent Required
Students will work from the figure, studying its role in various modes of representation. Structural understanding, exploration of various processes and medium, and working in a range of format and scale are emphasized.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 443 Advanced Studio - Illustration (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 332, ART 341, ART 342.
Consent: Department Consent Required
Studio course focusing on the development of a professional portfolio including promotional materials, the business of illustration, further exploration of imagery and processes, and a greater unity between concept and application. Artist lectures are supplemental.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 458 Advanced Ceramics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 358
Consent: Department Consent Required
This course will focus on individualized concepts of creating in ceramics. Emphasis on the student’s personal exploration of the vessel and/or sculptural forms. Course will prepare students for graduate school and setting up a ceramics studio.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 474 Electronic Media Design II: Multi-Media Interface Concepts (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 375, or CS 163, or CS 245, or CS 319. Limited to art majors and computer science majors and minors.
Studio course applying the concepts of visual communication in electronic media, including experiments of digital animation, digital music and sound effect, and human-computer interactivity.
Attributes: GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 476 Graphic Design VI: Advanced Graphic Communication (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 376 or consent of instructor.
Consent: Department Consent Required
Course involving the use of practical and client-based projects related to print, packaging, multimedia interface, and/or photo-related solutions. Visits to studios and design agencies can be expected.
Attributes: Service-Learning, Full 30 Hours, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6
ART 477 Graphic Design VII: Advanced Portfolio Development (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 374 or ART 376. Limited to graphic design majors.
A graphic design studio course focusing on advanced development of a professional portfolio, informational interview, and exploration of creativity with focused research information in relationship to the professional field.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 478 3-D Computer Animation II (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 378
Extending the depth of understanding from Art 378 in 3-D models and how they are animated in time using intermediate level techniques. Aesthetic and kinetic computer 3-D character images of humans and animals are created.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 481 Advanced Studio-Photography (1-6 crs)
Prerequisite: Two of these 300-level courses: ART 381, ART 382, ART 383, or ART 384
Consent: Department Consent Required
Topical projects and investigation of personal concepts through photographic media.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required
Repeat: Course may be repeated

ART 491 Special Topics (1-3 crs)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Topics depend on interests of students and faculty and are not typically covered in regular art studio courses. Topics may be specific media concerns, art subjects, artmaking procedures, contemporary art concerns, or other issues.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

ART 497 Student Academic Apprenticeship in Art (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: At least six semester credits in the studio area in which the student will apprentice and a grade of B+ or above in the course in which the student will apprentice. Minimum resident and total GPA of 3.30. Minimum senior standing.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Qualified students, selected and supervised by faculty members, facilitate teaching and learning in a specific course. Students enhance their knowledge of art and their ability to communicate that knowledge.
Grading Basis: S/U Only Grade Basis

ART 498 Internship (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to art majors.
Consent: Department Consent Required
Assignment in an area of art to gain practical experience in the technical, research, and/or educational aspects of the discipline(s) involved. Work must build upon research and knowledge developed in other art courses.
Attributes: Internship
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits

ART 499 Independent Study - Seniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum senior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
Individual research projects under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

ART 544 Painting: Space and Process (3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
• Cross-listed with ART 344.
Studio course for the intermediate student exploring materials, techniques, and processes, and their relationships to pictorial and physical space.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 557 Ceramics I (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ART 110 or consent of instructor.
Consent: Department Consent Required
• Cross-listed with ART 357. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
Studio course comprised of introductory experience in mixing clay, making glazes, throwing, hand building, glazing, and methods of firing.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

ART 595 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
• Cross-listed with ART 395.
Investigation of a special studio art/art related project.
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

ARTH 321 Baroque and Rococo Art (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ARTH 112

Study of the architecture, sculpture, and painting in Italy, France, Spain, the Low Countries, Southern Germany, and England in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries—the era of Baroque and Rococo.

Attributes: GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, LE-K4 Fine Arts
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

ARTH 324 Survey of North American Indian Art (3 crs)
Prerequisite: One AIS or ARTH or ART course or consent of instructor. Minimum sophomore standing.

- Credit may not be earned in both ARTH 324 and AIS 324.

A survey of North American Indian artwork in contemporary and historical contexts.

 Attributes: Foreign Culture, Cultural Diversity 2 cr., GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, Field Trip(s) Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

ARTH 327 Nineteenth Century Art (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ARTH 112

Study of the architecture, sculpture, and painting during the nineteenth century.

Attributes: GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, LE-K4 Fine Arts
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

ARTH 333 Themes in Contemporary Art (3 crs)

An investigation of the processes, theories, and historical viewpoints that motivate and structure the content of the current art world.

Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, LE-K4 Fine Arts
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

ARTH 335 Ancient Art and Architecture of Mexico and Central America (3 crs)
Prerequisite: One ART, ARTH, AIS, or LAS course, or consent of instructor.

- Credit may not be earned in both ARTH 335 and AIS 335.

A study of the art and architecture of ancient Mexico and Central America between 2000 BCE - 1600 CE. Focus is on the materials, techniques, styles, and iconography of the art and architecture in relation to the contexts of production, use, and reception.

Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, LE-K4 Fine Arts, Field Trip(s) Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

ARTH 337 Art of Tawantinsuyo (3 crs)
Prerequisite: One ART, ARTH, AIS, or LAS course, or consent of instructor.

- Credit may not be earned in both ARTH 337 and AIS 337.

A study of historical and contemporary art by indigenous artists of Tawantinsuyo, the Quechua name of the Inka empire in western South America. Emphasis is placed on textiles, yet metals and ceramics are also topics.

Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, Field Trip(s) Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

ARTH 350 Art Field Study Programs (1-6 crs)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

- Fee variable.

Travel seminars examining art in this country and abroad.

Attributes: GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits

ARTH 389 Methodologies of Art History (3 crs)
Prerequisite: ARTH 111 and ARTH 112.

This course surveys the major methodologies and approaches that art historians use to construct and interpret the discipline’s content.

Attributes: LE-S3 Creativity
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

ARTH 395 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum 11 credits art history.
Consent: Department Consent Required

The study of an art historical problem or topic approved by the supervising instructor and department chair.

Repeat: Course may be repeated

ARTH 399 Independent Study - Juniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum 12 credits art history.
Consent: Department Consent Required

Individual research project in a specific art history subject under the direction of an art history faculty member.

Repeat: Course may be repeated

ARTH 491 Special Topics (1-3 crs)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

Topics depend on interests of students and faculty and are not typically covered in regular art history courses. Topics may be art historical themes, narrow period studies, national or regional traditions, or other focuses.
ARTH 499 Independent Study - Seniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum 12 credits art history.
Consent: Department Consent Required

Individual research project in a specific art history subject under the direction of an art history faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

ARTH 550 Art Field Study Programs (1-6 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
  • Cross-listed with ARTH 350. Fee variable.

Travel seminars examining art in this country and abroad.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

Biology (BIOL)

BIOL 105 General Biology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after BIOL 100 or BIOL 223.
  • No credit toward biology major or minor. This course cannot serve as a prerequisite for 300-level biology courses.

An integrated presentation of important topics and ideas in modern biology. Designed to serve as a broad introduction to the life sciences.
Attributes: GE IIA Natural Science-Biology, LE-K1 Natural Sciences
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 130 Human Sexual Biology (3 crs)
  • Credit may not be earned in both BIOL 130 and WMNS 130. No credit toward biology major or minor.

Structure, function, control, and coordination of the human reproductive organ system. Formation and function of sex cells. Problems of lactation, fertility, sterility, sexuality, birth control challenges, and human population.
Attributes: GE IIA Natural Science-Biology, LE-K1 Natural Sciences
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 151 Biology of Humans (4 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after or concurrently with BIOL 214.
  • No credit toward biology major or minor.

Basic principles and processes of the human body. Emphasis on human origin and evolution, biomolecules, cells, organ systems and disorders, reproduction, genetics, and the role of humans in the biosphere.
Attributes: GE IIA Natural Science-Biology, Lab Science, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, LE-K1L Natural Sciences with Lab
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

BIOL 180 Environmental Biology and Conservation (3 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after GEOG 178.
  • Satisfies Wisconsin conservation requirement for teaching certificates in science and social science.

An introduction to natural resource conservation. Problems associated with the use and abuse of America’s resources are studied in an ecological framework. Resource management methods are explored.
Attributes: GE IIA Natural Science-Biology, LE-I1 Integration, LE-R3 Civic and Environmental Issues
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 1

BIOL 181 Environmental Biology and Conservation Lab (1 cr)
Prerequisite: Must be taken with BIOL 180.
  • No credit toward biology major or minor.

Laboratory science course intended to be taken with Biology 180, Environmental Biology and Conservation, in order to receive laboratory science credit. Labs and field trips have students explore problems and solutions associated with environmental and conservation of natural resource issues.
Attributes: GE IIA Natural Science-Biology, Lab Science, Service-Learning Optional, Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

BIOL 195 Plants and Society (4 crs)
  • No credit toward biology major or minor.

An introduction to the biology of plants and their use by humans for food, beverage, spices, commercial products, and medicine.
Attributes: GE IIA Natural Science-Biology
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

BIOL 196 Human Nutrition (3 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after BIOL 354.
  • No credit toward biology major or minor.

Introduction to nutrition including coverage of nutrients-functions and sources; digestion and absorption; food guides; obesity and energy needs; diet and chronic disease; hunger in the world and United States; organic foods; sport nutrition; nutrition.
Attributes: Wellness Theory, GE IIA Natural Science-Biology
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 1
Biol 214 Human Anatomy and Physiology I (4 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 103 or CHEM 115 with a grade of C or above.
- No credit toward biology major or minor or pre-professional health science minor unless BIOL 314 is taken.

The fundamentals of bodily function are studied at the cellular, tissue, organ, and organ system levels. Integration of physiological function and anatomical structure will be highlighted in the skeletal, muscular, nervous, and endocrine systems.

Attributes: GE IIA Natural Science-Biology, Lab Science
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

Biol 221 Foundations of Biology I (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 109 or placement into MATH courses above 109; CHEM 103 or CHEM 115 or concurrent enrollment. Credit may not be earned in both BIOL 221 and BIOL 111.

Introduction to cell biology, genetics, evolution, and microbiology.

Attributes: GE IIA Natural Science-Biology, Lab Science, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, LE-K1L Natural Sciences with Lab
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

Biol 222 Foundations of Biology II (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Grade of C or above in BIOL 111 or BIOL 221. Credit may not be earned in both BIOL 222 and BIOL 211.
- Concurrent enrollment in BIOL 223 is strongly recommended.

Introduction to evolution, organismal form and function, and ecology.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

Biol 223 Foundations of Biological Inquiry (2 crs)
Prerequisite: Grade of C or above in BIOL 111 or BIOL 221. Credit may not be earned in both BIOL 223 and BIOL 211.
- Concurrent enrollment in BIOL 222 is strongly recommended.

Introduction to inquiry methods in biology focusing on scientific methods including experimental design, data collection and analysis, and critical thinking.

Attributes: LE-S3 Creativity
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

Biol 250 Microbiology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 214 and one semester of college chemistry. No credit if credit has been earned in BIOL 361.
- No credit toward liberal arts biology major or minor.

Study of the attributes of several microbial groups and their interactions with human systems in the disease process.

Attributes: GE IIA Natural Science-Biology
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

Biol 291 Special Topics in Introductory Biology (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after BIOL 221.

Biological topics of current and special interest not typically covered in an introductory biology course, and of special interest to students and faculty.

Biol 296 Student Academic Experience (1-2 crs)
Prerequisite: Eight credits in biology, with a 3.00 GPA including a grade of B or above in the course in which the teaching experience will occur. Limited to biology majors.

Consent: Instructor Consent Required
- No more than two credits can be counted toward a biology major or minor. A total of four credits may be taken between this course and BIOL 496.

Experience for qualified students, selected and supervised by faculty members, to facilitate teaching and learning in a specific course. Students enhance their knowledge of biology and their ability to communicate that knowledge to other students.

Attributes: Service-Learning, Full 30 Hours
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits
Grading Basis: S/U Only Grade Basis

Biol 302 Cell Biology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 111 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223; CHEM 104 or CHEM 115.

Structure, function, and molecular organization of cells and cell organelles.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

Biol 304 Molecular Biology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 111 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223; CHEM 104 or CHEM 115.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
BIOL 305 Molecular and Cell Biology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: Grades of C or above in BIOL 221, BIOL 222, and BIOL 223; and CHEM 104 or CHEM 115 or consent of instructor
• Credit may not be earned in BIOL 305/BIOL 505 and BIOL 302 or BIOL 305/BIOL
505 and BIOL 304.
Current concepts in molecular/cell biology including structure/function of cells and cell organelles, gene function/regulation, and cell signaling.
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 306 Infectious Disease Ecology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 111 or BIOL 221; and CHEM 104 or CHEM 115. Minimum junior standing.
Introduction to the realities of microbial pathogens in our lives and their relationship to hosts, reservoirs, and environmental factors. Discussion of emerging and re-emerging diseases.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 307 Cell and Molecular Biology Laboratory (2 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 302 or concurrent enrollment.
A lab course introducing various technical aspects of cell and molecular biology. Techniques include cell culture, cell separation, extraction and separation of macromolecules, immunoassay, enzyme assays, immunofluorescence, PCR, and DNA sequencing.
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 4

BIOL 308 Evolution (3 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 111 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223.
An introduction to evolution, including: origin and impact of the theory of evolution, origin of life, genetics and natural selection, molecular evolution, speciation, adaptation, systematics, fossil record, biogeography, species interactions, and human evolution.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 311 General Entomology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 100 or BIOL 211 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL
223.
Study of the structure, function, diversity, ecology, and management of insects.
Field collection and laboratory identification of terrestrial and aquatic insects of Wisconsin.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Field Trip(s) Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 4

BIOL 314 Human Anatomy and Physiology II (4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 214 with a grade of C or above. Minimum sophomore standing.
The fundamentals of bodily function are studied at the cellular, tissue, organ, and organ system levels. Integration of physiological function and anatomical structure will be highlighted in the cardiovascular, respiratory, excretory, digestive, and reproductive systems.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

BIOL 315 Reproductive Physiology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 222 and BIOL 223.
Examination of the principles and mechanisms of reproduction in human.
Social aspects of reproduction, including reproductive biotechnologies and reproductive health will also be discussed.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3 Hours
Lab/Studio Hours: 0 Hours

BIOL 317 Animal Physiology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 211 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223; CHEM
104 or CHEM 115.
Analysis of animal function using physical and chemical principles; homeostatic regulation of the internal environment of animals.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

BIOL 318 Plant Form and Function (4 crs)
Prerequisite: Grades of C or above in BIOL 211, or BIOL 222 and BIOL 223.
Study of the classification, structure, function, development, and behavior of plants in an evolutionary and experimental context.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

BIOL 319 Animal Form and Function (4 crs)
Prerequisite: Grades of C or above in BIOL 211, or BIOL 222 and BIOL 223. No credit if taken after BIOL 301, BIOL 317, BIOL 380, or BIOL 470.
An examination of the comparative biology of animals including their evolution, reproduction, development, physiology, and behavior. Laboratories include an experimental approach to the study of animal form and behavior.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 3
BIOL 320 Studies in Tropical Environments (3 crs)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Extended travel to study the biological diversity and natural history of terrestrial and aquatic organisms from a tropical environment. Emphasis on human impacts to tropical ecosystems.
Attributes: GE IIA Natural Science-Biology, Lab Science, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 4

BIOL 321 Ecology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Grades of C or above in BIOL 211, or BIOL 222 and BIOL 223, or GEOL 312, or GEOG 200. No credit if taken after BIOL 335.
Core concepts and theories in ecology at the individual, population, community, and ecosystems levels and their applications.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 322 Plant Anatomy (4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 211 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223.
The development and structure of cells, tissue, and organs; the structure and growth of meristems; comparative anatomy of stems, roots, and leaves of vascular plants.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 4

BIOL 323 Genetics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 211, or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223, or consent of instructor; and MATH 109 with a grade of C or above or consent of instructor. No credit if taken after BIOL 300/500
Basic principles of heredity and variation; genetic systems, structure and roles of nucleic acids, mutation, allelism, genes in development, genes in populations, and genetics in human life; genetic engineering and genomics.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 325 Plant Systematics (4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 110 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223.
Principles of classification, nomenclature, and determining evolutionary relationships among plants; survey of plant diversity including mosses, ferns, conifers, and flowering plants. Field identification of local flora.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

BIOL 326 Economic Botany (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Grades of C or above in BIOL 211, or BIOL 222 and BIOL 223.
Plants upon which civilization is dependent for food, spices, fiber, shelter, fuel, medicine, and industrial products. Emphasis is on plant biology, use of plants, and relationship of plants to human cultures.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 328 Conservation Biology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOG 178 or BIOL 180, and one introductory (100 or 200-level) biology lab course [includes: BIOL 100, BIOL 151, BIOL 181, BIOL 110, BIOL 111, BIOL 221, or BIOL 222 (if taken with or after BIOL 223)]. Minimum junior standing.
Scientific basis for conserving biological diversity. Explore global efforts in research, education, and advocacy for conserving genes, species, and ecosystems and their ecological and evolutionary processes. Applied engagement in habitat restoration, conservation research, and education.
Attributes: Service-Learning, Half 15 Hours, Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

BIOL 329 Biological Field Experiences and Service-Learning Capstone (1-2 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 110, BIOL 111, and BIOL 211 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223. Minimum junior standing.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
• Capstone for Environmental Science minors or comprehensive majors in Ecology and Environmental Biology.
Group participation and collaboration with a community organization engaging in hands-on work experience or environmental education focusing on protecting/teaching about Wisconsin biodiversity through projects in habitat restoration, research, and education.
Attributes: Service-Learning, Full 30 Hours, Capstone Course, Field Trip(s) Required
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 3 credits

BIOL 330 Population and Community Ecology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 114 and BIOL 211 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223.
• Credit may not be earned in both BIOL 330 and BIOL 435.
Emphasis on theory and empirical research concerning the dynamics and regulation of managed and natural populations. Application of field methods to sample populations and mathematical techniques to study population patterns.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

BIOL 353 Biotechnology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 100 or BIOL 111 or BIOL 221.
Examination of current biotechnology and future potentials. Focus on products, problems, and the profound impact of this science on individuals and society.
Attributes: GE IIA Natural Science-Biology
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 354 Concepts in Advanced Nutrition (3 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 111 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223.
In-depth study of nutrition incorporating more physiological and biochemical concepts than introductory nutrition courses. Coverage of nutrients, functions, and sources; metabolism; energy balance; dietary recommendations and relationship of food intake to chronic disease.
Attributes: Wellness Theory
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 356 Wisconsin Wildlife (4 crs)
Prerequisite: Grades of C or above in BIOL 211, or BIOL 222 and BIOL 223. No credit if taken after BIOL 339, BIOL 340, BIOL 369, BIOL 379, or BIOL 410.
A course designed to provide an overview of Wisconsin vertebrate diversity. Topics include distribution, behavior, ecology, and conservation of Wisconsin species. For students seeking a general understanding of vertebrate biology and skills in field identification.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

BIOL 358 Cellular and Developmental Neuroscience (4 crs)
Prerequisite: Grade of C or above in BIOL 211 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223.
In-depth examination of molecular, cellular and developmental processes in the nervous system. Exposure to the primary literature. Students design, implement and interpret experiments in laboratory. Students will write a proposal based on work in laboratory.
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

BIOL 361 Biology of Microorganisms (5 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 111 or BIOL 221, and one year of chemistry.
Study of microbial taxonomy, physiology, genetics, ecology, and morphology with environmental, industrial, agricultural, and medical applications.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 4

BIOL 362 Field Zoology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 211 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223.
Field trips and laboratories concerned with habitat observation, collection, and identification of local animals, with emphasis on the invertebrates and cold-blooded vertebrates.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

BIOL 365 Animal Behavior (4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 211 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223, or one year of college zoology, or consent of instructor.
Study of animal behavior with emphasis on evolutionary approaches; topics include feeding adaptations, predator-prey interactions, habitat selection, communication, sociality, and mating strategies. Students work together on lab/field exercises and conduct a semi-independent research project.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 4

BIOL 371 Medical Mycology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 111 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223, and one semester of college chemistry. Minimum junior standing.
An introduction to the medically important fungi. Topics include fungal structure; superficial, cutaneous, and systemic mycoses; mechanisms of disease; host response to fungal infections and treatment/prevention.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 376 Aquatic Ecology (3-4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 110 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223. Minimum junior standing.
• BIOL 330 is recommended prior to enrollment in this course. Two Saturday field trips are required.
Ecology of aquatic organisms in lakes and streams. Emphasis is placed on processes shaping the structure and dynamics of freshwater communities. Laboratory experiments and field trips required.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section

BIOL 379 Biology of Fishes (4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 319
Anatomy, physiology, taxonomy, behavior, ecology, and evolution of fishes. Laboratory and field study of local freshwater species.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2
BIOL 380 Endocrinology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 211 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223; CHEM 104 or CHEM 115.
Study of the relationships between histophysiology, chemistry, and disorders of the endocrine system; its interrelationships with the nervous system and how both contribute to bodily homeostasis.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

BIOL 383 Statistical Analysis of Biological Data (3 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 110 and BIOL 111 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223; MATH 111 or MATH 114.
Practical applications of statistics are used to learn concepts and to develop skills. Graphical analysis, parameter estimation, and formal tests of hypotheses performed in the context of real biological studies using powerful statistical software.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

BIOL 384 Biological Investigation (2 crs)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Biological investigation is designed for students participating in undergraduate/faculty collaborative research projects.
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

BIOL 385 Undergraduate Seminar (1 cr)
Prerequisite: Minimum senior standing.
Presentation of current research topics in student-selected subareas of biology.
Attributes: Capstone Course
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 386 Biology Research Methods (3 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 211 or concurrent enrollment in BIOL 211, or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Introduction to the scientific inquiry. Focus on philosophy of science, nature of scientific data, methods of data collection, analysis of data and peer reviewed literature, and communication of scientific results.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 390 Biological Immersion Experience (1-4 crs)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Project-based, field intensive, biological immersion experience focusing on the nature of environmental controls on floral and faunal distribution within a geographic region. Societal influence and interaction with the biological realm will be emphasized.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIA Natural Science-Biology, Lab Science, Service-Learning Optional Half, Field Trip(s) Required
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 8 credits
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

BIOL 395 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum sophomore standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
Directed study of a question or problem of biological interest, approved by the supervising faculty and the department chair.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Repeat: Course may be repeated

BIOL 396 Honors Research (1-7 crs)
Prerequisite: 12 credits and 3.50 GPA in biology courses. Minimum junior standing.
Individual research project under the direction of a research adviser.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 7 credits

BIOL 399 Independent Study - Juniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
Independent study projects under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

BIOL 401 Recombinant DNA Techniques (4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 302 and BIOL 304; CHEM 352 or CHEM 452 and CHEM 453
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
A laboratory course designed to teach methods of cloning and analyzing DNA. Includes purification, restriction, separation, labeling of nucleic acids; cloning in phage and plasmid vectors; selecting and analyzing clones; DNA sequencing; transcript analysis.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 8
BIOL 402 Current Topics in Virology and Immunology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 300, CHEM 325, and one of the following: BIOL 302, BIOL 304, BIOL 361, CHEM 352 or CHEM 452.

Lectures and readings in immunology and virology. Emphasis on the mode of thinking and reasoning that led to earlier solutions. Discussions of current advances in the fields.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 405 Advanced Cell and Molecular Lab (4 crs)

A lab/discussion course teaching methods in molecular/cell biology research using prokaryotic and eukaryotic systems, focusing on DNA/RNA analyses.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 4

BIOL 409 Molecular Genetics (4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 300, BIOL 304, and CHEM 352 or CHEM 452.

Molecular genetics comprehensively integrates biochemistry, molecular, and cellular biology and serves as the culminating biochemistry/molecular biology course. Topics include genomics, developmental genetic systems, organelle genomes, evolutionary genetics, immunogenetics, and medical genetics.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 423 Collaborative Research in Biology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum GPA of 3.0 in the biology major, and completion of at least one upper-division (300-level or higher) biology course. Minimum junior standing. Limited to biology majors and minors.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
- BIOL 383 is highly recommended prior to enrollment in this course.

Students design and implement collaborative research projects to address special topics identified by the instructor. Student researchers will develop hypotheses and design studies to test them. The course emphasizes teamwork, data interpretation, and communication.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

BIOL 435 Advanced Ecology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 335 or consent of instructor.
- Credit may not be earned in both BIOL 330 and BIOL 435.

Advanced topics in physiological, behavioral, population, community, or ecosystem ecology.

Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 8 credits
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 460 Developmental Biology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 300, or BIOL 302, or consent of instructor.

A study of the molecular mechanisms underlying embryogenesis focusing on fertilization, embryonic patterning, cellular differentiation, and organogenesis. Emphasis placed on current experimental techniques and primary literature.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

BIOL 470 Neurobiology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 211 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223.

Basic mechanisms in physiology and development of nervous systems. Introduction to neural systems and their behavioral correlates. Neuroscience methods. Students apply physical and chemical principles to understand nervous system function.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

BIOL 485 Issues in Biology (2 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to biology majors and minors. No credit if taken after BIOL 385 or BIOL 497. Minimum senior standing.

Senior groups will use their education to locate and evaluate research on selected issues. Groups will produce a scholarly background paper, a creative presentation, and lead a discussion.

Attributes: Capstone Course
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 490 Biological Field Studies (1-4 crs)
Prerequisite: One introductory and one upper-division biology course.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

Extended travel to study field biology. Students record notes and data in the field and submit final written and/or oral reports. Field identification quizzes may also be required.

Attributes: Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits

BIOL 491 Special Topics (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.

Lectures, laboratory, or field study covering specific areas not normally discussed in regular classes, and of special interest to students or faculty.

Repeat: Course may be repeated
BIOL 496 Student Academic Apprenticeship (1-2 crs)
Prerequisite: Sixteen credits in biology including the course to be apprenticed with a grade of B or above and 3.00 GPA or higher in biology coursework. Minimum senior standing. Limited to biology majors.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
- No more than two credits can be counted toward a biology major or minor. A total of four credits may be taken between this course and BIOL 296.

For qualified students, selected and supervised by faculty members, to facilitate teaching and learning in a specific course. Apprentices enhance their knowledge of biology and their ability to communicate that knowledge to other students.

Attributes: Service-Learning, Full 30 Hours, Capstone Course
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits
Grading Basis: S/U Only Grade Basis

BIOL 497 Senior Research Presentation (1 cr)
Prerequisite: BIOL 395 or BIOL 399 or BIOL 499 or consent of instructor. Limited to biology majors and minors. Minimum senior standing. No credit if taken after BIOL 385 or BIOL 485.

Capstone for biology majors involved in field or laboratory research. Student will present independent research through an oral presentation or poster given at Student Research Day.

Attributes: Capstone Course
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 498 Internship in Biology (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
- Up to three credits may count in any of the comprehensive or standard majors in biology or biology minors.

Provides supervised on-the-job experience in a biologically-related area of interest.

Attributes: Service-Learning, Full 30 Hours, Internship
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits
Grading Basis: S/U Only Grade Basis

BIOL 499 Independent Study - Seniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum senior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required

Independent study projects under the direction of a faculty member.

Repeat: Course may be repeated

BIOL 505 Molecular and Cell Biology (0 crs)
Prerequisite: Grades of C or above in BIOL 221, BIOL 222, and BIOL 223; and CHEM 104 or CHEM 115 or consent of instructor
- Credit may not be earned in BIOL 305/BIOL 505 and BIOL 302 or BIOL 305/BIOL 505 and BIOL 304.

Current concepts in molecular/cell biology including structure/function of cells and cell organelles, gene function/regulation, and cell signaling.

Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 506 Infectious Disease Ecology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 111 or BIOL 221; and CHEM 104 or CHEM 115.
- Cross-listed with BIOL 306. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Introduction to the realities of microbial pathogens in our lives and their relationship to hosts, reservoirs, and environmental factors. Discussion of emerging and re-emerging diseases.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 511 General Entomology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 100 or BIOL 211 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223.
- Cross-listed with BIOL 311. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Study of the structure, function, diversity, ecology, and management of insects. Field collection and laboratory identification of terrestrial and aquatic insects of Wisconsin.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 4

BIOL 515 Reproductive Physiology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 222 and BIOL 223.
- Cross-listed with BIOL 315. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Examination of the principles and mechanisms of reproduction in human. Social aspects of reproduction, including reproductive biotechnologies and reproductive health will also be discussed.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
BIOL 523 Genetics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after BIOL 300/500
  • Cross-listed with BIOL 323. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Basic principles of heredity and variation; genetic systems, structure and roles of nucleic acids, mutation, allelism, genes in development, genes in populations, and genetics in human life; genetic engineering and genomics.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BIOL 561 Biology of Microorganisms (5 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 111 or BIOL 221, and one year of chemistry. No credit if taken after credit earned in BIOL 250.
  • Cross-listed with BIOL 361. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Study of microbial taxonomy, physiology, genetics, ecology, and morphology with environmental, industrial, agricultural, and medical applications.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 4

---

BIOL 580 Endocrinology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 211 or grades of C or above in BIOL 222 and BIOL 223; CHEM 104 or CHEM 115.
  • Cross-listed with BIOL 380. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Study of the relationships between histophysiology, chemistry, and disorders of the endocrine system; its interrelationships with the nervous system and how both contribute to bodily homeostasis.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

---

BIOL 602 Current Topics in Virology and Immunology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: BIOL 300/Biol 500, CHEM 325, and one of the following: BIOL 302, BIOL 304, BIOL 361/Biol 561, CHEM 352 or CHEM 452/CHEM 652; or consent of instructor.
  • Cross-listed with BIOL 402. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Lectures and readings in immunology and virology. Emphasis on the mode of thinking and reasoning that led to earlier solutions. Discussions of current advances in the fields.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

---

BIOL 704 Research Techniques (2 crs)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

Emphasis on experimental design and specific techniques appropriate to the various subdisciplines in biology.

Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

---

BIOL 791 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

Lectures, laboratory, or field study covering specific areas not normally included in regular classes, and of special interest to students and/or faculty.

Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 7 credits
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

---

BIOL 797 Independent Study (1-3 crs)

Business Communication (BCOM)

BCOM 206 Business Writing (2 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum sophomore standing.
  • Business Writing Fundamentals Program or concurrent enrollment. Students who earn less than a B- (B minus) in BCOM 206 must complete BCOM 216 with a grade of C or above.

Learn to write emails, memos, letters, reports, and employment documents. Adapt messages to existing and emerging technologies. Analyze audiences and use effective techniques to communicate using standard grammar, mechanics, punctuation, and document format.
Attributes: LE-S1 Written and Oral Communication
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BCOM 207 Business Presentations (2 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum sophomore standing.
  • Students who earn less than a B- (B minus) in BCOM 207 must complete BCOM 217 with a grade of C or above.

Students will learn to communicate professionally in meetings, roundtables, project teams, and individual presentations using appropriate psychology, sensitivity, and technology.
Attributes: LE-S1 Written and Oral Communication
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BCOM 216 Business Writing II (2 crs)
Prerequisite: BCOM 206 with a grade of C+ (C plus) or below.
  • Students who earn less than a B- (B minus) in BCOM 206 must complete BCOM 216 with a grade of C or above.

The creation and enhancement of business documents through the application and study of problem solving strategies, analytical skills, and the principles of grammar, mechanics, and punctuation.
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BCOM 217 Business Presentations II (2 crs)
Prerequisite: BCOM 207 with a grade of C+ or below.
  • Students who earn less than a B- (B minus) in BCOM 207 must complete BCOM 217 with a grade of C or above.

Develop your nonverbal, oral, and interpersonal communication skills and learn ways to minimize anxiety, develop organizational skills, and create a professional image for the business world.
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
BCOM 306 Advanced Business Writing (2 crs)
Prerequisite: B- (B minus) or above in BCOM 206 or grade of C or above in BCOM 216.

Further develop your writing skills by creating formal business reports, news releases, instructions, and brochures. Explore writing for print vs. electronic environments. Develop a professional employment portfolio.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BCOM 307 Advanced Business Presentations (2 crs)
Prerequisite: CJ 202; B- (B minus) or above in BCOM 207 or grade of C or above in BCOM 217. Minimum junior standing.

Theory and practice in making presentations in a variety of professional settings using a variety of support media. Student presentations are evaluated.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BCOM 308 Technology for Business Communication (2 crs)
Prerequisite: BCOM 206 or BCOM 216 and BCOM 207 or BCOM 217.

Apply written, oral, and nonverbal communication skills for business purposes through a variety of technologies. Discuss emerging technologies and their effect on communication. Learn to manage information and engage in distance collaboration.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BCOM 317 Administrative Management (3 crs)
The role of the first-line supervisor in the organization is examined. Units with projects covering planning tools, employee selection, orientation and training, office productivity, and job analysis are covered.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BCOM 365 Executive Profile Development (2 crs)
Designed to develop personal and social finesse in students preparing for professional careers. Emphasis on self-image, professionalism, and social etiquette. Units relate to development of the student's job campaign.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BCOM 399 Independent Study - Juniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing. Minimum resident and total GPA 2.75. Consent: Department Consent Required

Individual project under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

BCOM 405 Advanced Business Communications (2 crs)
Prerequisite: BCOM 206 and BCOM 207 or consent of instructor.

An in-depth application of written, oral, and nonverbal communication. The class simulates a business organization involved with preparing, organizing, and delivering communication training seminars. Considerable emphasis on interpersonal and organizational communication within business.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Capstone Course
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

BCOM 490 Internship in Business Communication (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: BCOM 206; BCOM 207. Grade of B- (B minus) or better in both BCOM 206 and BCOM 207. Minimum junior standing. Consent: Department Consent Required

Additional BCOM course work is recommended.

Students gain on-the-job experience in business communication in a supervised professional setting.

Attributes: LE-I1 Integration, Special Course Fee Required
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 3 credits
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

BCOM 491 Selected Topics in Business Communication (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: BCOM 206 or BCOM 216; BCOM 207 or BCOM 217. Minimum junior standing.

Selected topics in business communication chosen because of a special interest on the part of students or faculty.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 3 credits
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

BCOM 495 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)

Permission of department chair for each new topic.

Permits a student or group of students to pursue a defined problem in an intensive way under the direction of departmental faculty members.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No Auditors

BCOM 499 Independent Study - Seniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum senior standing. Minimum resident and total GPA of 2.75. Consent: Department Consent Required

Individual project under the direction of a faculty member.

CHEM 274 Chemical Industry Seminar (1 cr)
Prerequisite: CHEM 104 or CHEM 115 or concurrent registration.

A series of lectures by faculty and industrial speakers introduce students to various chemical and related industries and to the career opportunities and occupational qualifications for careers in chemistry and related fields.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CHEM 296 Student Academic Apprenticeship in Chemistry (1-2 crs)
Prerequisite: Total GPA of 3.0 required.
Consent: Department Consent Required

- Grade of B (3.0) or above in the course in which the student will apprentice. No credit toward chemistry major.

Qualified students, selected and supervised by faculty members, facilitate teaching and learning in a specific course. Students enhance their knowledge of chemistry and their ability to communicate that knowledge.

Attributes: Service-Learning, Full 30 Hours
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits
Grading Basis: S/U Only Grade Basis

CHEM 304 Environmental Chemistry (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 104 or CHEM 115.

A study of the chemistry of the environment, including the atmosphere, natural waters, and soils. Students will refine chemical knowledge by examining specific problems related to environmental issues.

Attributes: GE IIB Natural Science-Chemistry

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CHEM 318 Bioinorganic Chemistry (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 218, CHEM 321, or CHEM 325.

This course will explore the biological chemistry of the transition metals, including metalloprotein structure and function, small-molecule synthetic modeling systems, metal ion trafficking in biological systems, bioorganometallic chemistry, and the uses of metals in medicine.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CHEM 325 Organic Chemistry I with Laboratory (4 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 104 or CHEM 115 with a grade of C or above. No credit if taken after CHEM 321 or CHEM 322.

Introduces molecular structure and bonding, organic nomenclature, acid/base properties of organic compounds, stereochemistry, resonance, mechanisms, and synthetic reactions illustrating functional group interconversion. Microscale laboratory techniques for the preparation, isolation, purification, and characterization of organic compounds.

Attributes: GE IIB Natural Science-Chemistry, Lab Science, Special Course Fee Required

CHEM 326 Organic Chemistry II with Laboratory (4 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 325 with a grade of C or above.

Provides a deeper analysis of organic synthesis and mechanisms, including substitution, elimination, aromatic, carbonyl and enolate chemistry. An emphasis on multistep synthesis and detailed mechanisms. The laboratory component involves advanced purification and synthetic techniques.

Attributes: Special Course Fee Required

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

CHEM 352 Fundamentals of Biochemistry (4 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 326 or concurrent enrollment. Credit may not be earned in both CHEM 352 and CHEM 452.

- No more than six credits from a combination of CHEM 352 and CHEM 454 for chemistry majors, chemistry minors, or biochemistry/molecular biology majors.

This course is designed for nonbiochemistry/molecular biology science majors who require a one semester course in biochemistry. The fundamental chemical, structural, and metabolic aspects of lipids, proteins, carbohydrates, and nucleic acids are covered.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CHEM 361 Molecules and Medicine (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 326 and BIOL 111.

The major classes of medicinally-active natural and synthetic drugs, their structure, design, origin, biosynthesis and mode of action will be presented. This course will also cover basic pharmacology and modern drug design principles.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CHEM 397 Chemical Literature and Communication (2 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to chemistry majors.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

Focuses on modern chemical information literacy, preparing presentations, literature reviews, manuscripts and proposals. May also include chemical safety, ethics, experimental design, formulating research questions.

Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CHEM 399 Independent Study - Juniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required

Individual research projects under the direction of a faculty member.

Repeat: Course may be repeated
CHEM 401 Inorganic Chemistry (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 218; and CHEM 433 or concurrent registration.
Structure, bonding, and reactivity of inorganic compounds. Symmetry and group theory, vibrational analysis, and molecular orbital theory. Arrhenius and Lewis acid/base concepts. Organometallic and bioinorganic compounds, reactions, and mechanisms.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CHEM 405 Applied Physical Chemistry (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 213, CHEM 218, CHEM 326; MATH 111 or MATH 114; PHYS 211, PHYS 212. No credit if taken after CHEM 433 or CHEM 434. No more than four credits can be counted from a combination of CHEM 405, CHEM 406, and CHEM 433 toward any chemistry major or minor.
Includes the following topics, with an emphasis on applications: thermodynamics, kinetics, electrochemistry, phase equilibria, properties of solutions, spectroscopy, and quantum theory.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CHEM 406 Biophysical Chemistry (4 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 352 or CHEM 452; PHYS 212 or PHYS 232; MATH 111 or MATH 114. No credit if taken after CHEM 433 or CHEM 434. No more than four credits can be counted from a combination of CHEM 405, CHEM 406, and CHEM 433 toward any chemistry major or minor.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
An introduction to the physical chemical approaches to studying biological macromolecules. Emphasis will be placed on thermodynamics, and the methods for determining and analyzing the structures and functions of biological macromolecules.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

CHEM 411 Survey of Industrial Chemistry (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 218 and CHEM 326.
- Capstone experience for chemistry with business emphasis majors.
Survey of manufacturing processes, applications, and economics of major inorganic and organic chemicals and polymers, including those involved in the production of plastics, fibers, elastomers, pesticides, pharmaceuticals, detergents, electronics, and pollution control technologies.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Capstone Course, Field Trip(s) Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CHEM 420 Advanced Synthesis Laboratory (2 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 218 and CHEM 323 or CHEM 326. No credit if taken after CHEM 324.
An advanced, interdisciplinary laboratory experience with emphasis on the synthesis, purification, and spectroscopic characterization of inorganic and organic compounds.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

CHEM 426 Modern Organic Chemistry (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 326
Selected advanced topics in organic chemistry, including reaction mechanisms and synthesis, with emphasis on recent developments in the field.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CHEM 433 Physical Chemistry I (4 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 213, CHEM 218; MATH 215; PHYS 232 or concurrent enrollment. No more than four credits can be counted from a combination of CHEM 405, CHEM 406, and CHEM 433 toward any chemistry major or minor.
A quantitative study of the physical properties of matter emphasizing the macroscopic perspective. Topics include: gas behavior, chemical thermodynamics, phase equilibrium, mixtures and solutions, chemical equilibrium, electrochemistry, and chemical kinetics.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CHEM 434 Physical Chemistry II (4 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 433
Continuation of Chemistry 433. The quantitative study of the physical properties of matter emphasizing the microscopic perspective. Topics include: quantum theory, atomic and molecular structure, chemical bonding, molecular symmetry, spectroscopy, resonance techniques, and statistical mechanics.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CHEM 438 Physical Analysis Laboratory (2 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 434 or concurrent registration.
An advanced, project-oriented laboratory course in physical and analytical chemistry. Beyond reinforcing the fundamental concepts in these sub-fields, particular emphasis will be placed on technical writing, and the development of hands-on laboratory skills.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Capstone Course, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6
CHEM 442 Instrumental Analysis (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 218; CHEM 434 or concurrent enrollment and CHEM 438 or concurrent enrollment.

The theory, operation, and analytical applications of chemical instrumentation, including areas such as spectroscopy, separation science, and electrochemistry.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CHEM 444 Modern Applied Separations and Spectrometry (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 213, CHEM 218, and CHEM 326 or concurrent enrollment.

Laboratory-centered instruction in the application of modern chromatography (GC and HPLC) spectrometry (MS, UV/Vis and FT-IR) to the analysis of real-world samples. Emphasis on preparation to BS-level careers in chemical industry.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

CHEM 452 Biochemistry I (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 323 or CHEM 326. Credit may not be earned in both CHEM 352 and CHEM 452.

Chemistry of important constituents of living matter. Topics include proteins, carbohydrates, lipids, and nucleic acids. Also included are bioenergetics and basic enzyme kinetics and mechanism.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CHEM 453 Biochemistry Laboratory (2 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 213; CHEM 452 or concurrent registration.

Consent: Instructor Consent Required

Study of experimental methods of analysis in biochemistry and their use in determination of structure and function.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CHEM 454 Biochemistry II (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 452

Study of advanced concepts in biochemistry, especially those involving metabolism and their regulatory mechanism of action.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CHEM 460 Polymer Chemistry (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Grade of C or above in CHEM 326.

An introduction to synthetic and naturally occurring polymers with a focus on synthesis, analysis, and structure/property relationships. The history and development of polymers will be discussed as well as the impact on industry and society.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CHEM 491 Special Topics (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.

Consent: Instructor Consent Required

Lectures with possible laboratory work covering specific areas not normally discussed in regular classes, and of special interest to students or faculty. Possible topics include medicinal chemistry, wastewater chemistry and applied spectroscopy.

Attributes: Special Course Fee Required

CHEM 495 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: 15 credits in college CHEM courses.

Consent: Department Consent Required

Course projects will be structured to fit the needs, interests, and goals of the students.

Repeat: Course may be repeated

CHEM 497 Independent Study (ACS) (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.

Consent: Department Consent Required

Individual research projects under the direction of a faculty member. A comprehensive written report describing the work completed, including an appropriate bibliography, is required.

Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits

CHEM 499 Independent Study - Seniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum senior standing.

Consent: Department Consent Required

Individual research projects under the direction of a faculty member.

Repeat: Course may be repeated

Chinese (CHIN)
CHIN 101 Beginning Chinese (4 crs)
Prerequisite: Placement Test Required
An introduction to the language and culture of China. Includes basic grammar with practical application to all language skills: listening, speaking, reading, writing.
Attributes: GE IA Communication-Language Arts, LE-S1 Written and Oral
Communication
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 1

CHIN 102 Beginning Chinese (4 crs)
Prerequisite: CHIN 101 or suitable placement score on the Chinese Placement
Exam.
Continuation of Chinese 101.
Attributes: GE IA Communication-Language Arts, LE-S1 Written and Oral
Communication
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 1

CHIN 110 Intensive Beginning Chinese (Mandarin) (16 crs)
- Taught only at Jinan University, Guangzhou, China.
Emphasis on basic vocabulary, grammar, speaking, listening, and writing.
Attributes: GE IA Communication-Language Arts
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 16
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

CHIN 201 Intermediate Chinese (4 crs)
Prerequisite: CHIN 102 or suitable placement score on the Chinese Placement
Exam.
Review of basic Chinese grammar and vocabulary; translation; conversation;
writing; Chinese calligraphy.
Attributes: GE IA Communication-Language Arts
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 1

CHIN 202 Intermediate Chinese (4 crs)
Prerequisite: CHIN 201 or suitable placement score on the Chinese Placement
Exam.
Continuation of Chinese 201.
Attributes: GE IA Communication-Language Arts
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 1
CHIN 210 Intensive Intermediate Chinese (Mandarin) (16 crs)

Prerequisite: CHIN 110

Taught only at Jinan University, Guangzhou, China.

Development of fundamental skills in vocabulary, grammar, speaking, listening, and writing. Continuation of Chinese 110.

Attributes: GE IA Communication-Language Arts

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 16

Lab/Studio Hours: 6

Collaborative Nursing (CND)

CND 310 Bridge to Professional Nursing (2 crs)

Consent: Department Consent Required

Introductory course for the BSN completion students with emphasis on self as a professional and the context of the discipline of professional nursing.

Attributes: BSN Completion Program, Higher Cost Per Credit, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2

Lab/Studio Hours: 0

---

CND 407 Foundations of Professional Nursing Practice (3 crs)

Prerequisite: Limited to BSN completion program students admitted to the College of Nursing and Health Sciences.

Consent: Department Consent Required

Philosophical perspectives, theories, and standards are applied to the practice of professional nursing. Factors influencing nursing/health care delivery are analyzed. Professional communication skills are enhanced. This is a writing emphasis course.

Attributes: BSN Completion Program, Higher Cost Per Credit, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section

Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3

Lab/Studio Hours: 0

---

CND 441 Chronic Care Management (3 crs)

Prerequisite: Limited to BSN completion program students admitted to the College of Nursing and Health Sciences.

Consent: Department Consent Required

Exploration of interaction of biological, psychological, social, and environmental factors important to understanding management of chronic conditions at the individual, family, community, and societal levels.

Attributes: BSN Completion Program, Higher Cost Per Credit, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section

Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3

Lab/Studio Hours: 0

---

CND 446 Research and Evidence-Based Practice (3 crs)

Prerequisite: MATH 246 with a grade of C or above or equivalent; Limited to BSN completion program students admitted to the College of Nursing and Health Sciences.

Consent: Department Consent Required

This course introduces the importance of research to improve clinical practice, strategies to evaluate the quality of research and evidence, and increase integration of research into practice.

Attributes: BSN Completion Program, Higher Cost Per Credit, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section

Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3

Lab/Studio Hours: 0

---

CND 447 Leadership & Management (3 crs)

Prerequisite: Limited to BSN completion program students admitted to the College of Nursing and Health Sciences.

Consent: Department Consent Required

Examines nursing leadership and management using relevant theories and concepts. Analyze decision-making in relation to communication, delegation, supervision and group process.

Attributes: BSN Completion Program, Higher Cost Per Credit, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section

Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3

Lab/Studio Hours: 0

---

CND 453 Information Management and Healthcare Technology (3 crs)

Prerequisite: Limited to BSN completion program students admitted to the College of Nursing and Health Sciences.

Consent: Department Consent Required

Utilize computer and information/decision science to support quality and safety in health care. Explores informatics issues and examine nursing’s role in healthcare technology. Opportunities to use and master various healthcare technologies and healthcare data.

Attributes: BSN Completion Program, Higher Cost Per Credit, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section

Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3

Lab/Studio Hours: 0

---

CND 454 Community Health Nursing (3 crs)

Prerequisite: Limited to BSN completion program students admitted to the College of Nursing and Health Sciences.

Consent: Department Consent Required

Nursing care of populations and communities to facilitate optimal health outcomes.

Attributes: BSN Completion Program, Higher Cost Per Credit, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section

Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3

Lab/Studio Hours: 0
CND 480 Nursing within Systems: Analysis and Application (4 crs)
Prerequisite: CND 310 and CND 407 both with a grade of C or above. Limited to BSN completion program students admitted to the College of Nursing and Health Sciences.

Capstone course for BSN completion students. Focuses on provision of quality care within a global and culturally diverse society, leadership within interdisciplinary systems of care, and provision of care in public health or community settings.

Attributes: LE-I1 Integration, LE-S3 Creativity, Service-Learning, Full 30 Hours, Capstone Course, BSN Completion Program, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

CND 490 Special Topics (2-4 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required

Variable content course designed to allow either breadth of study in topics not covered in core nursing courses or depth of investigation in particular nursing and health care issues. Interests of faculty provide topics.

Attributes: Cultural Diversity Variable, BSN Completion Program, Higher Cost Per Credit, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 12 credits

CND 495 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to BSN completion program students.
Consent: Department Consent Required

Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits

CND 499 Independent Study (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to BSN completion program students. Minimum resident and total GPA of 3.00. Minimum senior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required

Individual project under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits

Communication & Journalism (CJ)

CJ 100 Introduction to Forensics (1 cr)
- May be taken once for credit and in combination with CJ 200 for total of four credits.

Basic preparation for participation in intercollegiate forensics. Exposure to the fundamentals of competitive forensics events: public address, limited prep, interpretation of literature. Required minimum travel to one intercollegiate tournament. Designed for limited competition.

Attributes: Activity
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 1

CJ 105 Communication in Contemporary Society (3 crs)

Critical analysis of the roles of producers and consumers of messages in interpersonal, group, organizational, and mass communication. Emphasizes social, economic, and political implications of media convergence in a democratic and global society.

Attributes: GE IA Communication-Language Arts, LE-K3 Humanities
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CJ 111 Gender, Race, Class, and Communication: The Social Construction of Identity (3 crs)
- Credit may not be earned in both CJ 111 and WMNS 111.

Students investigate ways in which perceptions of, and experiences with, gender, race, and class are communicatively constructed. Focus on communication theories and methods and how gender, race, and class influence personal, group, and organizational communication.

Attributes: Cultural Diversity 1 cr., GE IA Communication-Language Arts, LE-DDIV Design for Diversity, LE-I1 Integration, LE-R1 Equity, Diversity, and Inclusivity
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CJ 184 Multimedia Communication (3 crs)

The course will introduce students to the various media, key concepts and practices used to deliver mediated messages, including print, photo, audio, video and web technologies.

Attributes: LE-S3 Creativity, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

CJ 201 Introduction to Interpersonal Communication (3 crs)

Emphasizes knowledge of the factors and processes affecting communication in relatively unstructured face-to-face contexts, and the development of communication skill in those contexts. Topics include relationships, conflict, self-concept, and self-presentation.

Attributes: GE IA Communication-Language Arts, LE-K2 Social Sciences, LE-S1 Written and Oral Communication
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
CJ 202 Fundamentals of Speech (3 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after CJ 204. No credit toward major or minor in Journalism, Integrated Strategic Communication or Communication: Organizational Communication emphasis if taken after CJ 203.
Fundamentals of effective public speaking from both speaker and listener perspectives. Preparation, presentation, and evaluation of student speeches. Special attention given to topics related to cultural diversity.
Attributes: GE IA Communication-Language Arts, LE-S1 Written and Oral Communication
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CJ 203 Fundamentals of Human Communication (3 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit for Communication: Communication Studies major. No credit for major/ minor in Journalism, Integrated Strategic Communication, Communication: Organizational Communication or Communication: Communication studies minor if taken after CJ 202.
Communication competence enhanced through introduction to human communication knowledge and relational, group, and public speaking skills. Addresses benefits of communication skills in students' professional, civic, and personal lives.
Attributes: GE IA Communication-Language Arts, LE-S1 Written and Oral Communication
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CJ 205 Listening (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Completion of University Writing Requirement. Minimum sophomore standing.
Analysis of the nature, process, barriers to, and improvement of listening skills. Frequent testing and measuring of students' listening skills will occur. Listener and message variables as related to comprehension are discussed.
Attributes: GE IA Communication-Language Arts, LE-S1 Written and Oral Communication
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CJ 206 Human Communication Theory (3 crs)
Theoretical genres for the study, analysis, and practice of effective communication. General theories of human communication, contextual theories of interpersonal, group, organizational, public, and mass communication.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CJ 207 Introduction to Rhetoric and Society (3 crs)
A survey of the role of persuasive messages in society, with attention to classical foundations and a focus on tools for thinking critically about contemporary communication.
Attributes: GE IA Communication-Language Arts, LE-K3 Humanities, LE-R3 Civic and Environmental Issues
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CJ 222 Beginning Journalism (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Completion of University Writing Requirement. Grades of C or above in CJ 105 and CJ 184. Minimum sophomore standing.
Credit may not be earned in both CJ 222 and CJ 235.
Introduction to news writing, reporting and editing across media platforms. Emphasis on the foundational principles, practices and purpose of journalism. Accuracy, verification, deadlines, information-gathering, news judgment, balanced and independent reporting are stressed. Selected news coverage of community required.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

CJ 241 Audio and Video Production Process (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Completion of University Writing Requirement.
Strategies for communicating messages and ideas via the radio and television media; introduction to basic radio and television production equipment, techniques, and vocabulary.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

CJ 250 Introduction to Organizational Communication (3 crs)
Communication theories, concepts, skills, and insights required of organizational newcomers are emphasized.
Attributes: GE IA Communication-Language Arts, LE-K2 Social Sciences
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CJ 260 Introduction to Integrated Strategic Communication (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Grade of C or above in CJ 184. Completion of University Writing Requirement. Minimum sophomore standing.
Introduces students to how organizations use strategic communications to build reputation and manage their brand. Emphasizes multimedia.
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 1
CJ 273 Creative and Narrative Nonfiction (3 crs)
- Credit may not be earned in both CJ 273 and ENGL 273.

Survey of nonfiction works (reportage, autobiography, travel, and nature writing) which combines factual reporting with literary techniques to reveal American society.

Attributes: LE-K4 Fine Arts
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CJ 280 Visual Communication (3 crs)
A survey of visual messages in a variety of media. Emphasis on evaluating the internal qualities of visual communication—shape, type, color—and external qualities such as history and culture.

Attributes: GE IA Communication-Language Arts
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CJ 284 Introduction to Photography (3 crs)
- Audit by permission of instructor only.

A beginning course in working with camera capture and output using current software and hardware digital technologies. Color theory and historical perspective included. The course will emphasize producing a portfolio of photojournalistic work.

Attributes: LE-S3 Creativity, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

CJ 300 Research Methods (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Completion of 45 credits; Grades of C or above in CJ 105 or CJ 184 and one of the following: CJ 206, CJ 222, CJ 250, CJ 260, CJ 265, or CJ 270. Limited to communication and integrated strategic communication majors and minors.

Study of research methods, quantitative and qualitative measurement techniques, and data analysis methods common to the fields of communication and mass communication. Emphasis on basic information-gathering and research skills needed to design, conduct and critically consume research.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 1

CJ 303 Research Methods for Journalists (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Grade of C or above in CJ 321 or concurrent enrollment; grades of C or above in CJ 184 and CJ 222. Limited to journalism majors and minors.

Study of research methods for critically analyzing, gathering, calculating, and displaying data (quantitative and qualitative) for informative and interesting news stories.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 1

CJ 306 Topics in Advanced Interpersonal Communication (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Grade of C or above in CJ 201 or CJ 203, or consent of instructor.

In-depth exploration of interpersonal theory, research, and concepts. Topics may include conflict and communication, family communication, and others.

Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 9 credits
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CJ 307 Small Group Communication (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum sophomore standing.

Theories, concepts, and skills to improve small group communication. Includes principles of group dynamics, decision-making, problem-solving, interpersonal conflict, leadership, and team-building.

Attributes: GE IA Communication-Language Arts, LE-R3 Civic and Environmental Issues, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering

Syntax, grammatical rules beyond basic ASL. Introductory concepts and terminology of linguistics. ASL sociolinguistics: variation, historical linguistics, bilingualism and language contact. Relevant for students interested in studying elsewhere in the future for interpreter certification.
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 311 Language Development and Disorders: Related Disciplines (3 crs)
• No credit for communication sciences and disorders majors.
Biological, cognitive, perceptual, and social bases of language development. Developmental skills and processes related to components of the language system. Language interaction with learning and teaching including identification of deficits and language enhancing strategies.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
CSD 321 Aural Rehabilitation (3 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after CDIS 376/CDIS 576. Minimum resident and total GPA of 2.50.
• CSD 373 is recommended prior to enrollment in this course.

Effects of hearing loss on perceptual, cognitive, communicative, educational, occupational, social, and emotional aspects of life, for all age ranges, are studied. Common intervention techniques associated with hearing loss are presented.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 326 Voice and Resonance Disorders (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CSD 256 and CSD 353. Minimum resident and total GPA of 2.50.

Normal aspects of respiration, phonation, and resonance. Causes and characteristics of various voice and resonance disorders. Introduction to the prevention, evaluation, and treatment of voice and resonance disorders. Introduction to speech/voice instrumentation.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 331 Child Language Disorders (4 crs)
Prerequisite: CSD 257

Characteristics of language disorders in children from birth through adolescence as well as assessment and intervention strategies appropriate for that population.

Attributes: Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 332 Fluency Disorders (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum resident and total GPA of 2.50.

The nature and theories of stuttering and other fluency disorders. Clinical intervention for people who stutter and understanding how theories can be clinically useful.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 353 Speech and Hearing Science (3 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after CDIS 253. Minimum sophomore standing.

This course will introduce students to basic acoustics, psychoacoustics, and acoustics of voice and speech production. Lecture, discussion and labs will be used in instruction.

Attributes: Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 1

CSD 358 Phonological Disorders (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CSD 257 and CSD 262. Minimum resident and total GPA of 2.50.

This course addresses the nature, assessment, and treatment of phonological disorders in children and dialect variations of phonology in adults.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 370 Clinical Procedures in Communication Disorders (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CSD 331 or CSD 358. Minimum CSD GPA of 3.50. Minimum total GPA of 3.00.
Consent: Department Consent Required

Basic information and skills necessary for functioning in clinical situations. Topics include: preparation of goals and objectives, report writing, counseling, clinical equipment and materials, professional organizations and behavior, and observation. Twenty-five clinical observation hours accrued.

Attributes: Special Course Fee Required, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 373 Basic Audiology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum resident and total GPA of 2.50.
• CSD 256 and CSD 353 are recommended prior to enrollment in this course.

Introduction to audiology, including anatomy and physiology, pathologies of hearing, basic evaluation, differential evaluation, physiological procedures, nonorganic hearing loss, pediatric evaluation, hearing conservation, and rehabilitation. Emphasis upon pure tone thresholds, speech audiometry, and masking.

Attributes: Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
CSD 378 Introduction to Sign Language (3 crs)
• Open to all undergraduate students.

An introduction to various systems of manual communication with a strong emphasis on developing beginning skills in Signing Exact English and fingerspelling.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 399 Independent Study - Juniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required

Individual project under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

CSD 410 Communication Changes and Disorders of the Older Adult (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.
• Open to all undergraduate students.

Normal aging and its effects on speech, voice, oral motor skills, language, and hearing. Overview of the nature and treatment of communication disorders of the older adult. Physiological, psychological, and sociological aspects will be considered.

Attributes: GE V University Wide, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 411 Facilitating Communication in Preschool Children (2 crs)
Prerequisite: CSD 257 or equivalent course is required prior to enrollment in this course.
• Open to all undergraduate students.

Foundations for the evaluation of preschool children, program planning, and program implementation in early childhood/special needs classrooms. Focus includes contexts for communication, content and sequence of communication programs, and techniques for facilitating communication.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 415 Instructional Internship in Communication Disorders (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: 3.00 GPA or higher in CSD coursework. Limited to CSD majors.
Consent: Department Consent Required

Selected student develops professional skills by providing assistance to faculty member, enhancing teaching and learning of students in a course. Plan based on student-faculty contract. Three hours of participation per week per credit.

Attributes: Internship
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits

CSD 419 Assistive Technology and Augmentative and Alternative Communication (2 crs)
Prerequisite: CSD 257 or CSD 311/CSD 511.

Augmentative and alternative communication, plus assistive technologies for adapted play, environmental control, mobility, and work site modifications are explored across disabilities and lifespan. Current research, public policy issues, and effective clinical practices will be emphasized.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 435 Research Seminar in Communication Sciences and Disorders (2 crs)
Prerequisite: Grade of B or above in MATH 246 or PSYC 265. Minimum total GPA of 3.5. Minimum junior standing.
• Required course for students enrolled in CSD Department Honors Program.

CSD Department Honors students must register for this course as an Honors Contract.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
An advanced-level research seminar to explore the scientific method as it applies to clinical, educational, and social science research. Topics include evidence-based practice, literature searches, developing scientific questions and hypotheses, and evaluating research.
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 440 Neurological Aspects of Communication (2 crs)
Prerequisite: CSD 256. Minimum 2.50 resident and total GPA. Minimum senior standing.

Neuroanatomical and neurophysiological bases of communication with an emphasis on normal aspects.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 448 Aphasia and Related Disorders (2 crs)
Prerequisite: CSD 440/CSD 640

Differential diagnosis and treatment of the aphasias and related language disorders.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
CSD 470 Clinical Practicum in Communication Disorders I (2 crs)
Prerequisite: CSD 370; and CSD 331 or CSD 358. Minimum CSD GPA of 3.50. Minimum resident and total GPA of 3.00. Consent: Department Consent Required
Capstone course in treatment of speech and language disorders. With supervisory guidance, students earn hours conducting assessment and treatment activities in the Center for Communication Disorders.
Attributes: LE-I1 Integration, LE-S3 Creativity, Service-Learning, Full 30 Hours, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Capstone Course
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

CSD 473 Applications in Audiology (2 crs)
Prerequisite: CSD 373
• No credit if taken after CDIS 495/CDIS 695 (Fall 2002) as Audiology Practices.
Practical application of audiology practices for Speech Language Pathology and Audiology students are presented. There is a special emphasis on screening for hearing loss, middle ear disorder screening, auditory processing disorder, auditory training, and amplification.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 485 Serving Diverse Populations (2 crs)
Prerequisite: CSD 370 or concurrent enrollment.
This course will heighten students' awareness of issues in diversity and will also introduce students to knowledge and skills relevant to serving diverse populations across diversity dimensions, lifespan, and service settings.
Attributes: Cultural Diversity 2 cr., Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 495 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
Permits groups of students to study topics of mutual interest in the field of communication disorders.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Repeat: Course may be repeated

CSD 499 Independent Study - Seniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum senior standing. Consent: Department Consent Required
Individual project under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

CSD 511 Language Development and Disorders: Related Disciplines (3 crs)
• Cross-listed with CSD 311. Credit may not be earned in both courses. No credit for communication sciences and disorders majors.
Biological, cognitive, perceptual, and social bases of language development. Developmental skills and processes related to components of the language system. Language interaction with learning and teaching including identification of deficits and language enhancing strategies.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 521 Aural Rehabilitation (3 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after CDIS 376/CDIS 576.
• Cross-listed with CSD 321. Credit may not be earned in both courses. No credit if taken after CDIS 376/CDIS 576. CSD 373 or a basic audiology course is recommended prior to enrollment in this course.
Effects of hearing loss on perceptual, cognitive, communicative, educational, occupational, social, and emotional aspects of life, for all age ranges, are studied. Common intervention techniques associated with hearing loss are presented.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 526 Voice and Resonance Disorders (3 crs)
• Cross-listed with CSD 326. Credit may not be earned in both courses. CSD 256 and CSD 353 or equivalent courses are required prior to enrollment in this course.
Normal aspects of respiration, phonation, and resonance. Causes and characteristics of various voice and resonance disorders. Introduction to the prevention, evaluation, and treatment of voice and resonance disorders. Introduction to speech/voice instrumentation.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 552 Fluency Disorders (3 crs)
• Cross-listed with CSD 352. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
The nature and theories of stuttering and other fluency disorders. Clinical intervention for people who stutter and understanding how theories can be clinically useful.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
CSD 558 Phonological Disorders (3 crs)
• Cross-listed with CSD 358. Credit may not be earned in both courses. CSD 257 and CSD 262 or equivalent courses are required prior to enrollment in this course.

This course addresses the nature, assessment, and treatment of phonological disorders in children and dialect variations of phonology in adults.

Attributes: Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 578 Introduction to Sign Language (3 crs)
• Open to all students. Cross-listed with CSD 378. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

An introduction to various systems of manual communication with a strong emphasis on developing beginning skills in Signing Exact English and fingerspelling.

Attributes: Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 610 Communication Changes and Disorders of the Older Adult (3 crs)
• Open to all students. Cross-listed with CSD 410. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Normal aging and its effects on speech, voice, oral motor skills, language, and hearing. Overview of the nature and treatment of communication disorders of the older adult. Physiological, psychological, and sociological aspects will be considered.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 619 Assistive Technology and Augmentative and Alternative Communication (2 crs)
• Cross-listed with CSD 419. Credit may not be earned in both courses. CSD 257 or CSD 311/CSD 511 or equivalent course is required prior to enrollment in this course. No credit for communication sciences and disorders comprehensive majors.

Augmentative and alternative communication, plus assistive technologies for adapted play, environmental control, mobility, and work site modifications are explored across disabilities and lifespan. Current research, public policy issues, and effective clinical practices will be emphasized.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 640 Neurological Aspects of Communication (2 crs)
• Cross-listed with CSD 440. Credit may not be earned in both courses. CSD 256 or equivalent course is required prior to enrollment in this course.

Neuroanatomical and neurophysiological bases of communication with an emphasis on normal aspects.

Attributes: Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 648 Aphasia and Related Disorders (2 crs)
• Cross-listed with CSD 448. Credit may not be earned in both courses. CSD 440/ CSD 660 or equivalent course is required prior to enrollment in this course.

Differential diagnosis and treatment of the aphasias and related language disorders.

Attributes: CSD MS Online Flat Rate Tuition, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 670 Clinical Practicum in Communication Disorders I (2 crs)
Prerequisite: CSD 370 and CSD 331 or CSD 358. Consent: Department Consent Required
• Cross-listed with CSD 470.

Capstone course in treatment of speech and language disorders. With supervisory guidance, students earn hours conducting assessment and treatment activities in the Center for Communication Disorders.

Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 2
CSD 673 Applications in Audiology (2 crs)
- Cross-listed with CSD 473. Credit may not be earned in both courses. CSD 373 or equivalent course is required prior to enrollment in this course.

Practical application of audiology practices for Speech Language Pathology and Audiology students are presented. There is a special emphasis on screening for hearing loss, middle ear disorder screening, auditory processing disorder, auditory training, and amplification.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 685 Serving Diverse Populations (2 crs)
Prerequisite: CSD 370 or concurrent enrollment
- Cross-listed with CSD 485. Credit may not be earned in both courses. CSD 370 or equivalent course is required prior to enrollment in this course.

This course will heighten students' awareness of issues in diversity and will also introduce students to knowledge and skills relevant to serving diverse populations across diversity dimensions, lifespan, and service settings.

CSD 695 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
- Cross-listed with CSD 495.

Permits groups of students to study topics of mutual interest in the field of communication disorders.

Attributes: Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

CSD 706 Language Assessment (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to students admitted to the Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) graduate program or consent of instructor.

Assessment of language disorders: differences and delay addressed through representative case studies, contributing and perpetuating factors, test selection, test biases, hypothesis formulation, data interpretation, legal guidelines, and information dissemination explored.

Attributes: CSD MS Online Flat Rate Tuition, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 710 Clinical Methods in Communication Sciences and Disorders (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to students admitted to the Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) graduate program or consent of instructor.

Learn and practice clinical methods in communication sciences and disorders including: technology for diagnostics and treatment, compliance and reflection activities, operating within a medical setting, and collaborating across the discipline.

Attributes: CSD MS Online Flat Rate Tuition, Special Course Fee Required, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 1

CSD 715 Research in Communication Sciences and Disorders (2 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to students admitted to the Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) graduate program or consent of instructor.

Application of information about research procedures to the profession of communication disorders. Preparation of students to function as consumers and producers of research.

Attributes: CSD MS Online Flat Rate Tuition
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 716 Essential Applications for Graduate Studies in Communication Sciences and Disorders (1 cr)
Prerequisite: Limited to students admitted to the Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) graduate program or consent of instructor.

Learn about and participate in activities associated with critical applications related to the field of communication sciences and disorders including: technology, principles of measurement, ASHA Code of Ethics, and professionalism/clinical disposition.

Attributes: Special Course Fee Required
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

CSD 721 Seminar: Childhood Apraxia of Speech (1 cr)
Prerequisite: CSD 358 or equivalent course. No credit if taken after CSD 732. Limited to CSD ONLINE program graduate students.

Addresses characteristics, assessment, intervention and issues related to childhood apraxia of speech.

Attributes: CSD MS Online Flat Rate Tuition, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Seminar Hours: 1
CSD 722 Seminar: Accent Addition (1 cr)
Prerequisite: CSD 262, CSD 331, and CSD 358 or equivalent courses. No credit if taken after CSD 732. Limited to CSD ONLINE program graduate students.
Addresses characteristics, assessment, intervention and issues related to accent modification/addition with non-native English speakers.
Attributes: CSD MS Online Flat Rate Tuition, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
Seminar Hours: 1

CSD 725 Counseling in Communication Disorders (2 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to students admitted to the Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) graduate program or consent of instructor.
Knowledge, skills, and attitudes important for speech-language pathologists in counseling individuals with communication disorders and their families.
Attributes: CSD MS Online Flat Rate Tuition, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 726 Organic Voice and Speech Disorders (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to students admitted to the Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) graduate program or consent of instructor.
Assessment and treatment of organic voice disorders; speech/voice rehabilitation after head and neck cancer; and nature, assessment, and treatment of craniofacial anomalies. Various syndromes with associated speech/voice disorders are covered.
Attributes: CSD MS Online Flat Rate Tuition
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 729 Augmentative and Alternative Communication and Assistive Technology for Speech-Language Pathologists (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to students admitted to the Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) graduate program or consent of instructor.
Assessment, intervention, and management of individuals across the lifespan who require multi-modal communication systems.
Attributes: CSD MS Online Flat Rate Tuition
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 730 Seminar: Language Theories (2 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to students admitted to the Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) graduate program or consent of instructor.
Major language and cognitive theories are examined as explanations of language acquisition and language use as well as clinical applications.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 731 Seminar: Child/Adolescent Language Intervention (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to students admitted to the Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) graduate program or consent of instructor.
• CSD 257 and CSD 331 or equivalent courses are required prior to enrollment in this course.
Focuses on intervention strategies, service delivery models, and current issues in providing services for children and adolescents with developmental language disorders, including autism spectrum disorder.
Attributes: CSD MS Online Flat Rate Tuition, Special Course Fee Required, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Seminar Hours: 3

CSD 732 Seminar: Child/Adult Speech Intervention (2 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to students admitted to the Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) graduate program or consent of instructor.
• CSD 358 or equivalent course.
Primarily addresses characteristics and issues related to dialect and accent modification/addition with adult clients and childhood apraxia of speech with children.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 737 Dysphagia (2 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to students admitted to the Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) graduate program or consent of instructor.
• CSD 440/CSD 640 or equivalent course is required prior to enrollment in this course.
Normal and abnormal anatomy and physiology of swallowing. Evaluation and treatment of swallowing disorders, with primary emphasis on the adult population. Discussion of issues in service delivery, treatment efficacy, and treatment ethics.
Attributes: CSD MS Online Flat Rate Tuition, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
CSD 743 Supervision and Clinical Instruction in Communication Sciences and Disorders: The Basics (1 cr)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after CSD 744.
Consent: Department Consent Required

A detailed study of the variables related to supervision and clinical instruction in speech-language pathology. Topics include models of supervision, issues related to dispositions and generational mindsets, as well as providing formative and summative feedback to practicum students.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 744 Supervision and Clinical Instruction in Communication Sciences and Disorders: Advanced Issues (1 cr)
Prerequisite: CSD 743 or other intro supervision course.
Consent: Department Consent Required

A detailed study of the advanced variables related to supervision and clinical instruction in speech-language pathology. Topics include using technology and other tools for supervision and feedback, conflict resolution, multicultural issues, mentoring Clinical Year Fellowships, and self-assessment.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 745 Topics in Speech-Language-Hearing (2 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to students admitted to the Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) graduate program or consent of instructor.

Topics covered will be determined by selecting from current professional, clinical, and research domains in the field of communication disorders.

Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 746 Seminar in Language Disorders (2 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to students admitted to the Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) graduate program or consent of instructor.

In-depth study of topics in language disorders. Topics will be selected from current professional, clinical, and research domains in the field of communication disorders (e.g., specific language impairment, language, and literacy).

Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 747 Seminar in Speech Disorders (2 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to students admitted to the Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) graduate program or consent of instructor.

Topics will be selected from current professional, clinical, and research areas in speech disorders (e.g., stuttering or phonology/articulation).

Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 748 Motor Speech Disorders (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to students admitted to the Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) graduate program or consent of instructor.

• CSD 440/CSD 640 or equivalent course is required prior to enrollment in this course.

Attributes: CSD MS Online Flat Rate Tuition
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 749 Birth to 21 Methods in Communication Disorders (4 crs)
• CSD 770 or equivalent course is required prior to enrollment in this course.

Roles, responsibilities, legislation, historical perspectives, and current events related to school and non-school settings serving children. Discussion and practical application focused on methods specific to working with ages birth to 21 years with communication disorders.

Attributes: Special Course Fee Required
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 750 Rehabilitation Methods in Communication Disorders (2 crs)
• CSD 770 or equivalent course is required prior to enrollment in this course.

Issues related to the rehabilitation processes including the structure of institutions, interdisciplinary approaches, documentation, and professional issues.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
CSD 754 Acquired Cognitive-Communicative Disorders (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to students admitted to the Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) graduate program or consent of instructor.
- CSD 440/CSD 640 or concurrent enrollment or equivalent course is required prior to enrollment in this course.

Nature of dementias, traumatic brain injury (TBI), and right hemisphere brain damage (RHBD). Principles and practices of assessment and intervention of cognitive-communication disorders in persons with dementia, TBI, or RHBD.

Attributes: CSD MS Online Flat Rate Tuition
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 769 Graduate Clinical Practicum (1 cr)
Consent: Department Consent Required

Supervised clinical experience for first and third semester graduate students.

Attributes: CSD MS Online Flat Rate Tuition, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 770 Clinical Practicum in Communication Disorders II (2 crs)
Prerequisite: CSD 706 and CSD 769, or CSD 706 and instructor permission.
Consent: Department Consent Required

Supervised clinical experience with persons having communication disorders.

Attributes: CSD MS Online Flat Rate Tuition
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

CSD 771 Clinical Practicum in Communication Disorders III (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CSD 706 and CSD 769.
Consent: Department Consent Required

Supervised clinical experience with persons having communication disorders.

Attributes: CSD MS Online Flat Rate Tuition, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 774 Pediatric Dysphagia (1 cr)
Prerequisite: Limited to students admitted to the Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) graduate program or consent of instructor.
- CSD 440/CSD 640 or concurrent enrollment or equivalent course is required prior to enrollment in this course.

Attributes: CSD MS Online Flat Rate Tuition, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CSD 778 Externship in Communication Disorders-Educational Settings (6 crs)
Prerequisite: CSD 749; grade of B or above in all enrollments in CSD 769, CSD 770 and CSD 771.

Professional clinical experience for nine weeks in a cooperating educational setting under the supervision of a state and nationally-certified speech-language pathologist, as well as appropriately-credentialed University personnel.

Attributes: Internship
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 12 credits
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

CSD 781 Externship in Communication Sciences and Disorders---Non-School Setting (6 crs)
Prerequisite: CSD 750; grade of B or above in all enrollments in CSD 769, CSD 770 and CSD 771.

Professional clinical experience for nine weeks in a cooperating hospital, residential treatment center, and/or rehabilitation agency under the supervision of a state and nationally-credentialed speech-language pathologist, as well as appropriately-credentialed University personnel.

Attributes: Internship, CSD MS Online Flat Rate Tuition, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 12 credits
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

CSD 793 Seminar: Selected Topics (1-3 crs)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

Permits groups of graduate students to study topics of mutual interest in the field of communication disorders.

Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
CSD 797 Independent Study (1-3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
Individual project under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

CSD 799 Thesis (1-6 crs)
• Full-time equivalent.
A description of acceptable topics and the precise nature of the thesis requirement is provided in the departmental program descriptions.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits
Grading Basis: PR Only Grade Basis

Computational Science (CPSC)

CPSC 300 Computational Science II (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 351 and MATH 354.
• Coordinating department: Physics and Astronomy.
Case studies of problems in computational science. Examples include molecular modeling, computational chemistry, stellar and planetary systems, thermodynamics, seismic modeling, geographic information systems, and atmospheric/oceanic circulation models. Solutions involve various computational tools and techniques.

CS 100 Computer Information Technologies (3 crs)
• No credit toward computer science major or minor. Not applicable for satisfying B.S. GE-IB requirement in College of Arts and Sciences.
Development and application of appropriate processes and tools to access, organize, evaluate, and communicate information using spreadsheets (MS Excel), word processors (MS Word), databases (MS Access), presentation software (MS PowerPoint), and web-based/internet utilities. Appropriate for students seeking a broader or deeper preparation for efficiently using computer information technologies.
Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2.5
Lab/Studio Hours: 1

CS 145 Introduction to Object-Oriented Programming (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 109 or concurrent enrollment, or placement into MATH 111, MATH 112, MATH 113, MATH 114, or MATH 215. For computer science majors, must be taken concurrently with CS 146.
A general introduction to computer data representation, programming, and the design of computer software. Object-oriented design and implementation techniques and concepts are introduced.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

CS 146 The Big Picture in Computer Science (1 cr)
Prerequisite: Limited to computer science majors. Must be taken concurrently with CS 145.
• Must be taken by students during their first semester in the computer science major.
Explores how a liberal education relates to computer science, the impacts of computers on society, and ethical expectations of the discipline. Provides an overview of computational thinking and technical topics.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 163 Introduction to Programming in C++ (3 crs)
• Three years of high school, college preparatory mathematics. No credit for CS majors if taken after or concurrently with CS 145.
A general introduction to the design of computer software. Object-oriented design and implementation techniques including abstraction, encapsulation, and inheritance are emphasized. Applications chosen from mathematics, science, and business are used to demonstrate and motivate understanding of object-oriented programming.
Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 170 Computing for the Sciences and Mathematics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 112, or MATH 113, or placement into MATH 114 or MATH 215.
Aspects of computation that are particularly relevant to scientific computation. Discussion of numeric processing, symbolic processing, data management, data representation, and scientific visualization. Students design and implement computer programs.
Attributes: GE V University Wide
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
CS 245 Advanced Programming and Data Structures (4 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 145, MATH 112 or concurrent enrollment, MATH 113 or concurrent enrollment, or placement into MATH 114 or MATH 215.

Advanced object-oriented programming techniques including OO design, distributed and concurrent computation, GUI development, and testing. Implementation and use of data structures including lists, stacks, queues, trees, and graphs.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

CS 252 Computer Systems (4 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 245, MATH 114 or concurrent enrollment.

Introduction to systems level concepts including number system representation, digital logic, machine models, assembly language, UNIX, C programming and memory management, and parallel architectures.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

CS 260 Database Systems (4 crs)
A study of fundamental database concepts including: SQL, database design and normalization, transactions and concurrency, embedded SQL, and stored procedures.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

CS 268 Web Systems (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 245. May be taken concurrently with CS 260.

Introduction to programming Web-based applications. Multiple modern Web technologies are covered in depth and compared. Web frameworks, server configurations, and security issues are discussed.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

CS 278 Digital System Design (4 crs)
Prerequisite: Either CS 145 or CS 163, or consent of instructor.

Logic components, Boolean algebra and algorithmic logic simplification, combinational logic analysis and synthesis, synchronous and asynchronous sequential logic analysis and synthesis, finite state machine design, programmable logic and FPGAs, Verilog programming for synthesis.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

CS 290 Introduction to Data Management (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to organizational leadership and communication comprehensive major, Bachelor of Professional Studies degree.

An introduction to managing data using technology. Topics include understanding different types of data, managing data using spreadsheets and databases, creating application macros to manipulate data, designing and implementing databases, and visualizing data.

Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills, BPS Flat Rate Tuition Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 291 Special Topics (1-3 crs)

- See current Class Schedule.

An examination of current topical material of special interest to students and faculty.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

CS 318 Fundamentals of Web Page Design (3 crs)
Basic concepts, coding standards, accessibility guidelines, and technologies of client-side Web page design. Hypertext Markup Language (HTML), Cascading Style Sheets (CSS), and techniques for controlling page layout, animations, and user interactions.

Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

CS 319 Introduction to Web Programming (3 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after CS 268.

- No credit toward computer science major requirements.

Introduction to client and server side Web programming. Includes basic programming concepts, user input validation, dynamic Web pages, and data retrieval and display.

Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

CS 320 Web Database Design and Implementation (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 318 or concurrent enrollment; CS 319 or concurrent enrollment.

- No credit toward computer science major requirements.

Introduction to databases for Web applications. Architecture, design considerations, and implementation of relational database systems. Web/database application development.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2
CS 321 Web Design and Development (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 320
Analysis, design, and implementation techniques for Web site development. Includes preparation of design documents development, deployment, and testing. Students complete and deploy a comprehensive Web site working with clients and end-users.
Attributes: Service-Learning. Full 30 Hours
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 322 Animation Programming (3 crs)
Introduction to current technical and creative trends in digital animation principles, including real-time, interactive animations, gestural interfaces, and basic motion capture for use in animation and game development.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

CS 330 Programming Languages (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 252
Study building blocks of modern programming and programming paradigms including functional, imperative, object-oriented, and logical. Emphasis on teaching students how to learn new programming languages. In-depth study of C++ and memory management techniques.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 335 Algorithms (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 245. Concurrent enrollment in MATH 314.
Discussion of algorithm design, problem-solving methods. Specific algorithm topics include divide-and-conquer, dynamic programming, and backtracking.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 352 Computer Architecture (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 252
A study of hardware organization and architecture including performance metrics, machine data and instruction representations, computer arithmetic, assembly language programming, ALU design, CPU design and control, microprogramming, pipelining, cache memory systems, and I/O peripherals.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 355 Software Engineering I (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 260. Credit cannot be earned in both CS 321 and CS 355.
A hands-on experience in software engineering with key aspects of the software development life cycle. Focus is on the application of a high-level development environment to the fulfillment of an object-oriented software design specification. An introduction to modern design patterns.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 370 Computer Security (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 252
Study of system, network, database, application and web security. Practical experience with tools for information gathering, vulnerability analysis, system hardening and intrusion detection as used for defending computer systems, culminating in a cyberwar exercise.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 388 UNIX Systems Programming (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 252
In-depth coverage of the UNIX command shell, file manipulation, process control, file system utilities, mail, pipes and filters, I/O redirection, process management, UNIX editors, scripting language, and shell scripting.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 396 Junior Seminar (1 cr)
Prerequisite: CS 146 and minimum junior standing, or consent of instructor. Limited to computer science majors.
Examination of selected topics in computer science through invited business speakers, traditional lecture, and independent investigation.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 399 Independent Study - Juniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing. Consent: Department Consent Required
Individual project under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

CS 420 Artificial Intelligence (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 335
Investigation of the theories and techniques of knowledge representation and automated reasoning as the foundation of artificial intelligence. Includes the comparative analysis of established theories and the synthesis of automated problem-solving behavior.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
CS 436 Mobile Software Development (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 245
Developing software for mobile devices, designing for interruptions, creating service-oriented architectures, and sensing the physical world.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 450 Theory of Computation (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 335
A study of finite automata and regular languages, pushdown automata and context-free languages, Turing machines and recursively enumerable sets, linear-bounded automata and context-sensitive languages, computability and the halting problem, undecidable problems, and the Chomsky hierarchy.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 452 Operating Systems (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 252
A study of modern operating system concepts, process/thread structure, process management, scheduling, synchronization. Memory management, virtual memory, caching. Storage and I/O device management. Distributed operating systems and distributed computation.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 455 Computer Graphics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 335
A study of 3-D modeling, rendering, and animation. Modeling includes constructive solids geometry, NURBS, and scene graphs. Rendering includes lighting models, raytracing, radiosity, mapping, and real-time issues. Animation includes keyframing, kinematics, dynamics, collision detection, and AI.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 462 Computer Networks (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 362
Fundamental concepts of data transmission, network architecture, data security, error control, routing, switching, and congestion control. Study of network protocols: IEEE 802.x, TCP/IP, ATM, Wireless Internet and Mobile Computing.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 482 Research in Computer Science I (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 355. Limited to computer science majors and minors. Minimum resident and total GPA of 3.00. Consent: Instructor Consent Required
An introduction to structured research within computer science. Students develop a complete research proposal that poses an important open question in computer science and presents a well-developed strategy for its substantive investigation.

Attributes: Capstone Course
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 485 Software Engineering II (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 355
An application of software engineering principles to a software project developed throughout the semester. Students will work in groups to describe, design, implement, test, and deliver a software product for a client.

Attributes: LE-S3 Creativity, Service-Learning, Full 30 Hours, Capstone Course
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 490 Computer Science Practicum (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 485
• Cannot be taken for credit toward fulfilling the major if the student has completed three or more credits in CS 498 (formerly CS 405).
A reflective examination of the principles and practices inherent to the study of computer science, including completion of a comprehensive project.

Attributes: Service-Learning Optional, Capstone Course
Grading Basis: S/U Only Grade Basis
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CS 491 Special Topics (1-3 crs)
• See current Class Schedule.
An examination of current topical material of special interest to students and faculty. Topics that have been offered include: Analysis of Algorithms, Cryptography and Data Security, Computer Animation, Fuzzy Logic, Advanced Internet Applications, Data Mining, and Computational Biology.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

CS 492 Research in Computer Science II (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 482. Limited to computer science majors and minors. Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Students carry out a research investigation based on a structured research proposal. The investigation includes a detailed analysis of existing literature in the area of investigation and the preparation of a research dissemination article.

Attributes: Capstone Course
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
CS 493 Collaborative Research (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: CS 355
An in-depth investigation into open issues within computer science and/or its application to other disciplines.

CS 498 Computer Science Internship (1-6 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
• A maximum of three credits can be counted as a CS elective.

Practical work experience that extends knowledge gained in prior courses.

Attributes: Service-Learning Optional, Capstone Course, Internship
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits

CS 499 Independent Study - Seniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum senior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
Individually designed project under the direction of a faculty member.

Repeat: Course may be repeated

CS 793 Special Topics in Computer Science (1-3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
Permits groups of graduate students to study topics in the field of computer science.

Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

CS 797 Independent Study (1-3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
Individually designed project under the direction of a faculty member.

Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

Criminal Justice (CRMJ)

CRMJ 103 Survey of the Criminal Justice System (3 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after SOC 203.
• Credit may not be earned in both SOC 103 and CRMJ 103.

The fundamental concepts and contemporary issues associated with criminal law, policing, the judicial systems, and corrections are presented.

Attributes: GE IIIG Social Science-Interdisciplinary Study, LE-K2 Social Sciences
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CRMJ 280 Criminal Justice Research Methods (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CRMJ 103 or SOC 103. Limited to criminal justice majors.

A survey of research methods including research design, measurement and sampling procedures, development of survey questionnaires, experimental and field research, data collection, and analysis. Emphasis is placed on understanding, interpreting, and critically evaluating research in the criminal justice field.

Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CRMJ 291 Special Topics (3 crs)
Intensive study of a topic selected because of special interest on the part of students or faculty.

Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CRMJ 301 Criminology Theory (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CRMJ 103/SOC 103

Presentation of the biological, psychological, and social causes and correlates of criminal behavior. The emphasis is on contemporary factors and theories of crime and criminal behavior.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CRMJ 302 Youth Crime and Juvenile Justice (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CRMJ 103 or SOC 103.
• Credit may not be earned in both SOC 302 and CRMJ 302.

Designed to give students a multidisciplinary understanding of the youth crime problem and the juvenile justice system. Topics covered include definitions and causes of youth crime, the philosophy and organization of the juvenile court, techniques of effective intervention and treatment, as well as the relationship between the juvenile justice system and components of the child welfare system. Includes cross-national information on the youth crime problem and efforts to control it.

Attributes: GE IIIG Social Science-Interdisciplinary Study
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CRMJ 303 Crime Prevention (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CRMJ 103 or SOC 103.
• No credit if taken after CRMJ 291 when offered as Crime Prevention.

Examines various crime prevention policies and programs. Topics include crime prevention methods, theoretical applications to prevention efforts, and program effectiveness. The importance of research design in evaluating programs is also considered.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
CRMJ 319 Police in Society (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CRMJ 103 or SOC 103.
Examines who the police are, what they do, and how they do it. Analyzes the complexities and ambiguities of modern policing. Topics covered include police operations, law enforcement ethics, police misconduct, women and minority police officers, police work with juveniles, and cross-national methods of policing.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CRMJ 342 Confinement and Corrections (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CRMJ 103 or SOC 103.
Examines the confinement experience and field of corrections with particular focus on institutional and community-based corrections. Students will learn about typical correctional clients, life in prison, programs and services for prison inmates, and correctional practices worldwide.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CRMJ 359 Teen Technology Misuse (3 crs)
Explores the ways teens use and misuse technology, with particular emphasis on cyberbullying, sexting, and unsafe social networking. Implications for preventing and responding to these behaviors will be examined.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

CRMJ 395 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
Students, with assistance and approval from supervising instructors, define a particular problem or topic to study.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits

CRMJ 397 Student Academic Apprenticeship in Criminal Justice (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: B+ or above in assigned course. Limited to criminal justice majors. Minimum total GPA of 3.30.
Consent: Department Consent Required
- Cannot apprentice in the same course twice.
Qualified students work under close supervision of faculty exploring methods to teach criminal justice and assisting in the teaching of a course or courses. Students enhance their understanding of the discipline and their communication skills.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits

CRMJ 399 Independent Study - Juniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
Students propose an independent study project on a topic in criminal justice to an instructor. Projects may include library research or original empirical research. Students work independently, with supervising instructor providing oversight and assistance.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits

CRMJ 491 Special Topics (3 crs)
Intensive study of a topic selected because of special interest on the part of students or faculty.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits

CRMJ 498 Criminal Justice Internship (1-6 crs)
Prerequisite: CRMJ 103/SOC 103, and 30 credits which apply to the criminal justice major. Minimum junior standing. Limited to criminal justice majors.
Consent: Department Consent Required
- Formal application with the instructor and department chair must begin at least eight weeks before registering for the course. Signature required from supervising instructor, agency representative, and department chair.
A field course which integrates principles of criminal justice with practical experience in a criminal justice agency. Supervision by instructor and agency representative.
Attributes: Service-Learning, Full 30 Hours, Internship
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits

CRMJ 499 Independent Study - Seniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum senior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
Students propose an independent study project on a topic in criminal justice to an instructor. Projects may include library research or original empirical research. Students work independently, with supervising instructor providing oversight and assistance.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits

Dance (DNCE)

DNCE 101 Dance Appreciation (3 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after KINS 195.
An introduction to dance history, theory, and culture. Involving dance viewing, literature, discussion and experiential exercises, this course discovers dance as an academic discipline, an art form, and a site for cultural communication and knowledge.
Attributes: GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, LE-K4 Fine Arts
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
DNCE 110 Ballet I (2 crs)
Beginning-level ballet technique course, emphasizing skeletal alignment and muscular engagement in the classical ballet form, terminology and theory of classical ballet technique, and studies in ballet history and aesthetics.
Attributes: Physical Activity, GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, LE-S3 Creativity
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

DNCE 112 Modern Dance I (2 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after KINS 200.
A beginning-level Modern Dance technique course that explores Bartenieff Fundamentals, floor work, bodily mapping, core support and skeletal alignment, and fundamental movement concepts of weight, space, time, and energy.
Attributes: Physical Activity, GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, LE-S3 Creativity
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

DNCE 114 Jazz Dance I (1 cr)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after KINS 202.
A course in beginning jazz technique with an emphasis on classical Afro-European forms. A survey of early jazz choreographers and their choreographic styles.
Attributes: Physical Activity
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 2 credits
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

DNCE 116 Tap Dance I (1 cr)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after KINS 203.
A course in beginning tap technique with an emphasis on buck tap. A survey of the history of tap dance and the contributions of early tap masters.
Attributes: Physical Activity
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 2 credits
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

DNCE 110 Ballet II (2 crs)
Prerequisite: DNCE 110 or audition. No credit if taken after KINS 206.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Intermediate-level ballet technique course, emphasizing intermediate-advanced level ballet skills and concepts, further explorations in terminology and theories of classical ballet technique, and continued study in ballet history and aesthetics with repertory experiences and research.
Attributes: Physical Activity, GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, LE-S3 Creativity
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

DNCE 310 Ballet II (2 crs)
Prerequisite: DNCE 112 or audition. No credit if taken after KINS 205.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
An intermediate-level modern dance technique course that engages continued explorations in Bartenieff Fundamentals, floor work, bodily mapping, core support and skeletal alignments, and further explorations in modern dance concepts of weight, space, time, and energy.
Attributes: Physical Activity, GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, LE-S3 Creativity
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

DNCE 312 Modern Dance II (2 crs)
Prerequisite: DNCE 112 or audition. No credit if taken after KINS 205.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
An intermediate-level modern dance technique course that engages continued explorations in Bartenieff Fundamentals, floor work, bodily mapping, core support and skeletal alignments, and further explorations in modern dance concepts of weight, space, time, and energy.
Attributes: Physical Activity, GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, LE-S3 Creativity
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

DNCE 314 Jazz Dance II (1 cr)
Prerequisite: DNCE 114 or audition. No credit if taken after KINS 207.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
A course in advanced jazz technique with an emphasis on turns, jumps, and dance sequences. An exploration of later stylistic developments in jazz dance.
Attributes: Physical Activity
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 2 credits
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

DNCE 316 Tap Dance II (1 cr)
Prerequisite: DNCE 116 or audition. No credit if taken after KINS 209.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
A course in intermediate/advanced tap technique with an emphasis on rhythm tap. An exploration of stylistic developments in tap dance.
Attributes: Physical Activity
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 2 credits
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

DNCE 370 Dance Performance Practicum (1-2 crs)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
• Audition required.
Participation in a main-stage dance performance project in faculty/guest artist dance works.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits
Grading Basis: S/U Only Grade Basis

DNCE 395 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: DNCE 110, DNCE 112, DNCE 114, DNCE 116. Minimum junior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
An individually arranged course for serious students of dance involving research, choreography, and/or scholarly activity under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No Auditors
DNCE 420 Dance Composition (3 crs)
Prerequisite: DNCE 110, DNCE 112, DNCE 114, DNCE 116. No credit if taken after KINS 319. Minimum junior standing.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

Art of making dances through a contemporary dance lens, with emphasis on generating distinct movement material and crafting material in the body, space and time. Examines theories about meaning-making in dance and research of choreographic practices and contemporary artists.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

DNCE 497 Dance Recital (1 cr)
Prerequisite: DNCE 420. Limited to dance minors.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

The recital is a capstone experience in dance performance and choreography. The student presents a showcase of work to highlight his or her achievements across the four studio genres.

Attributes: Capstone Course

DNCE 499 Independent Study (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: DNCE 110, DNCE 112, DNCE 114, DNCE 116. Minimum junior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required

An individually arranged course for serious students of dance involving research, choreography, and/or scholarly activity culminating in a quality research document or report.

Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No Auditors

Data Science (DS)

DS 700 Foundations of Data Science (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to Data Science master’s degree students.

Introduction to data science and its importance in business decision making.

Attributes: Data Science MS OL Flat Rate Tuition
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

DS 705 Statistical Methods (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to Data Science master’s degree students.

Statistical methods and inference procedures presented with an emphasis on applications, computer implementation, and interpretation of results.

Attributes: Data Science MS OL Flat Rate Tuition
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

DS 710 Programming for Data Science (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to Data Science master’s degree students.

Introduction to programming languages and packages used in data science.

Attributes: Data Science MS OL Flat Rate Tuition
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

DS 715 Data Warehousing (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to Data Science master’s degree students.

Introduction to the concepts and techniques to work with and reason about subject-oriented, integrated, time-variant, and nonvolatile collections of data in support of management’s decision-making process.

Attributes: Data Science MS OL Flat Rate Tuition
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

DS 730 Big Data: High Performance Computing (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to Data Science master’s degree students.

Overview of how to process large datasets efficiently, including introduction of non-relational databases.

Attributes: Data Science MS OL Flat Rate Tuition
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

DS 735 Communicating about Data (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to Data Science master’s degree students.

Prepares students to master technical, informational, and persuasive communication to meet organizational goals.

Attributes: Data Science MS OL Flat Rate Tuition
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

DS 740 Data Mining (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to Data Science master’s degree students.

Data mining methods and procedures for diagnostic and predictive analytics.

Attributes: Data Science MS OL Flat Rate Tuition
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
DS 745 Visualization and Unstructured Data Analysis (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to Data Science master’s degree students.
Covers various aspects of data analytics including visualization and analysis of unstructured data such as social networks.
Attributes: Data Science MS OL Flat Rate Tuition
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

DS 760 Ethics of Data Science (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to Data Science master’s degree students.
Ethical issues related to data science, including privacy, intellectual property, security, and the moral integrity of inferences based on data.
Attributes: Data Science MS OL Flat Rate Tuition
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

DS 775 Prescriptive Analytics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to Data Science master’s degree students.
Procedures and techniques for using data to inform decision making. Topics include optimization, decision analysis, game theory, and simulation.
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

DS 780 Data Science and Strategic Decision Making (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to Data Science master’s degree students.
The interaction between data science and strategic decision making. Leveraging data resources for competitive advantage in the marketplace.
Attributes: Data Science MS OL Flat Rate Tuition
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

DS 785 Data Science Capstone (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to Data Science master’s degree students.

Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Independent study projects under direction of faculty members.
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

General Arts & Sciences (GEN)

GEN 100 Foundations for Academic Success (1-3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
  • No credit toward any major or minor. Elective credit only.
An integrated program introducing students to University resources and college success strategies. The program assists students in intellectual, personal, and social development to improve retention and academic performance.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 3 credits
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
GEN 102 College Learning Strategies (1-2 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
• No credit toward any major or minor. Elective credit only.
An introduction to University reading and learning strategies necessary for success in social science and humanities courses. Strategies include text reading methods, note taking systems, time management, examination preparation, test-taking strategies, and overcoming test anxiety.

GEN 103 Critical Thinking (2 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
• No credit toward any major or minor. Elective credit only.
Development of the higher level critical reading, writing, and thinking skills--application, analysis, evaluation and synthesis--necessary for academic success in a variety of university disciplines.

GEN 110 Strategies for Academic Success (2 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
• No credit toward any major or minor. Elective credit only.
Designed to assist student development of successful academic and personal strategies necessary to meet demands at the college level by formulating educational goals, examining effective learning strategies, and making informed decisions.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 2 credits

GEN 201 Student Success Seminar (2 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
A course designed to increase retention and graduation of students on probation after suspension by identifying factors leading to academic difficulty, assessing academic strengths and weaknesses, building critical thinking strategies, and creating student development plans.

GEN 250 Academic and Career Exploration (1 cr)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Designed to give students the skills to make informed choices about their lives, education, and careers. Includes career development theory, interpretations of self-assessment instruments, occupational research techniques, examination of a liberal arts-based education, and goal-setting strategies.
Attributes: Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section

GEN 260 Graduate School Exploration (1 cr)
Prerequisite: Minimum sophomore standing. For Student Support Services participants only.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
This course is designed to help Student Support Services participants make informed decisions pertaining to advanced degrees and to maximize potential for lifelong professional development.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

Geography (GEOG)

GEOG 104 The Physical Environment (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 20, or two years of college-preparatory algebra, or a suitable mathematics placement test score.
Introduction to the spatial relations and interactions among the Earth's dynamic systems--atmosphere, biosphere, lithosphere, and hydrosphere (weather, climate, landforms, soils, and ecosystems).
Attributes: GE IIC Natural Science-Geography, Lab Science, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, LE-K1L Natural Sciences with Lab, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 111 Human Geography (3 crs)
The basic elements, processes, distributions, and problems associated with cultural groups: their principal ways of life, interrelationships with the natural environment, and socio-cultural diversity. Topics include: population, race, language, religion, political ideologies, and economic systems.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, Cultural Diversity 1 cr., GE IIIIC Social Science-Geography, LE-K2 Social Sciences, LE-R2 Global Perspectives
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 135 Introduction to Geospatial Analysis (3 crs)
Introduces foundations of geospatial technology and spatial thinking using real world environmental and social case studies. Key geographic issues will be explored through the utilization of geospatial technology.
Attributes: GE IIC Natural Science-Geography, LE-S3 Creativity
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
GEOG 155 Economic Geography (3 crs)
Classical location models of production, exchange, consumption, and development with special emphasis on the space economy of the United States.
Attributes: GE IIIC Social Science-Geography
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 178 Conservation of the Environment (3 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after BIOL 180.
• Satisfies requirement for Wisconsin teaching licensure in science and social science.
The use and abuse of environmental resources and the problems involved in their management and conservation.
Attributes: GE IIIC Natural Science-Geography, LE-I1 Integration, LE-K1 Natural Sciences
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 188 Cultural Landscapes of North America (3 crs)
Explores the cultural landscapes of North America, with attention to rural-urban differences, cross-national comparisons, and landscapes of the past, present, and future.
Attributes: Cultural Diversity 2 cr., GE IIIC Social Science-Geography, LE-DDIV Design for Diversity, LE-R1 Equity, Diversity, and Inclusivity
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 200 Foundations of Geography (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to geography majors and minors.
An introduction to the foundations, principles and primary geospatial techniques and analyses used in geography.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOG 270 Land Use Issues and Problems (3 crs)
Basic concepts and philosophies of land use, including techniques and methodology of land use analysis.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 280 Cartographic Design (3 crs)
• GEOG 200 is recommended prior to enrollment in this course.
The elements of cartography. Emphasis on the graphic expression of geographical and statistical data for reproduction on maps.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOG 301 Geography of Western Europe (3 crs)
Europe west of the former Soviet Bloc countries, with emphasis on physical, biotic, and cultural themes which unify the region. Includes the national level of regionalization. Utilizes aspects of history, politics, literature, and physical geography.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIIC Social Science-Geography
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 304 Introduction to Geomorphology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOG 104 or GEOL 106 or GEOL 110 or GEOL 115.
An introduction to physical processes that affect the Earth's surface and the landforms that result. The techniques of investigating landforms (field/ laboratory) and the fundamentals of communicating the results will be covered.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 4

GEOG 308 Geography of Russia and Eastern Europe (3 crs)
Examination of natural and human resources, economic and political organization of Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union. Special attention to ideological and institutional problems of population growth, nationalities, and regional development.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIIC Social Science-Geography
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 312 Space, Society, Subject (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Sophomore standing or instructor consent
• Credit may not be earned in both ANTH 312 and GEOG 312.
Broad introduction to social theory in anthropology and geography with an emphasis on contemporary theoretical approaches to social, spatial, and cultural dynamics and their intersections.
Attributes: Cultural Diversity 1 cr., GE IIIA Social Science-Anthropology, LE-K2 Social Sciences, LE-R1 Equity, Diversity, and Inclusivity, Undergraduate/ Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Seminar Hours: 2

GEOG 319 Geography of the Middle East and North Africa (3 crs)
Examination of the physical, cultural, economic, and political geography of the Middle East and North Africa. Emphasis placed on understanding the region’s people, places, cultures, nature-society relationships, and the roots of conflict.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIIC Social Science-Geography, Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
GEOG 321 Geography of Latin America (3 crs)

- Credit may not be earned in both GEOG 321 and LAS 321.

The physical and cultural landscapes of Latin America, including North, Central, and South America and the Caribbean Islands, with attention to the major cultural, economic, social, and political currents of each region.

Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIIC Social Science-Geography, LE-I1 Integration, LE-R2 Global Perspectives, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 322 Native Geographies (3 crs)

- Credit may not be earned in both GEOG 322 and AIS 322.

The historical and contemporary relationships of American Indians to place, including land use and environmental issues, indigenous mapping techniques, sacred sites, territorial nationhood, and legal rights to ceded and sovereign lands. The course also provides insight into the unique cultures of indigenous peoples around the world.

Attributes: Cultural Diversity 3 cr., GE IIIC Social Science-Geography, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 325 Geography of the United States and Canada (3 crs)

Introduces geographic concepts of region, nature-society relationships and spatial organization to compare and contrast Canada, the United States, and places within them. Maps used to explore and understand spatial patterns in the human experience and physical environment.

Attributes: Cultural Diversity 1 cr., GE IIIC Social Science-Geography
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 335 Geographic Information Systems I (3 crs)

- GEOG 200 is recommended prior to enrollment in this course.

Introduction to the fundamental concepts of GIS technology and the utilization of spatial data for solving geographic problems. Raster and vector approaches to spatial processing are examined. Special emphasis is given to raster based systems.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 336 Geospatial Field Methods (3 crs)

Prerequisite: GEOG 335
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Project-based hands-on learning will teach students field data collection techniques/methods for those interested in a career involving geospatial issues. Traditional and advanced geospatial technology are implemented in the course.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 337 Geographic Information Systems II (3 crs)

Prerequisite: GEOG 335
This course expands directly on knowledge gained in Geog 335, Geographic Information Systems I. Focus will be on gaining additional technical skills and applying them to answer more in-depth geospatial questions.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOG 338 Remote Sensing of the Environment (3 crs)

- GEOG 200 is recommended prior to enrollment in this course.

Descriptive interpretation of remote-sensing images from ground, aerial, and space platforms.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 339 Computer Mapping (3 crs)

Introduction to the uses of computers in the design and construction of maps. Topics include digitizing tasks, the organization and utilization of mapping software, and the production of computer-drawn maps.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 340 Climatology (3 crs)

Prerequisite: GEOG 104
Comprehensive study of climatic phenomena with emphasis on global heat and water balances, daily weather analysis, climate classification, and climate change.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 369 Geography of Food (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum sophomore standing.
• A geography course is recommended prior to enrollment in this course.
Explores the geography and spatial dimensions of food, with attention to the cultures and environments from which they emerged, changing nature/society relationships, and the implications of globalization, economic growth, and technological innovations.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIIC Social Science-Geography, Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 370 Quantitative Methods in Geography (3 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOG 335. Limited to geography majors and minors.
An introduction to spatial/quantitative methods in geography. Topics include central tendency, mean center, probability, regression, spatial autocorrelation, and geographically weighted regression.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 375 Environmental Quality (3 crs)
• GEOG 178 or BIOL 180 is recommended prior to enrollment in this course.
Society’s impact on the quality of the environment. The role of cultural attitudes, population, economic systems, technology, and political institutions in creating environmental problems.
Attributes: GE IIIC Social Science-Geography, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 377 U.S. Environmental and Sustainability Policy (3 crs)
• Credit may not be earned in both ENV 377 and GEOG 377.
Students will study U.S. environmental and sustainability law and policy to assess the roles of science, key actors, and values in policymaking.
Attributes: GE IIIG Social Science-Interdisciplinary Study, LE-K2 Social Sciences, LE-R3 Civic and Environmental Issues, Field Trip(s) Required

GEOG 470 Urban Geography (3 crs)

Considers (1) cities as systems of service, trade, and manufacturing centers; (2) the internal structure of cities with emphasis on residential, commercial, and industrial patterns. North American urban places and solutions are stressed.

Attributes: Cultural Diversity 1 cr., Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 491 Special Topics (1-3 crs)

Prerequisite: Limited to geography majors and minors, or consent of instructor. No more than six credits may be applied to the geography major or minor.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

Special topics will vary, depending on interests of students and faculty. Topics will include specific micro-regions and systematic approaches in geography.

Attributes: Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Repeat: Course may be repeated

GEOG 498 Geography Internship (1-3 crs)

Consent: Department Consent Required
• Application and approval required by supervising instructor, agency representative and department chair prior to start of internship.

Application of geographic knowledge and skills in supervised professional activities relevant to the student’s area of emphasis. Involves active reflection tied to the student’s academic and career and interests. Option to pursue service learning where applicable.

Attributes: Service-Learning Optional, Capstone Course, Internship
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits

GEOG 499 Independent Study - Seniors (1-3 crs)

Prerequisite: Limited to geography majors and minors. Minimum senior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required

Same as GEOG 399, except for senior majors only.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

GEOG 512 Space, Society, Subject (3 crs)

• Cross-listed with GEOG 312 AND ANTH 312/ANTH 512. Credit may only be earned in one of these courses.

Broad introduction to social theory in anthropology and geography with an emphasis on contemporary theoretical approaches to social, spatial, and cultural dynamics and their intersections.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Seminar Hours: 2

GEOG 521 Geography of Latin America (3 crs)

• Cross-listed with GEOG 321 and LAS 321/LAS 521. Credit may only be earned in one of these courses.

The physical and cultural landscapes of Latin America, including North, Central, and South America and the Caribbean Islands, with attention to the major cultural, economic, social, and political currents of each region.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 522 Native Geographies (3 crs)

• Cross-listed with GEOG 322 and AIS 322/AIS 522. Credit may only be earned in one of these courses.

The historical and contemporary relationships of American Indians to place, including land use and environmental issues, indigenous mapping techniques, sacred sites, territorial nationhood, and legal rights to ceded and sovereign lands. The course also provides insight into the unique cultures of indigenous peoples around the world.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required

GEOG 535 Geographic Information Systems I (3 crs)

• Cross-listed with GEOG 335. Credit may not be earned in both courses. GEOG 200 is recommended prior to enrollment in this course.

Introduction to the fundamental concepts of GIS technology and the utilization of spatial data for solving geographic problems. Raster and vector approaches to spatial processing are examined. Special emphasis is given to raster based systems.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 536 Geospatial Field Methods (3 crs)

Prerequisite: GEOG 335/GEOG 535
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
• Cross-listed with GEOG 336. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Project-based hands-on learning will teach students field data collection techniques/methods for those interested in a career involving geospatial issues. Traditional and advanced geospatial technology are implemented in the course.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
GEOG 537 Geographic Information Systems II (3 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOG 335/GEOG 535
• Cross-listed with GEOG 337. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

This course expands directly on knowledge gained in Geog 335, Geographic Information Systems I. Focus will be on gaining additional technical skills and applying them to answer more in-depth geospatial questions.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOG 538 Remote Sensing of the Environment (3 crs)
• Cross-listed with GEOG 338. Credit may not be earned in both courses. GEOG 200 is recommended prior to enrollment in this course.

Descriptive interpretation of remote-sensing images from ground, aerial, and space platforms.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 550 Soils and the Environment (4 crs)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
• Cross-listed with GEOG 350. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Study of soil properties, formation processes, and classification with emphasis on fieldwork, application of soil information to resource management and land use, and technical report writing.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 4

GEOG 558 LiDAR Analysis & Applications (3 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOG 535 and GEOG 538.

Introduction to the visualization, processing & use of airborne & terrestrial LiDAR data for applications in environmental & socio-cultural settings.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOG 579 Geography of Wisconsin (3 crs)
• Cross-listed with GEOG 379. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

A geographic analysis of Wisconsin and its people, with emphasis on cultural and environmental characteristics, patterns of land use, and changing ways of life.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 590 Unmanned Aerial Systems (3 crs)

Teaches how best to utilize Unmanned Aerial Systems (UAS) as a means to gather geospatial data. Safety and ‘drone ethics’ will also be stressed throughout the course.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOG 595 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
• Cross-listed with GEOG 395.

Directed study of a geographic problem approved by the supervising instructor and the Department Chair.
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

GEOG 635 Geographic Information Systems III (3 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOG 335/GEOG 535
• Cross-listed with GEOG 435. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
No credit if taken after GEOG 491 when offered as Advanced Geographic Information Systems.

This course will advance students' knowledge of theoretical concepts and skills in geographic information systems in science. Emphasis will be placed on application of these concepts and skills in geospatial analysis.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOG 655 Web Geographic Information Systems (3 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOG 335/GEOG 535
• Cross-listed with GEOG 455. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

An introduction to Web GIS, the programming concepts underpinning construction and implementation of high quality web and mobile solutions.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOG 797 Independent Study/Graduate (1-3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required

An intensive study of a geographic topic resulting in a paper suitable for publication.
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Geology (GEOL)

GEOL 102 Oceanography (3 crs)
Survey of the world oceans with emphasis on geologic processes. Also includes chemical, physical, and biological aspects of the sea. Investigates human interaction with the marine environment.

Attributes: GE IID Natural Science-Geology, LE-I1 Integration, LE-K1 Natural Sciences
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOL 106 Earth Science (4 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to elementary education and special education majors. Credit may be earned in only one of the following: GEOL 106, or GEOL 110, or GEOL 115, or GEOL 118, or GEOL 130 and GEOL 131.

Introduction to basic earth science concepts. Includes study of earth interior and surface processes, earth materials, earth history, earth resources, atmospheric composition and processes, and aspects of the solar system.

Attributes: GE IID Natural Science-Geology, Lab Science, LE-I1 Integration, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, LE-K1L Natural Sciences with Lab, Service-Learning Optional Half, Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 4

GEOL 110 Physical Geology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: Credit may be earned in only one of the following: GEOL 106, or GEOL 110, or GEOL 115, or GEOL 118, or GEOL 130 and GEOL 131.

A study of earth structure, materials, processes, and history; includes discussion of plate tectonics, volcanism, weathering, glaciation, sedimentation, and metamorphism. The course emphasizes the methods of scientific investigation.

Attributes: GE IID Natural Science-Geology, Lab Science, LE-I1 Integration, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, LE-K1L Natural Sciences with Lab, Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOL 115 Environmental Geology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: Credit may be earned in only one of the following: GEOL 106, or GEOL 110, or GEOL 115, or GEOL 118, or GEOL 130 and GEOL 131. No credit if taken after previous courses GEOL 101 or GEOL 131.

Study of the physical environment. Emphasis on earth processes which affect humans such as rivers, erosion, groundwater, landslides, and earthquakes. Methods are examined for reducing or eliminating the harmful effects of human interaction with the geologic environment.

Attributes: GE IID Natural Science-Geology, Lab Science, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, LE-K1L Natural Sciences with Lab, LE-R3 Civic and Environmental Issues, Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOL 118 Societal Issues in Earth Science (4 crs)
Prerequisite: Credit may be earned in only one of the following: GEOL 106, or GEOL 110, or GEOL 115 or GEOL 118, or GEOL 130 and GEOL 131.

Examination of social and economic impact of geologic issues, including instantaneous, catastrophic events such as earthquakes, tsunami and volcanic eruptions, and more mundane, inexorable events such as global climatic change and resource depletion.

Attributes: GE IID Natural Science-Geology, Lab Science, LE-I1 Integration, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, LE-K1L Natural Sciences with Lab, Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOL 122 The Future of Global Energy (3 crs)
• No credit if taken after IDIS 152 when offered as Global Energy in Spring 2009.

Examination of traditional and alternative energy sources with respect to supply, recovery, distribution, environmental impact and sustainability and the relationship between energy and social, economic and public policy issues and local, regional and global politics.

Attributes: GE IID Natural Science-Geology, LE-I1 Integration, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, LE-R3 Civic and Environmental Issues
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOL 201 Geology of Our National Parks and Monuments (2 crs)
• No credit toward majors or minors.

A survey of geologic processes and phenomena as exemplified by features of our national parks and monuments. Designed to develop greater appreciation and understanding of natural phenomena.

Attributes: GE IID Natural Science-Geology, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, LE-R3 Civic and Environmental Issues
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOL 291 Special Topics (1-3 crs)
Geologic topics of current, special interest; includes field excursions.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

GEOL 301 Earth Resources (3 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 106, or GEOL 110, or GEOL 115, or GEOL 118 or GEOL 130 and GEOL 131; or GEOG 101, or GEOG 104.

Origin, distribution, use, misuse, and conservation of minerals, water, soil, and fuels. Alternative resources and lifestyles for the future are evaluated.

Attributes: GE IID Natural Science-Geology, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, LE-R3 Civic and Environmental Issues, Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
GEOL 303 Rocky Mountain Field Studies (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Previous course in GEOL.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Field study of geologic features and processes in the Rocky Mountains. One week lecture and laboratory on UW-Eau Claire campus, 10 days in the field on Rocky Mountains. Camping equipment and extensive field work (hiking) is required.
Attributes: GE IID Natural Science-Geology, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 4

GEOL 304 Global Environmental Change (3 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 106, or GEOL 110, or GEOL 115, or GEOL 118 or GEOL 130 and GEOL 131, or GEOG 101, or GEOG 104.
The composition, structure, and dynamics of the solid earth, oceans, and atmosphere are explored to understand the global geochemical and biochemical cycles that govern the natural response to environmental change on global scales.
Attributes: GE IID Natural Science-Geology, LE-I1 Integration, LE-R3 Civic and Environmental Issues
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOL 308 Water Resources (3 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 106 or GEOL 110 or GEOL 115; or GEOG 101 or GEOG 104 or GEOG 178 or GEOG 185.
Origin, nature, distribution, movement, exploitation, and conservation of surface and subsurface waters; problems associated with development of water resources in Wisconsin and the U.S.
Attributes: GE IID Natural Science-Geology, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, LE-R3 Civic and Environmental Issues, Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOL 312 Mineralogy and Petrology I (5 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 106, or GEOL 110, or GEOL 115 or GEOL 118, or GEOL 130 and GEOL 131; CHEM 101, or CHEM 103, or CHEM 115.
Study of minerals and rocks with an emphasis on common rocks in field settings, hand sample identification, and description of common rocks and minerals. Origin of rocks and minerals and interpretation of processes is stressed.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 4

GEOL 313 Mineralogy and Petrology II (4 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 312
Study of igneous, sedimentary, and metamorphic rocks and minerals with an emphasis on laboratory and petrographic analysis.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 4

GEOL 315 Hydrogeology I (4 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 106, or GEOL 110, or GEOL 115, or GEOL 118, or GEOL 130 and GEOL 131; MATH 112, or MATH 114, or MATH 215.
The hydrologic cycle, runoff and streamflow, saturated groundwater flow, contaminant transport, geology of groundwater occurrence, aquifer characterization, groundwater flow to wells, hydrogeologic field techniques, groundwater flow and contaminant transport computer modeling, groundwater development and management.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Field Trip(s) Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

GEOL 320 Sedimentology and Stratigraphy (4 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 312
Origin and evolution of sedimentary rocks, with emphasis on sedimentary processes, stratigraphic principles, and basin evolution.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOL 330 Structural Geology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 312
The description and classification of geological structures and the theoretical and physical analysis of rock deformation. Field and laboratory techniques emphasize mapping and the tectonic analysis of geological structures.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOL 336 Introduction to Geochemistry (3 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 312; CHEM 104 or CHEM 115.
Application of chemistry to geologic problems. Principles of isotope geochemistry, thermodynamics, chemistry of natural waters, and computer modeling of geochemical systems.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
GEOL 337 Analytical Geochemistry Laboratory (1 cr)
Prerequisite: GEOL 336 or concurrent registration.
Theory and application of geochemical instrumentation including x-ray diffraction, x-ray microanalysis, scanning electron microscopy, atomic absorption spectrometry, mass spectrometry, and neutron activation analysis.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOL 343 Geological Field Excursion (1-2 crs)
Prerequisite: One GEOL course.
Extended travel to study field geology. Students record notes and data in the field and submit final written and/or oral reports. Special course fee to cover costs. Travel proposal must receive approval of department faculty.
Attributes: GE IID Natural Science-Geology, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

GEOL 345 Geomorphology and Aerial Photography Interpretation (3 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 312 or GEOG 304.
A process-oriented analysis of landforms and applied geomorphology. Interpretation of landforms using topographic maps and aerial photographs will be emphasized. Communicating scientific material to expert audiences also will be stressed.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOL 350 Engineering Geology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 106, GEOL 110, GEOL 115, or GEOL 118; MATH 114. No credit if taken after GEOL 445/GEOL 645.
Application of geologic principles to civil and environmental engineering, site analysis, and assessment and mitigation of natural hazards.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOL 365 Economic Mineral Deposits (3 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 312
Origin, association, and exploitation of metallic and nonmetallic mineral deposits. Study of ore suites from selected mining districts and methods of evaluating ore deposits.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOL 390 Geologic Immersion Experience (1-4 crs)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Project-based, field intensive geologic immersion experience focusing on the physical, biologic, geomorphic, and tectonic evolution of a geologic province and on societal interaction with the geologic setting.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IID Natural Science-Geology, Lab Science, Service-Learning Optional Half, Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 8 credits
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

GEOL 395 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
Use of this course to fulfill department capstone experience requires department approval. See department office for Capstone Proposal form.
Individual research or study for the advanced geology major who seeks to develop specialized knowledge and skills. Course proposals are student-initiated.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

GEOL 399 Independent Study - Juniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
Individual research or studies of distinctive nature.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

GEOL 416 Hydrogeology II (4 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 315
Review of principles of groundwater flow and contaminant transport, reactive groundwater contamination, groundwater remediation, chemical evolution of natural groundwater, flow in the unsaturated zone, advanced groundwater flow and contaminant transport computer modeling, water law.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Field Trip(s) Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOL 418 Earth History (4 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 312 and GEOL 320.
Origin and evolution of the earth, with emphasis on the physical, biologic, and tectonic history of the planet. Analysis of the concepts of geologic time and biologic evolution. Concentration on geologic field relations and determination of relative geologic history.
Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2
GEOL 420 Glacial Geology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 106, or GEOL 110, or GEOL 115, or GEOL 118, or GEOL 130 and GEOL 131; MATH 112, or MATH 114, or MATH 215.

A process-oriented analysis of glacial landforms and sediments. Topographic maps, aerial photographs, and field mapping projects will be used to interpret glacial landforms, sediments, and to solve glacial geologic problems.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOL 445 Engineering Geology and Geophysics (5 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 312; PHYS 211 or PHYS 231; MATH 114 or consent of instructor.

Application of geological and geophysical principles to solve human problems. Discussion of soil and rock mechanics, slope stability, earthquake analysis and seismic planning, and geophysical techniques including seismic, gravity, magnetic, electrical, and electromagnetic surveying.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Field Trip(s) Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOL 461 Applied Geophysics (4 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 106, GEOL 110, GEOL 115, or GEOL 118; MATH 114; PHYS 211 or PHYS 231. No credit if taken after GEOL 445/GEOL 645.

Acquisition, processing, and interpretation of geophysical data including seismic, gravity, magnetic, GPR, resistivity, and electromagnetic methods.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Field Trip(s) Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOL 468 Computers in Geology (1 cr)
Prerequisite: GEOL 320

Introduction to digital techniques in geological sciences. Emphasis is on computer graphics and application of Geographic Information Systems to analysis and presentation of geologic data.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOL 470 Field Geology I (3 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 312, GEOL 320, and GEOL 468.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

• Three week field course in west Texas and New Mexico.

Introduction to geologic mapping techniques, with an emphasis on construction of geologic maps and cross-sections in mildly deformed sedimentary and volcanic rocks.

Attributes: LE-I1 Integration, LE-S3 Creativity, Special Course Fee Required

GEOL 471 Field Geology II (3 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 330 and GEOL 470.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

• Use of this course to fulfill department capstone experience requires department approval. See department office for Capstone Proposal form. Three-week field course in southwestern Montana.

Introduction to advanced geologic field techniques, with an emphasis on construction of geologic maps and cross-sections in deformed plutonic, volcanic, metamorphic, and sedimentary rocks.

Attributes: Special Course Fee Required

GEOL 491 Advanced Special Topics (1-4 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to geology majors and minors.

Topics of special interest and current relevance to the advanced geology student; includes field excursions. Topics vary.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Repeat: Course may be repeated

GEOL 498 Geology Internship (1-6 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 312. Minimum grade point average of 2.5. Minimum sophomore standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required

 Provides supervised on-the-job experience in a geologically-related area of interest.

Attributes: Internship
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits
Grading Basis: No Auditors

GEOL 499 Independent Study - Seniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum senior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required

Individual project under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

GEOL 515 Hydrogeology I (4 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 106, or GEOL 110, or GEOL 115, or GEOL 118, or GEOL 130 and GEOL 131; MATH 112, or MATH 114, or MATH 215.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

• Cross-listed with GEOL 315. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

The hydrologic cycle, runoff and streamflow, saturated groundwater flow, contaminant transport, geology of groundwater occurrence, aquifer characterization, groundwater flow to wells, hydrogeologic field techniques, groundwater flow and contaminant transport computer modeling, groundwater development and management.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 3
GEOL 536 Introduction to Geochemistry (3 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 312; CHEM 104 or CHEM 115.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
  • Cross-listed with GEOL 336. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Application of chemistry to geologic problems. Principles of isotope geochemistry, thermodynamics, chemistry of natural waters, and computer modeling of geochemical systems.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

GEOL 537 Analytical Geochemistry Laboratory (1 cr)
Prerequisite: GEOL 336/GEOL 536 or concurrent registration.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
  • Cross-listed with GEOL 337. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Theory and application of geochemical instrumentation including x-ray diffraction, x-ray microanalysis, scanning electron microscopy, atomic absorption spectrometry, mass spectrometry, and neutron activation analysis.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOL 616 Hydrogeology II (4 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 315/GEOL 515
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
  • Cross-listed with GEOL 416. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Review of principles of groundwater flow and contaminant transport, reactive groundwater contamination, groundwater remediation, chemical evolution of natural groundwater, flow in the unsaturated zone, advanced groundwater flow and contaminant transport computer modeling, water law.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

GEOL 645 Engineering Geology and Geophysics (5 crs)
Prerequisite: GEOL 312; PHYS 211 or PHYS 231; MATH 114 or consent of instructor.

MKTG 372 Advanced Marketing for Entrepreneurs (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MGMT 371; MKTG 330; Admission to the College of Business. See current catalog for College of Business admission criteria.
Students learn to identify and examine successful strategies in an entrepreneurial environment, and how opportunities are pursued in a global business environment.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MKTG 398 Internship Program I (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing
Consent: Department Consent Required
• Acceptance in Internship Program. See description under College of Business. A maximum of three credits of BSAD, MGMT, and MKTG 398 may be applied to the 120-credit graduation requirement. Students must have the service-learning option approved prior to starting the Internship.
Students will participate in work experiences related to their area of interest.
Attributes: LE-I1 Integration, Service-Learning Optional, Internship, Special Course Fee Required
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 3 credits

MKTG 399 Independent Study Projects (1-4 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
Individual project under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

MKTG 425 Marketing in Service Organizations (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MKTG 330
A reconsideration of traditional marketing topics in the context of a variety of service organizations. Emphasis is placed on discussion of how product-oriented marketing activities need to be adjusted or even reinvented to accommodate “non-products.”
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
MKTG 432 Retail Management (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MKTG 330. Minimum junior standing.

The study of the retail function and its role in the exchange process. Topics include consumer behavior, retail pricing, store location, merchandising, vendor relationships, and human resource management.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MKTG 433 Sales Management (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MKTG 330. Minimum junior standing.

Positions in sales management are among the first managerial assignments many business students receive. This course focuses on defining the strategic role of the sales function and sales organization, developing and directing a sales force, and evaluating sales force performance. Role playing will be used to help students experience realistic management scenarios.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MKTG 434 Advanced Marketing Analytics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MKTG 338.

This course builds on Mktg 338 including web analysis and data mining techniques to extract information from large marketing databases. Application of quantitative analysis to uncover insights for marketing decisions in internet and retail settings.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MKTG 437 Business-to-Business Marketing (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MKTG 330. Minimum junior standing.

Studies the marketing strategies characteristic of institutions, government, industrial, and other marketing environments which do not directly target the final consumer. The unique characteristics of these markets and the implications for strategic marketing management provide the focus for this course.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MKTG 438 Marketing Management (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MKTG 330 and completion of at least two Marketing courses beyond MKTG 330. Minimum senior standing.

Designed as the capstone course in marketing. All the ideas and concepts presented in other marketing courses are integrated and brought together via the application of marketing tools, principles, and theories, as experienced through case studies and problem solving. The role of the marketing executive in business is emphasized.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Capstone Course, Special Course Fee Required
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MKTG 439 Advanced Sales Topics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MKTG 337.

Application of research skills to develop an in-depth analysis of one company’s sales structure and its position relative to its competitors. A semester-long project will incorporate field study and database research identifying different sales structures and advantages.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MKTG 449 Selected Topics (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum senior standing.

Small groups will study topics selected because of a special interest on the part of students or faculty.

Repeat: Course may be repeated

MKTG 454 Directed Projects (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum senior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required

Internship experiences in business situations relevant to student’s major field of study; under supervision of faculty member.

Repeat: Course may be repeated

MKTG 464 Internship Program II (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum senior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required

• Acceptance in Internship Program. See description under College of Business.
Additive credit only. May not be applied to the 120-credit graduation requirement. Students must have the service-learning option approved prior to starting the Internship.

Students will participate in work experiences related to their area of interest.

Attributes: LE-I1 Integration, Service-Learning Optional, Internship, Special Course Fee Required
Repeat: Course may be repeated
MKTG 499 Independent Study Projects (1-4 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum senior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
Individual project under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

MKTG 532 Marketing Communications and Promotion Analysis (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to MBA students.
• Cross-listed with MKTG 332. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
Integrated marketing communications and its applications in advertising, direct marketing, sales promotion, personal selling, internet marketing, and public relations. Emphasis on promotional campaign strategies, implementation and evaluation, including category management assessment, marketing databases, media selection, and campaign effectiveness.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MKTG 534 Marketing Research (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to MBA students.
• Cross-listed with MKTG 334. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
Application of research techniques in the marketplace, and role of marketing information within the firm as a management tool in decision making.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MKTG 535 International Marketing (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to MBA students.
• Cross-listed with MKTG 335 and INTB 335/INTB 535. Credit may be earned in only one course.
Principles, policies, and problems of marketing goods in international markets. Concepts, strategies, and policies of world trade and multinational firms.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MKTG 633 Sales Management (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to MBA students.
• Cross-listed with MKTG 433. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
Positions in sales management are among the first managerial assignments many business students receive. This course focuses on defining the strategic role of the sales function and sales organization, developing and directing a sales force, and evaluating sales force performance. Role playing will be used to help students experience realistic management scenarios.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MKTG 634 Advanced Marketing Analytics (3 crs)
• Cross-listed with MKTG 434. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
This course builds on MKTG 338 including web analysis and data mining techniques to extract information from large marketing databases. Application of quantitative analysis to uncover insights for marketing decisions in internet and retail settings.
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MKTG 637 Business-to-Business Marketing (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to MBA students.
• Cross-listed with MKTG 437. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
Studies the marketing strategies characteristic of institutions, government, industrial, and other marketing environments which do not directly target the final consumer. The unique characteristics of these markets and the implications for strategic marketing management provide the focus for this course.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MKTG 638 Marketing Management (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to MBA students.
• Cross-listed with MKTG 438. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
Designed as the capstone course in marketing. All the ideas and concepts presented in other marketing courses are integrated and brought together via the application of marketing tools, principles, and theories, as experienced through case studies and problem solving. The role of the marketing executive in business is emphasized.
Attributes: Capstone Course, Special Course Fee Required Varies by Term/Section
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MKTG 730 Marketing Analysis Foundation (2 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to MBA students. No credit if taken after MKTG 330.
• Not for MBA degree credit
Analysis of problems related to the development of marketing strategy. Attention is focused on identifying a target market, allocating resources to the marketing mix, and examining the impact of environmental variables on management decisions.
Attributes: Higher Cost Per Credit
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
MKTG 797 Independent Study (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to MBA students.
Consent: Department Consent Required

Individual project under the direction of a faculty member.

Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

---

Materials Science (MSCI)

MSCI 100 Introduction to Materials Science and Nanoscience (4 crs)
Prerequisite: High school chemistry and high school physics.

Students explore how atomic bonds and molecular structure explain the properties of materials, and why nanomaterials have different properties.

Attributes: GE IIF Natural Science-Interdisciplinary Studies, Lab Science
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

---

MSCI 291 Special Topics in Materials Science (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 104 or CHEM 115; PHYS 232; MSCI 221
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
- Field trips optional. A total of no more than nine credits from MSCI 291 and MSCI 491 may be applied toward major or graduation.

Lecture and possibly laboratory or field work in the study of current topics in Materials Science of special interest to students and faculty.

Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 9 credits

---

MSCI 300 Nanotechnology in Today's World (3 crs)
- No credit toward the Materials Science or Materials Science & Engineering comprehensive majors.

Provides the fundamentals of nanoscience at an elementary level, i.e., how material behavior, properties, and function change due to small size. Addresses applications in science and industry and nanotechnology products, along with environmental, social, and ethical implications.

Attributes: GE IIF Natural Science-Interdisciplinary Studies
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

---

MSCI 362 Materials Processing (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MSCI 234; MSCI 300; MSCI 355.

This course discusses many of the materials processing methods used in the fabrication of microelectronic devices, including deposition, etching, metallization, insulation, doping, ion implantation, and photolithography. MSCI 363 provides the associated lab experience for this course.

Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

---

MSCI 363 Materials Processing Lab (2 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 115 or CHEM 104; MSCI 300 (or equivalent); MSCI 355.

This course provides the lab component for MSCI 362, and focuses on hands-on experience in depositing thin films, patterning surfaces with photolithography, etching surfaces, and doping materials. A variety of materials processing methods will be explored, with some characterization of prepared materials using various instruments.

Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 4

---

MSCI 382 Advanced Materials Science and Nanoscience (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MSCI 234 or MSE 334; MSCI 300 or CHEM 433 or PHYS 445 (or equivalent).

A survey of materials science, including in-depth discussions of metals, ceramics, polymers, and semiconductors. Contrasting views of the "molecular" nature of matter and the "band" nature will be discussed. Includes in-depth discussion of Nanoscience and Materials Science.

Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

---

MSCI 384 Materials Science Junior Seminar I (0.5 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing

Career preparation for Materials Science majors. Will include seminars with external speakers and class discussions of relevant issues.

Lab/Studio Hours: 0
Seminar Hours: 0.5

---

MSCI 385 Materials Science Junior Seminar II (0.5 crs)
Prerequisite: MSCI 384

The second course in the junior seminar course sequence. Will include seminars with external speakers and class discussions of relevant issues.

Lab/Studio Hours: 0
Seminar Hours: 0.5

---

MSCI 391 Materials Science Seminar (1 cr)
Prerequisite: MSCI 234 and MSCI 355.

Students will explore career pathways in Materials Science. The course will offer a mix of seminars by various speakers and discussions about issues relevant to Materials Science.

Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
Seminar Hours: 1
MSCI 395 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum 2.0 GPA in Materials Science or Materials Science & Engineering comprehensive majors
Consent: Department Consent Required
This course is designed to allow a single student or a group of students to pursue their educational goals and interests under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

MSCI 399 Independent Study - Juniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
This course provides junior-level students with research opportunities in Materials Science or Materials Science & Engineering.
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

MSCI 480 Advanced Materials Science Lab I (1 cr)
Prerequisite: MSCI 362, MSCI 363, MSCI 382, PHYS 338.
First of a two-course capstone sequence. Focuses on hands-on, project-based, research-inspired labs that emphasize diverse areas of Materials Science.
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

MSCI 481 Advanced Materials Science Lab II - Scientific Writing (1 cr)
Prerequisite: MSCI 480, or consent of instructor.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Second of a two-course capstone sequence. Focuses on preparation of a scientific paper, including a Materials Science literature review and developing a manuscript for publication. Students will use experimental processes and results obtained from MSCI 480 in developing the manuscript.
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

MSCI 484 Materials Science Capstone I (1 cr)
Prerequisite: MSE 350; Credit may not be earned in both MSCI 480 and MSCI 484
First of a two-course capstone sequence. This course emphasizes hands-on, project-based experiences that are formulated and executed by the student.
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
Seminar Hours: 2

MSCI 485 Materials Science Capstone II (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MSCI 484; Credit may not be earned in both MSCI 485 and MSCI 481
Second of a two-semester capstone sequence. This course emphasizes writing projects based on student designed experiments.
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
Seminar Hours: 4

MSCI 491 Special Topics in Advanced Materials Science (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: MSCI 300. Limited to Materials Science or Materials Science & Engineering majors.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Field trips optional. A total of no more than nine credits from MSCI 291 and MSCI 491 may be applied toward major or graduation.
Lecture and possibly laboratory or field work in the study of current topics of Materials Science of special interest to advanced students and faculty.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 9 credits
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

MSCI 499 Independent Study - Seniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum senior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
This course provides senior-level students with research opportunities in Materials Science or Materials Science & Engineering.
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

Materials Science and Engineering (MSE)

MSE 120 Introduction to Engineering (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 109 or concurrent enrollment.
A comprehensive study of the engineering design process. Discussion of engineering disciplines with comparisons. The laboratory portion of the course includes design projects from various engineering disciplines.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

MSE 221 Living in a Materials World (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 114 or concurrent enrollment. No credit if taken after MSCI 100.
Processing and structure's impact on materials properties and performance. Societal benefits of sustainable, biomimetic, or responsible materials selection.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
MSE 256 Introduction to Computer Aided Design (1 cr)
Prerequisite: MATH 109 or concurrent enrollment.

The course provides an introduction to 3-dimensional computer aided design and modeling.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

MSE 315 Materials Characterization (4 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 103 or CHEM 115 and PHYS 211 or PHYS 231.

A survey of commonly used materials characterization methods (XPS, SEM, AFM, XRD, XRF), including their theory of operation and hands-on experience. Includes a discussion of the measurement process and instrumental analysis of samples.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 4

MSE 334 Soft Materials (4 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 325

Includes in-depth soft materials topics such as synthesis and processing, structure-property relationships, and applications of soft materials.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MSE 350 Thermodynamics of Materials (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MSCI 100 or MSE 221; CHEM 104 or CHEM 115; MATH 215; PHYS 232 or concurrent enrollment.

Survey of the laws of thermodynamics and their application in Materials Science including phase equilibria. Aspects of quantum mechanics as they relate to Materials Science will be discussed.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MSE 357 Phase Transformation & Kinetics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MSE 221; MATH 215.

Phase transformations are explored with emphasis on microstructure development, the impact of diffusion, and nucleation/growth mechanisms.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MSE 367 Macroprocessing of Materials (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MSE 357

Processing approaches for major categories of bulk materials. Topics range from raw materials to forming and finishing of final products.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MSE 368 Macroprocessing Materials Lab (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MSE 367 or concurrent enrollment.

Practical and analytical aspects of processing techniques and investigation of structure-property-processing relationships using hands-on experiences.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 6

MSE 372 Transport Phenomena (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 312

Principles of momentum, heat, and mass transport. Applications of appropriate differential equations and boundary conditions to solve problems in materials processing.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MSE 374 Physics of Solids (4 crs)
Prerequisite: PHYS 332 or MSE 350

• Credit may not be earned in both MSE 374 and PHYS 374.

A description of the behaviors of crystalline solids. Topics include crystallography, diffraction, and the electrical, optical and magnetic properties of materials. Semiconducting materials and devices will also be discussed.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MSE 386 MS&E Junior Seminar I (0.5 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to Pre-Materials Science and Engineering or Materials Science and Engineering majors
• Must be admitted to MSE by first day of class.

Career preparation for Materials Science & Engineering majors. Will include seminars with external speakers and class discussions of relevant issues.

Lab/Studio Hours: 0
Seminar Hours: .5

MSE 387 MS&E Junior Seminar II (0.5 crs)
Prerequisite: MSE 386; Limited to Materials Science and Engineering majors

The second course in the junior seminar course sequence. Will include seminars with external speakers and class discussions of relevant issues.

Lab/Studio Hours: 0
Seminar Hours: .5

MSE 388 MS&E Junior Seminar I (0.5 crs)
Prerequisite: MSE 386; Limited to Materials Science and Engineering majors

The second course in the junior seminar course sequence. Will include seminars with external speakers and class discussions of relevant issues.

Lab/Studio Hours: 0
Seminar Hours: .5

MSE 451 Computational Materials Science (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MSE 350 or PHYS 333 or CHEM 434.

Theory and application of computational methods to model, understand and predict the behavior of materials. Labs provide hands-on experience in solving real materials problems using computational approaches.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 4
MSE 475 Nanomaterials (3 crs)
Prerequisite: CHEM 104 or 115, and one of the following: MSE 350, or PHYS 333, or CHEM 434.

Quantum behavior and statistical mechanics of nanomaterials, plus modern synthesis methods, electronic and optical applications, biomaterials.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MSE 486 MS&E Capstone I (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MSE 256; MSE 350; MSE 387 or departmental consent

First of a two-course capstone sequence. Hands-on, project-based experiences including engineering design, problem solving and Computer Aided Design (CAD).

Lab/Studio Hours: 0
Seminar Hours: 4

MSE 487 MS&E Capstone II (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MSE 487

Second of a two-course capstone sequence. Conclusion of student-designed projects accompanied by preparation of multiple technical documents.

Lab/Studio Hours: 0
Seminar Hours: 4

Mathematics (MATH)

MATH 10 Basic Mathematics and Elementary Algebra (4 crs)
Prerequisite: For students with minimal high school mathematics or appropriate score on the mathematics placement test.

- No credit if taken after credit is earned in any higher-numbered mathematics course. This course is graded on a letter grade basis. The grade received is used in calculating semester, resident, and total GPAs.

Develops basic mathematics and elementary algebraic skills necessary for further study of algebra.

Grading Basis: No Auditors
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 4

MATH 20 Intermediate Algebra (4 crs)
Prerequisite: A grade of C or above in MATH 10, or one year of college-preparatory algebra and an appropriate score on the mathematics placement test.

- This course is graded on a letter grade basis. The grade received is used in calculating semester, resident, and total GPAs. No credit if taken after credit is earned in any higher-numbered mathematics course except MATH 106 or MATH 107.

The real number system, linear equations and inequalities, operations on polynomials and rational expressions, factoring, solutions of quadratic equations, Cartesian coordinates, functions, and related applications.

Grading Basis: No Auditors
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 104 Finite Mathematics with Applications (4 crs)
Prerequisite: Grade of C or above in MATH 20, or two years of college-preparatory algebra and a suitable mathematics placement test score. No credit if taken after MATH 114, MATH 212, MATH 314, or MATH 346.

This course will cover applications from Economics, Social and Biological Sciences. The topics include sets, functions, counting principles, probability, solutions of linear systems by graphical and algebraic methods, matrices, linear programming, problem formulation, and using graphs and trees.

Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills, LE-S2 Mathematics
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 106 Introduction to Mathematical Thinking (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 20, or two years of college-preparatory algebra and a suitable mathematics placement test score. Credit may not be earned in both MATH 106 and MATH 101.

- May not be counted for credit toward a major or minor in mathematics.

An accessible introduction to some interesting mathematical topics that require analytical thinking and abstract reasoning skills.

Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills, LE-S2 Mathematics
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 107 Mathematics in Latin American Cultures (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 20, or two years of college-preparatory algebra and a suitable mathematics placement test score.

- May not be counted for credit toward a major or minor in mathematics.

This course introduces important mathematical concepts and topics, such as number and arithmetic systems, symmetry, and data structure, using the cultural lenses of pre-Columbian Latin American indigenous cultures.

Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills, LE-S2 Mathematics
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
MATH 108 Earth Algebra (4 crs)
Prerequisite: A grade of C or above in MATH 20, or two years of college-preparatory algebra and a suitable mathematics placement test score. No credit if taken after MATH 109 or MATH 110.

- May not be counted for credit toward a major or minor in mathematics.

Modeling real data drawn from biology, the environment, finance, and other physical systems. Topics include the development of linear, polynomial, exponential and logarithmic functions, and the rate of change in an applied setting.

Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills, LE-R3 Civic and Environmental Issues, LE-S2 Mathematics
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 109 Algebra for Calculus (4 crs)
Prerequisite: A grade of C or above in MATH 20, or two years of college-preparatory algebra and a suitable mathematics placement test score.

- May not be counted for credit toward a major or minor in mathematics.

Algebraic concepts, techniques, and applications including polynomial and rational expressions, linear and quadratic equations, complex numbers, inequalities, absolute value, functions and graphs, exponential and logarithmic functions, systems of equations and inequalities, and zeros of polynomials. This course is for students pursuing degree programs that require calculus.

Attributes: LE-S2 Mathematics
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 110 A Short Course in Calculus (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 109, or a grade of B or above in MATH 108, or three years of above-average work in college-prep MATH and a suitable mathematics placement test score.

- May not be counted for credit toward a major or minor in mathematics.

Primarily for students in biology, business, economics, psychology, and sociology. Functions, limits, continuity, derivatives, integrals, and applications.

Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills, LE-S2 Mathematics
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 113 Trigonometry (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 109, or a grade of B or above in MATH 108, or three years of above-average work in college-prep MATH and a suitable mathematics placement test score. Credit may not be earned in both MATH 113 and MATH 112.

- May not be counted for credit toward a major or minor in mathematics.

Graphs, properties, and geometric significance of trigonometric functions of a real variable. Other topics include trigonometric equations and identities, inverse trigonometric functions and applications.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 114 Calculus I (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 109 and MATH 112, or MATH 113, or four years of above-average work in college-prep mathematics, including one semester of trigonometry and a suitable mathematics placement test score.

Limits, theory, and application of the derivative; introduction to integration.

Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills, LE-S2 Mathematics
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 150 Introduction to the Actuarial Career (1 cr)
- No credit if take after Math 291 when offered as Introduction to the Actuarial Career

Designed to start or further efforts in understanding the actuarial profession and to prepare students for an actuarial job search.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 0
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

MATH 201 Number and Operations I (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 20, or two years of college-preparatory algebra and a suitable math placement test score. Limited to elementary and special education majors and minors.

Mathematical knowledge for teachers based on practice/content standards. Topics include: number systems, number theory, and integer algorithms.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 202 Number and Operations II (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 201. Limited to elementary and special education majors and minors.

Mathematical knowledge for teachers based on practice/content standards. Topics include: fractions, ratios/proportions, and decimals.

Attributes: LE-S2 Mathematics
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
MATH 203 Mathematics for Elementary/Middle School Teachers I (3 crs)
Prerequisite: A grade of C or above in MATH 20, or two years of college-preparatory algebra and a suitable math placement test score. Limited to elementary or special education majors and minors.
- May not be counted for credit toward a major or minor in mathematics.

An integrated study of mathematics content, methods, and curricula. Topics include problem solving, reasoning, whole numbers and numeration with an emphasis on cognitively guided instruction, elementary number theory, integers.

Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 204 Mathematics for Elementary/Middle School Teachers II (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 203. Limited to elementary and special education majors and minors. Minimum sophomore standing.
- Counts only toward the elementary teaching minor in mathematics.

An integrated study of mathematics content, methods, and curricula. Topics include number theory, the rational numbers, ratio and proportion, the real number system and probability. Emphasis on communication and algebraic thinking. Practicum experience included.

Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 212 Calculus and Business Mathematics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 111 or MATH 114.
- May not be counted toward a major in mathematics.

Multivariate calculus, matrix algebra, linear programming, mathematics of finance, and business-oriented applications.

Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 215 Calculus II (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 114

Applications and techniques of integration; improper integrals; sequences and series; power series and Taylor's formula.

Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 216 Calculus III (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215

Introduction to functions of several variables, including partial derivatives, multiple integrals, the calculus of vector-valued functions, and Green's Theorem, Stokes' Theorem, and the Divergence Theorem.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 245 Introduction to Statistics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: One year of high school algebra. No credit if taken after MATH 345, MATH 347, or PSYC 265. Credit may not be earned in both MATH 245 and MATH 246.

Basic statistical analysis, including descriptive statistics, probability, confidence intervals, hypothesis testing, simple linear regression, and correlation.

Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 246 Elementary Statistics (4 crs)
Prerequisite: A grade of C or above in MATH 20, or two years of college-preparatory algebra and a suitable mathematics placement test score.
- May not be counted for credit toward a major or minor in mathematics with the exception of the Middle Childhood/Early Adolescence minor in mathematics.

Basic statistical analysis, including descriptive statistics, probability, confidence intervals, hypothesis testing, simple linear regression, correlation, Chi-Square, and Analysis of Variance.

Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills, LE-S2 Mathematics
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 291 Special Topics (1-3 crs)
Topics will vary, depending on interest of students and faculty.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 9 credits

MATH 297 Developmental Tutoring Techniques (1 cr)
- May not be counted for credit toward a major or minor in mathematics except in the Comprehensive Major: Mathematics Teaching emphasis or the Minor: Mathematics, Middle Childhood/Early Adolescence, Teaching.

Training and tutoring for developmental mathematics courses.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits
Seminar Hours: 1

MATH 299 Special Topics (1-3 crs)
Topics will vary, depending on interest of students and faculty.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 9 credits

MATH 303 Probability and Statistics in Grades 1-8 (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 201. Limited to elementary and special education majors and minors. Minimum sophomore standing.

Mathematical knowledge for teachers based on practice/content standards. Topics include: linear functions, statistics, probability, and expected value.

Attributes: LE-S2 Mathematics
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
MATH 304 Geometry in Grades 1-8 (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 201. Limited to elementary and special education majors and minors. Minimum sophomore standing.
Mathematical knowledge for teachers based on practice/content standards. Topics include: 2D & 3D figures, transformations, and non-linear functions.
Attributes: LE-S2 Mathematics
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 305 Mathematics for Elementary/Middle School Teachers III (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 204 or concurrent enrollment. Exceptions to the MATH 204 prerequisite may be made with the instructor’s approval. Limited to elementary and special education majors and minors. Minimum junior standing.
Counts only toward the elementary teaching minor in mathematics.
An integrated study of mathematics content, methods, and curricula. Topics include statistics, measurement, geometries, patterns, and functions. Emphasis on communication and algebraic thinking. Practicum experience included.
Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 307 Mathematics and Music (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 114 (or equivalent) or consent of instructor.
Using mathematics to understand, appreciate, and create music. Free audio processing software will be emphasized. Rock, jazz, classical, and experimental music will be analyzed. Connections are made to brain science and medicine.
Attributes: GE V University Wide, LE-I1 Integration, LE-S3 Creativity, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 311 Differential Equations (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 216. Credit may not be earned in both MATH 311 and MATH 312.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 312 Differential Equations and Linear Algebra (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215. Credit may not be earned in both MATH 311 and MATH 312.
Linear algebra: basis, dimension, matrix algebra, determinants, inverses, systems of linear equations, eigenvalues/eigenvectors. (Optional) matrices as linear transformations. Differential equations: first-order linear, separable; second-order linear with constant coefficients; higher order differential equations; first-order linear systems with constant coefficients; Laplace transforms; power series solutions. (Optional) Proof of Existence and Uniqueness Theorems.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 313 Digital Signal Processing (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215 or consent of instructor.
Fundamentals of digital signal processing. Fourier series, Fourier transforms and computerized Fourier transforms (FFTs) are described and applied to the analysis of digitized audio and digitized images.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 314 Discrete Mathematics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 114 or MATH 212. No credit if taken after CS 240.
Introductory course in discrete mathematics. Topics include elementary combinatorics, graph theory, trees, and Boolean algebra. The course emphasizes an algorithmic approach to problem solving.
Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 315 Advanced Calculus I (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 216 and MATH 324.
Differential and integral calculus of several variables; vector calculus; line, surface, and space integrals including Green’s theorem, Divergence theorem, and Stokes’ theorem.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 316 Introduction to Real Analysis (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 216 and MATH 324.
Real numbers, introductory topological topics, limits, sequences of numbers, continuity, sequences of functions, and series.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

</table>
MATH 346 Introduction to Probability (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 216 or concurrent enrollment. Credit may not be earned in both MATH 345 and MATH 346.
Probability in discrete and continuous sample spaces; conditional probability; counting techniques; probability functions; binomial, Poisson, normal distributions; and transformations of variables.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 347 Mathematical Statistics (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215; MATH 346.
Normal, chi-square, t, and F distributions; estimation; hypothesis testing; regression and correlation; analysis of variance; nonparametric statistics; and introduction to Bayesian inference.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

MATH 350 Introduction to Financial Mathematics (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215 or consent of instructor.
Mathematical theory of interest and discount, annuities, yield rates, amortization, sinking funds, securities valuation, and an introduction to financial derivatives. This course is meant, in part, to prepare students for the second actuarial examination.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 351 Numerical Analysis I (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215
Nonlinear equations, interpolation and approximation, least squares, systems of linear equations, and error analysis.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 352 Numerical Analysis II (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215 and either one of the following: CS 163, CS 170, CS 255 (now CS 335), or consent of instructor.
Numerical solution of differential equations, numerical differentiation and integration, and the eigenvalue problem.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 354 Introduction to Mathematical Modeling (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215
Discrete dynamical systems, discrete and continuous stochastic models, empirical modeling using regression theory and interpolation techniques, modeling with differential equations and, depending on the interests of the instructor and students, topics from optimization and dimensional analysis.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 355 Linear Programming (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215
Introductory topics in linear programming including computational development of the simplex method, duality theory of linear programming, dual simplex method, transportation problem, and the use of a linear programming package.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 358 Introduction to Optimization (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215
An introduction to the theory and application of optimization techniques. Analytic and numerical methods for linear and nonlinear problems of both constrained and unconstrained type will be considered.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 363 Studies of Women in Mathematics (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: WMNS 100 or WMNS 215 or WMNS 250 or WMNS 301; completion of mathematics competency.
• May not be counted for credit toward a major or minor in mathematics.
Studies of the history and contributions of women in mathematics, and of special interest to students and faculty. The particular focus will vary.
Attributes: GE V University Wide, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits

MATH 365 Patterns of Problem Solving (4 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum-level University Mathematics Competency.
• May not be counted for credit toward a major or minor in mathematics except in mathematics teaching programs.
Provides tools and concepts needed in problem solving in a variety of disciplines.
Attributes: GE IB Communication-Analytical Skills
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
MATH 373 Issues in Secondary Mathematics (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215; MATH 330 or concurrent enrollment. Limited to mathematics teaching majors.
- This is a hybrid offering with 3 hours per week offered face to face and 1 hour per week offered online.

An integrated study of mathematical topics taught in grades 5-12 with a focus on increasing pedagogical content knowledge. Topics covered include algebraic, geometric, and other relevant issues in secondary mathematics.

Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 380 Research Methods (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 324 or consent of instructor.

Introduction to research methods in mathematics. Topics include: background research, methods of proof, mathematical writing, and presentation skills.

Attributes: LE-S3 Creativity
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 395 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: 2.00 GPA in mathematics.
Consent: Department Consent Required

For the student who wishes to pursue independent study of a topic in mathematics under the supervision of a member of the mathematics department.

Repeat: Course may be repeated

MATH 399 Independent Study - Juniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required

Individual project under the direction of a faculty member.

Repeat: Course may be repeated

MATH 425 Abstract Algebra I (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 324

An introduction to the abstract concepts of algebra such as groups, rings, and fields. Topics such as direct products, group homomorphisms, factor groups, integral domains, and polynomial rings will be included.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 426 Abstract Algebra II (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 425/MATH 625. No credit if taken after MATH 322.

A continuation of Math 425 including more advanced topics from groups, rings, and fields, such as the Sylow theorems, prime and maximal ideals, unique factorization domains, and finite fields.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 440 Digital Image Processing (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215
- Credit may not be earned in both MATH 440 and PHYS 440.

Applications of Fourier analysis and wavelets to optics and image processing. Topics include: diffraction, wave optical theory of lenses and imaging, wavelets, and image processing.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 441 Linear Regression Analysis, with Time Series (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 345 or MATH 347 or MATH 246 with consent of instructor and MATH 114.

Simple and multiple regression, transformation of variables, model checking, analysis of residuals, regression diagnostics, stepwise regression, index variables, confidence intervals, and computer software; overview of time series and forecasting methods.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 443 Experimental Design and Analysis (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 345 or MATH 347; or MATH 246 with consent of instructor.

Basic concepts of statistical design of experiments; linear models; randomized block, Latin square, factorial, fractional factorial, rotatable, and incomplete block designs and applications.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 445 Survey Sampling (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 345 or MATH 347; or MATH 246 with consent of instructor.

Survey sampling including random sampling, stratified sampling, cluster sampling, and design of surveys.

Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
MATH 447 Nonparametric Statistics (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 345 or MATH 347; or MATH 246 with consent of instructor.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 450 Foundations of Actuarial Science (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Admission to the Actuarial Science program
Actuarial theory of financial mathematical models for contingent events as applied to insurance, annuities, pensions, and reserving. Together with Math 460, this course prepares students for the actuarial exam covering contingent payments.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 451 Teaching Mathematics with Technology (4 crs)
Prerequisite: ES 203 or ES 210/ES 211 or ES 212; MATH 114. Credit may not be earned in both MATH 451/MATH 651 and MATH 453/MATH 653.
• May not be counted for credit toward a major or minor in mathematics except in mathematics teaching programs.

In this course students will investigate teaching mathematics effectively with technology. Technology used includes graphing calculators, spreadsheets, interactive software, and calculator based laboratories. Topics include functions, statistics, probability, geometry, and mathematical modeling.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 456 Operations Research (2-3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215
• Students who have earned credit in an upper-division linear programming course may earn only two credits in this course. This two-credit option is available only to those who have taken such a course. For students earning two credits due to this restriction, attendance will be optional during the linear programming unit.

An introduction to the theory and application of operations research techniques. Several important topics including linear programming, inventory models, waiting time models, and replacement models will be discussed.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering

MATH 460 Contingent Payment Analysis (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 450 and Admission to the Actuarial Science Program (Code 180-001).
Actuarial theory of reserves, multiple life models, multiple decrement models, Poisson processes, and multi-state transition models. Together with Math 450, this course prepares students for the actuarial exam covering contingent payments.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 462 History of Mathematics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 114
A study of mathematics from a historical point of view beginning with the work of the early Greek mathematicians and including selected mathematicians and periods of mathematical development up to the present.
Attributes: LE-I1 Integration, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 470 Mathematical Models for Financial Economics (4 crs)
Prerequisite: Admission to the Actuarial Science Program (Code 180-001).
Mathematical theory of options including binomial and Black-Scholes pricing models, interest rate models, lognormal models and volatility measurement. This course is meant, in part, to prepare students for the actuarial exam covering financial economics.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 475 Credibility and Loss Models (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 347. Admitted to Actuarial Science Program. No credit if taken after MATH 491 when offered as Introduction to Credibility & Loss Models.
Study of actuarial models for frequency, severity, and aggregate distributions, as well as Bayesian and Bühlmann credibility.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 480 Research Seminar (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 380 or consent of instructor
Individual research projects in mathematics under the supervision of a member of the mathematics faculty, culminating in research project presentations.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
Seminar Hours: 2
MATH 491 Special Topics (1-3 crs)
A variable content course designed to allow a breadth of study through investigation of mathematical topics not covered in other courses. Special interests of instructors will be utilized to provide topics.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 9 credits

MATH 493 Capstone Seminar (1 cr)
Prerequisite: Minimum senior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
An intensive study of selected topics including written and/or oral presentations by the students. The topics will connect ideas from across the mathematics major.
Attributes: Capstone Course
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 3 credits
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 494 Mathematics Seminar (1 cr)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.
An intensive study of selected topics in mathematics. The exact topics to be studied will vary according to the interests of the professor and the seminar participants.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 3 credits
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 497 Honors Seminar (1 cr)
Prerequisite: Grade of B+ or above in MATH 216.
* Admission to Department Honors Program.
An intensive study of selected topics in mathematics. The exact topics to be studied will vary according to the interests of the professor and the seminar participants.
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 3 credits
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 498 Mathematics Internship (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 216. Limited to mathematics majors and minors. Minimum junior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
* May not count toward the minimal number of credits required for a mathematics major or minor.
Provides supervised on-the-job experience in an area of interest with mathematical content.
Attributes: Service-Learning Optional, Internship
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits
Grading Basis: No Auditors

MATH 499 Independent Study - Seniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum senior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
Individual project under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

MATH 507 Mathematics and Music (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 114 (or equivalent) or consent of instructor.
* Cross-listed with MATH 307. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
Using mathematics to understand, appreciate, and create music. Free audio processing software will be emphasized. Rock, jazz, classical, and experimental music will be analyzed. Connections are made to brain science and medicine.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 511 Differential Equations (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 216. Credit may not be earned in both MATH 311/MATH 511 and MATH 312.
* Cross-listed with MATH 311. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 513 Digital Signal Processing (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215 or consent of instructor.
* Cross-listed with MATH 313. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
Fundamentals of digital signal processing. Fourier series, Fourier transforms and computerized Fourier transforms (FFTs) are described and applied to the analysis of digitized audio and digitized images.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 514 Discrete Mathematics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 114 or MATH 212. No credit if taken after CS 240.
* Cross-listed with MATH 314. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
Introductory course in discrete mathematics. Topics include elementary combinatorics, graph theory, trees, and Boolean algebra. The course emphasizes an algorithmic approach to problem solving.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
MATH 515 Advanced Calculus I (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 216 and MATH 324/MATH 524.
• Cross-listed with MATH 315. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
Differential and integral calculus of several variables; vector calculus; line, surface, and space integrals including Green’s theorem, Divergence theorem, and Stokes’ theorem.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 516 Introduction to Real Analysis (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 216 and MATH 324/MATH 524.
• Cross-listed with MATH 316. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
Real numbers, introductory topological topics, limits, sequences of numbers, continuity, sequences of functions, and series.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 518 Introduction to Complex Variables (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 216
• Cross-listed with MATH 318. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
Elementary functions of a complex variable, complex integrals, and residue theory.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 524 Linear Algebra and Matrix Theory (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215
• Cross-listed with MATH 324. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
An introductory course in linear algebra including matrix algebra, systems of linear equations, vector spaces, linear transformations, eigenvalues, and applications. Also covers methods of proof and a survey of student-faculty research.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 530 Modern Geometry (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 114
• Cross-listed with MATH 330. Credit may not be earned in both courses. Requires basic knowledge of Euclidean Geometry.
Contemporary and classical Euclidean geometry, with emphasis on constructions, transformations, and proof. The Mira and geometry software will be used to illustrate these topics. Some non-Euclidean geometry included.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 535 Introduction to Point-Set Topology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 324/MATH 524
• Cross-listed with MATH 335. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
Theory of sets, continuity of functions, neighborhoods of points, topological and metric spaces, connectedness and compactness.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 545 Introduction to Probability and Mathematical Statistics (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215 or concurrent registration. Credit may not be earned in both MATH 345/MATH 545 and MATH 346/MATH 546.
• Cross-listed with MATH 345. Credit may not be earned in both courses. MATH 246 may not be taken for credit after or concurrently with MATH 345/MATH 545.
Counting techniques, discrete and continuous random variables, probability distributions, sampling distributions, estimation, hypothesis testing, linear regression, correlation, nonparametric statistics. Students who desire more extensive probability and statistics should take MATH 346/MATH 546, MATH 347/MATH 547.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 546 Introduction to Probability (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 216 or concurrent enrollment. Credit may not be earned in both MATH 345/MATH 545 and MATH 346/MATH 546.
• Cross-listed with MATH 346. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
Probability in discrete and continuous sample spaces; conditional probability; counting techniques; probability functions; binomial, Poisson, normal distributions; and transformations of variables.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 547 Mathematical Statistics (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215; MATH 346/MATH 546.
• Cross-listed with MATH 347. Credit may not be earned in both courses. MATH 246 may not be taken for credit after or concurrently with MATH 347/MATH 547.
Normal, chi-square, t, and F distributions; estimation; hypothesis testing; regression and correlation; analysis of variance; nonparametric statistics; and introduction to Bayesian inference.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2
MATH 551 Numerical Analysis I (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215
- Cross-listed with MATH 351. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Nonlinear equations, interpolation and approximation, least squares, systems of linear equations, and error analysis.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 552 Numerical Analysis II (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215 and either one of the following: CS 163, CS 170, CS 335, or consent of instructor.
- Cross-listed with MATH 352. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Numerical solution of differential equations, numerical differentiation and integration, and the eigenvalue problem.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 554 Introduction to Mathematical Modeling (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215
- Cross-listed with MATH 354. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Discrete dynamical systems, discrete and continuous stochastic models, empirical modeling using regression theory and interpolation techniques, modeling with differential equations and, depending on the interests of the instructor and students, topics from optimization and dimensional analysis.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 555 Linear Programming (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215
- Cross-listed with MATH 355. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Introductory topics in linear programming including computational development of the simplex method, duality theory of linear programming, dual simplex method, transportation problem, and the use of a linear programming package.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 558 Introduction to Optimization (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215
- Cross-listed with MATH 358. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

An introduction to the theory and application of optimization techniques. Analytic and numerical methods for linear and nonlinear problems of both constrained and unconstrained type will be considered.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 563 Studies of Women in Mathematics (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: WMNS 100 or WMNS 215 or WMNS 250 or WMNS 301.
- Cross-listed with MATH 363 and WMNS 363/WMNS 563.

Studies of the history and contributions of women in mathematics, and of special interest to students and faculty. The particular focus will vary.

Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

MATH 625 Abstract Algebra I (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 324/MATH 524
- Cross-listed with MATH 425. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

An introduction to the abstract concepts of algebra such as groups, rings, and fields. Topics such as direct products, group homomorphisms, factor groups, integral domains, and polynomial rings will be included.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 626 Abstract Algebra II (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 425/MATH 625. No credit if taken after MATH 322.
- Cross-listed with MATH 426. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

A continuation of Math 425 including more advanced topics from groups, rings, and fields, such as the Sylow theorems, prime and maximal ideals, unique factorization domains, and finite fields.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 650 Foundations of Actuarial Science (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Admission to Actuarial Science program (Code 180-001).
- Cross-listed with MATH 450. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Actuarial theory of financial mathematical models for contingent events as applied to insurance, annuities, pensions, and reserving. Together with Math 460, this course prepares students for the actuarial exam covering contingent payments.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

| MATH 651    | Teaching Mathematics with Technology (4 crs)               | Prerequisite: ES 203 or ES 210/ES 211 or ES 212; MATH 414. Credit may not be earned in both MATH 451/MATH 651 and MATH 453/MATH 653.
  - Cross-listed with MATH 451. Credit may not be earned in both courses. May not be counted for credit toward a major or minor in mathematics except in mathematics teaching programs.  |
|             | In this course students will investigate teaching mathematics effectively with technology. Technology used includes graphing calculators, spreadsheets, interactive software, and calculator based laboratories. Topics include functions, statistics, probability, geometry, and mathematical modeling.  |

| MATH 656    | Operations Research (2-3 crs)                              | Prerequisite: MATH 215
  - Cross-listed with MATH 456. Credit may not be earned in both courses. Students who have earned credit in an upper division linear programming course may earn only two credits in this course. This two-credit option is available only to those who have taken such a course. For students earning two credits due to this restriction, attendance will be optional during the linear programming unit.  |
|             | An introduction to the theory and application of operations research techniques. Several important topics including linear programming, inventory models, waiting time models, and replacement models will be discussed.  |
|             | Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option                         |

MATH 707 Current Issues in Mathematics Teaching (3 crs)

A particular current trend in mathematics education will be the theme for each offering. Focus will be on mathematical content necessary to design instruction and develop curriculum. Nonthematic issues will also be discussed.

Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 710 Selected Topics in Calculus (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum eight credits of Calculus or consent of instructor
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

An in-depth investigation of elementary calculus from an advanced viewpoint, including functions, limits, continuity, integrals, derivatives, and related applications.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 719 Introduction to Real Analysis (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215

Selected topics including sets, the real number system, mappings, sequences, limits, continuity, the derivative, and the integral.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 721 Foundations of Algebra (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 425/MATH 625

Set theory, mappings, the integers, groups, rings, and vector spaces.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 731 Vector Methods in Geometry (3 crs)

Applications of vector methods to Euclidean geometry.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 732 Advanced Geometry (3 crs)
Prerequisite: One course in Calculus

Advanced study of geometry including Euclidean, non-Euclidean, projective, and affine geometries.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 742 Logic and Mathematics (3 crs)

Symbolic logic and its use in mathematics, including proof, demonstration, and applications in abstract mathematical systems.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 748 Applied Statistical Procedures (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 246 or consent of instructor.

Includes methods of estimation, parametric and non-parametric tests of significance, linear regression and correlation, and analysis of variance for one-way or two-way crossed classified data. Applications include the use of computers.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 749 Probability and Statistics Workshop (3 crs)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

Applications of probability and statistics which can be used by the secondary school teacher to motivate and enrich traditional mathematics classes and as topics in upper-level classes where some course content in probability or statistics is desired.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 751 Technology in Mathematics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 216

Requires basic knowledge of Euclidean geometry.

The use of graphing calculators and computer software to enhance understanding of mathematical concepts and to formulate statements of theorems and solutions to problems is explored.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MATH 755 Linear and Nonlinear Programming (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 216 and MATH 324/MATH 524.

Introductory topics in linear and nonlinear programming including the simplex method for solving a linear program and Wolf’s method for solving a quadratic program; and duality theory for linear, quadratic, and nonlinear programming.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
MATH 765 Number Theory (3 crs)
Foundations of number theory emphasizing congruences, selected number theoretic functions, Diophantine equations, continued fractions, and other classical problems.

Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

---

MATH 791 Special Topics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to MAT/MST MATH or MEPD program.
- Permission of academic program adviser required.

A variable content course designed to allow breadth of study through investigation of mathematical topics not covered in other courses.

Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 12 credits
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

---

MATH 793 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)
Permits students to undertake independent studies under the direction of a graduate faculty member.

Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

---

MATH 794 Graduate Mathematics Seminar (1 cr)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

Lab/Studio Hours: 0
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

MATH 795 Research Paper (1-2 crs)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: PR Only Grade Basis
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1

---

MATH 797 Independent Study (1-3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required

Individual project under the direction of a faculty member.

Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

---

MATH 799 Thesis (1-6 crs)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
- Full-time equivalent.

A description of acceptable topics and the precise nature of the thesis requirement is provided in the departmental program descriptions.

Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: PR Only Grade Basis

Military Science and Leadership (MSL)

MSL 101 Leadership and Personal Development (1 cr)
- One off-campus training event required. Lab and Physical Training required (see Schedule).

Introduction to the Army profession and military leadership. Personal development includes goal setting, time management, physical fitness and stress management. Lab includes squad movement, map reading, first aid and formations. Physical Training is composed of techniques to improve muscular strength and endurance and cardio-respiratory capacity. Includes strength and aerobic exercises, water confidence training, distance running, military drills and team sports. Physical Training attendance required one day per week. Open to all students.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
Physical Training Hours: 1

---

MSL 102 Introduction to Tactical Leadership (1 cr)
- One off-campus training event required. Lab and Physical Training required (see Schedule).

Basic leadership fundamentals such as problem solving, oral and written communication, goal setting and tactical knowledge. Exploration of leadership theories, attributes and traits. Lab includes team tactics, map reading, marksmanship and marching techniques. Physical Training consists of techniques to improve muscular strength and endurance and cardio-respiratory capacity. Includes strength and aerobic exercises, water confidence training, distance running, military drills and team sports. Physical Training attendance required one day per week. Open to all students.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
Physical Training Hours: 1
MSL 201 Innovative Team Leadership (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MSL 102 or consent of instructor.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
- One off-campus training event required. Lab and Physical Training required (see Schedule).

Explores innovative tactical leadership strategies and styles by examining team dynamics and leadership theories. Students broaden their knowledge of communications, land navigation and tactics, which are practiced in lab. Physical Training attendance required two days per week. Open to all students.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2
Physical Training Hours: 2

MSL 202 Foundations of Tactical Leadership (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MSL 201 or consent of instructor.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
- One off-campus training event required. Lab and Physical Training required (see Schedule).

Continues study of leadership principles emphasizing leadership analysis and leadership self-assessment. Students integrate map reading with tactical planning and develop operations orders. Lab applies basic team leadership during practical exercises in a field environment. Physical Training consists of techniques to improve muscular strength and endurance and cardio-respiratory capacity. Includes strength and aerobic exercises, water confidence training, distance running, military drills and team sports. Physical Training attendance required two days per week. Open to all students.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2
Physical Training Hours: 2

MSL 301 Adaptive Team Leadership (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MSL 101, MSL 102, MSL 201, MSL 202 or consent of instructor.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
- Required off-campus training weekends. Lab and Physical Training required (see Schedule).

Students conduct leadership self-assessment, receiving direct and peer feedback. Apply advanced tactical skills and leadership in planning small-unit tactical training applying problem-solving techniques. Lab reinforces squad-level tactics, employing the troop-leading procedures. Physical Training consists of developing and leading programs to improve muscular strength and endurance and cardio-respiratory capacity. Includes strength and aerobic exercises, water confidence training, distance running, military drills and team sports. Physical Training attendance required three days per week. Open to all students.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Field Trip(s) Required
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 2
Physical Training Hours: 2

MSL 302 Applied Team Leadership (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MSL 301 or consent of instructor.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
- Required off-campus training weekends. Lab and Physical Training required (see Schedule).

Emphasis on writing operation orders, improving oral/written communications, and leadership analysis. Receive direct and peer feedback on leadership performance. Lab applies advanced tactics and leadership during patrol-size tactical training. Physical Training consists of developing and leading programs to improve muscular strength and endurance and cardio-respiratory capacity. Includes strength and aerobic exercises, water confidence training, distance running, military drills and team sports. Physical Training attendance required three days per week. Open to all students.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Field Trip(s) Required
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2
Physical Training Hours: 2

MSL 399 Military Science and Leadership Independent Study (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
- Required off-campus training weekends. Lab and Physical Training required (see Schedule).

Students propose an independent study project on a topic in military history, military tactics or political/military leadership to the Assistant Professor of Military Science. Projects may include library research or original empirical research. Students work independently, with supervising instructor providing oversight and assistance. Physical Training attendance required three days a week. Open to juniors and seniors.

Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1-3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2
Physical Training Hours: 3

MSL 401 Developing Adaptive Leaders (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MSL 302 or consent of instructor.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
- Required off-campus training weekends. Lab and Physical Training required (see Schedule).

Develop proficiency in planning and executing complex operations, functioning as a staff member and mentoring subordinates. Explore training management, staff collaboration and developmental counseling techniques. Lab instruction is designed to increase students' organizational-level, mentoring and assessment skills. Physical Training requires mentoring junior Cadets in techniques to improve muscular strength and endurance and cardio-respiratory capacity. Includes strength and aerobic exercises, water confidence training, distance running, military drills and team sports. Physical Training attendance required three days per week. Open to all students.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Field Trip(s) Required
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2
Physical Training Hours: 3
MSL 402 Leadership in a Complex World (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MSL 401 or consent of instructor.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
  • Required off-campus training weekends. Lab and Physical Training required (see Schedule).

Examine officership, study Army programs, and complete a battle analysis. Examine civilian, governmental, legal, and cultural factors of conducting military operations in an international environment. Lab instruction is designed to increase students' organizational level, mentoring and assessment skills. Physical Training requires mentoring junior Cadets in techniques to improve muscular strength and endurance and cardio-respiratory capacity. Includes strength and aerobic exercises, water confidence training, distance running, military drills and team sports. Physical Training attendance required three days per week. Open to all students.

Music (MUSI)

MUSI 100 Performing Arts On Stage (3 crs)
• No credit toward music major or minor programs. May not be repeated for credit.

Introduction to music listening and theatre appreciation. The course provides a working vocabulary for describing music and theatre while exploring the connection between performing arts and cultural context. In-class lectures/demonstrations are presented by performing arts faculty.

Attributes: GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MUSI 102 Fundamentals of Music (2 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after or concurrently with MUSI 141.
• No credit toward music major or minor programs. May be waived by examination.

Introduction to musical skills and notation: reading and notating simple music; singing; playing melodies, chords, and scales on recorder and piano; basics of pitch, rhythm, timbre, form, and texture.

Attributes: GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, LE-S3 Creativity
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MUSI 103 Introduction to Electric Guitar (2 crs)
• No credit toward music major or minor program.

Introduction to electric guitar for the non-music major/minor. Music notational and tablature reading, basic music theory concepts, elementary playing technique mastery, and technical equipment overview emphasized. No prior guitar knowledge needed.

Attributes: GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, LE-S3 Creativity
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 1

MUSI 104 Introduction to Piano (2 crs)
• No credit toward music major or minor programs.

An introduction to the keyboard for the non-music major/minor. Music reading, harmonization, improvisation, and basic music theory concepts will be emphasized. For the student with no prior keyboard knowledge.

Attributes: GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, LE-S3 Creativity
Grading Basis: No Auditors
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 1

MUSI 106 Class Piano (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MUSI 104 or keyboard placement exam.
Consent: Department Consent Required
• No credit toward music major or minor programs.

Fundamental piano knowledge with an introduction to repertoire, technique, harmonization, and sight-reading.

Attributes: GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, LE-S3 Creativity
Grading Basis: No Auditors
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MUSI 108 Advanced Class Piano (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MUSI 106 or keyboard placement exam.
Consent: Department Consent Required
• No credit toward music major or minor programs.

Designed for the student with some knowledge of piano. Sightreading, harmonization, transposition, technique, and repertoire are stressed in preparation for the proficiency examination given at course conclusion.

Attributes: GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, LE-S3 Creativity
Grading Basis: No Auditors
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

MUSI 110 Music Appreciation (3 crs)

Master works and historical eras of Western music; nontechnical, offered for enjoyment and enrichment of cultural background.

Attributes: GE IVA Humanities-Fine Arts, LE-K4 Fine Arts

PHIL 498 Internship in Philosophy (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to philosophy majors and minors. Minimum sophomore standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
Assignment in an area of philosophy emphasizing practical experience in the applied professional aspects of the discipline. Students will work closely with an internship supervisor or faculty member engaged in professional or occupational projects in the field.
Attributes: Service-Learning, Half 15 Hours, Internship
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 3 credits
Grading Basis: S/U Only Grade Basis

PHIL 499 Independent Study - Seniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum senior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
Individual project under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated
PHIL 506 Ethics of Health Care (3 crs)
Cross-listed with PHIL 306. Credit may not be earned in both courses.
Major ethical theories and their applications to personal and professional dimensions of health care functions. Survey of ethical problems that arise in health care situations through case studies.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHIL 545 Philosophy of Religion (3 crs)
Prerequisite: One course in philosophy or consent of instructor or RELS 210, RELS 315, RELS 350, RELS 470; or RELS 353/WMNS 353; or RELS 450/PHIL 450.
Cross-listed with PHIL 345 and RELS 345/RELS 545. Credit may only be earned in one of these courses.
Critical study of the subject of religion, including the nature, grounds, and limits of religious claims.
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHIL 595 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
Cross-listed with PHIL 395.
Work with instructor on a specific philosophical issue, problem, or activity.
Content of the course to be determined by the student and the instructor.
Recommended for non-majors.
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

PHIL 797 Independent Study (1-3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required
Individual project under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

Physics (PHYS)
PHYS 100 Physical Science (4 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after PHYS 110, PHYS 111, PHYS 211 or PHYS 231.
A conceptual study of physics using ideas of force and energy to understand motion, properties of matter, sound, light, and electricity and magnetism.
Attributes: GE IIE Natural Science-Physics, Lab Science, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, LE-K1L Natural Sciences with Lab
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

PHYS 115 Survey of Astronomy (3 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after PHYS 226 or PHYS 229.
A one-semester presentation of our current understanding of the universe, including the solar system, birth and death of stars, unusual phenomena such as black holes and quasars, evolution of galaxies and the universe, and our link with the cosmos.
Attributes: GE IIE Natural Science-Physics, LE-K1 Natural Sciences
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHYS 120 Introduction to Engineering (2 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 109 or concurrent enrollment.
A comprehensive study of the engineering design process. Discussion of engineering disciplines with comparisons. The laboratory portion of the course includes design projects from various engineering disciplines.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

PHYS 186 Introductory Seminar (0.5 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to physics liberal arts majors.
Students will explore avenues for obtaining an internship, discuss plans for participating in the required research project, attend the weekly Physics Seminar, develop academic plans, and participate in postgraduate planning.
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: .5
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
PHYS 205 Physics of Renewable Energy (4 crs)
Explores the basic physics principles behind various types of renewable energy sources. Discusses impact renewable energy sources have on mitigating global warming and climate change.
Attributes: GE IIE Natural Science-Physics, Lab Science, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, LE-K1L Natural Sciences with Lab, LE-R3 Civic and Environmental Issues
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

PHYS 211 General Physics (5 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after PHYS 231.
Fundamental principles of mechanics, heat, wave motion, and sound. Designed for students who desire a one-year non-calculus course in physics. Proficiency with algebraic and trigonometric operations is expected.
Attributes: GE IIE Natural Science-Physics, Lab Science, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, LE-K1L Natural Sciences with Lab
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

PHYS 212 General Physics (4 crs)
Prerequisite: PHYS 211. No credit if taken after PHYS 232.
A continuation of Physics 211 including topics in optics, electricity, magnetism, and modern physics.
Attributes: GE IIE Natural Science-Physics, Lab Science
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

PHYS 226 Astronomy-Solar System (4 crs)
- Three years high school mathematics assumed prior to enrollment in this course. Some night observing required.
The physical nature of the solar system, including earth motions, celestial coordinates, time, telescopes, moon, planets, sun, and origin of solar system.
Attributes: GE IIE Natural Science-Physics, Lab Science, LE-I1 Integration, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, LE-K1L Natural Sciences with Lab
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

PHYS 229 Astronomy-Stars and Galaxies (4 crs)
- Three years high school mathematics assumed prior to enrollment in this course. PHYS 226 is not a prerequisite. Some night observing required.
The physical nature of the universe, including stellar evolution, multiple and variable stars, the Milky Way galaxy, other galaxies, and origin of the universe.
Attributes: GE IIE Natural Science-Physics, Lab Science, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, LE-K1L Natural Sciences with Lab
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

PHYS 231 University Physics I (5 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 114 or concurrent enrollment.
Physics for science and engineering students, including the study of mechanics, simple harmonic motion, and wave motion.
Attributes: GE IIE Natural Science-Physics, Lab Science, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, LE-K1L Natural Sciences with Lab
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

PHYS 232 University Physics II (5 crs)
Prerequisite: PHYS 231; MATH 215 or concurrent enrollment
A continuation of Physics 231, including the study of electricity, magnetism, and optics.
Attributes: GE IIE Natural Science-Physics, Lab Science, LE-K1 Natural Sciences, LE-K1L Natural Sciences with Lab
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 2

PHYS 255 Statics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: PHYS 231; MATH 215 or concurrent registration.
Designed primarily for pre-engineering students. Includes static equilibrium of rigid bodies, centroids, analysis of structures, friction, and moments of inertia.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHYS 291 Special Topics (1-3 crs)
Content will be determined by the interests of students and faculty. May contain lecture or lab.

PHYS 308 Science of Musical Sound (3 crs)
Physical concepts related to production of tones and speech. Application to musical instruments and auditorium acoustics, with experimental demonstrations of vibrational phenomena and electronic sound analysis and synthesis. No prior physics or university mathematics assumed.
Attributes: GE IIE Natural Science-Physics, LE-K1 Natural Sciences
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHYS 315 The Mysterious Universe (3 crs)
A view of the world as revealed by contemporary physical thought. Topics include size and origin of universe, ultimate nature of matter; modern ideas of space, time and energy; possibilities of extraterrestrial life; and values and limitations of science.
Attributes: GE IIE Natural Science-Physics, LE-I1 Integration, LE-K1 Natural Sciences
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
PHYS 332 University Physics III (3 crs)
Prerequisite: PHYS 232 and MATH 215.
Physics for science and engineering students, including the study of fluids, heat, thermodynamics, relativity, and an introduction to modern physics.
Attributes: LE-I1 Integration
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHYS 333 Quantum Physics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: PHYS 332 and MATH 216.
Introduction to the experimental and theoretical basis of quantum physics, including particle aspects of radiation, matter waves, Bohr model of the atom, Schrodinger wave mechanics and its application to the hydrogen atom and multi-electron atoms.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHYS 340 Optics (4 crs)
Prerequisite: PHYS 232 and MATH 215.
Lecture and laboratory work cover geometrical and physical optics, image formation, optical instruments, interference, diffraction, polarization, and modern topics including lasers.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

PHYS 350 Electric and Electronic Circuits (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215 and grade of C or above in PHYS 232.
General introduction to electrical circuits and electronics including analysis of DC and AC circuits, simple passive filters, diodes, transistors, operational amplifiers, simple digital electronics, and circuit design and construction.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

PHYS 356 Dynamics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 215 and PHYS 255 (or MATH 255). No credit if taken after MATH 256. Credit may not be earned in both PHYS 356 and PHYS 365.
A continuation of Physics 255. Dynamics of rigid bodies, moments of inertia, work, energy, impulse, and momentum.
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHYS 360 Electronics (4 crs)
Prerequisite: PHYS 350 or consent of instructor.
Description, analysis, and laboratory measurements of digital and analog devices including transistor amplifiers, operational amplifiers, oscillators, gates, flip-flops, analog-digital converters, and microprocessors.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 3

PHYS 361 LabVIEW Basics (2 crs)
Prerequisite: PHYS 350 or concurrent enrollment.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Field trip(s) optional.
Lecture and laboratory work cover an introduction to the graphical programming language LabVIEW. LabVIEW has been widely adopted as the industry standard for computerized data acquisition, analysis and instrument control.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHYS 362 LabVIEW Applications (2 crs)
Prerequisite: PHYS 361 LabVIEW Basics
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Field trip(s) optional.
Lecture and laboratory exercises cover applications using the graphical programming language LabVIEW. Topics include advanced programming structures, CompactDAQ hardware, digital signal processing, motor control, encoders, PID process control, RS-232 instrument control, component testing, sensor monitoring.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHYS 363 LabVIEW cRIO (1 cr)
Prerequisite: PHYS 362 LabVIEW Applications
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
Lecture and laboratory exercises cover the theory and application of the cRIO automation controller using the graphical programming language LabVIEW. Topics include Real-Time operating system, field programmable gate array (FPGA) and network shared variables.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
PHYS 365 Theoretical Mechanics (4 crs)
Prerequisite: MATH 216, and a grade of C or above in PHYS 231. Credit may not be earned in both PHYS 356 and PHYS 365.
Newton’s laws, accelerated frames, central-force orbits, angular momentum of systems, coupled oscillations, generalized coordinates, and Lagrange’s equations.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHYS 367 Astrophysics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: PHYS 332
Physics applied to astronomical objects. The birth, structure, and evolution of stars are studied in detail. Nebulae, the interstellar medium, and stellar remnants are also investigated.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHYS 374 Physics of Solids (4 crs)
Prerequisite: PHYS 332 or MSE 350.
Credit may not be earned in both MSE 374 and PHYS 374.
A description of the behaviors of crystalline solids. Topics include crystallography, diffraction, and the electrical, optical and magnetic properties of materials. Semiconducting materials and devices will also be discussed.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHYS 375 Electromagnetic Fields (4 crs)
Prerequisite: PHYS 332, MATH 216, and MATH 311 or MATH 312.
Electric and magnetic fields, dielectric and magnetic properties of materials, and electromagnetic phenomena. Field theory leading to the development of Maxwell’s equations and the plane electromagnetic wave.
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 4
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHYS 392 Current Topics in the Physics Literature (1 cr)
Prerequisite: PHYS 332. Limited to physics liberal arts majors.
Each student will choose a topic for investigation using articles in the physics literature. The class will discuss and critique each individual’s project during class meetings. All students will write final summary papers.
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHYS 399 Independent Study - Juniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required
Individual project under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated
PHYS 486 Senior Seminar (0.5 crs)
Prerequisite: Limited to physics liberal arts majors, liberal arts emphasis; and physics liberal arts majors, applied physics emphasis.
Consent: Department Consent Required
• Students need to have completed an adviser-approved capstone project before entering this class. This can be accomplished through various means: PHYS 392, PHYS 399, PHYS 430, PHYS 495, PHYS 499, through an academic or industrial internship, or through another approved means.

Students will present a capstone project seminar, develop presentation skills (oral and poster), take a nationally normed test covering undergraduate physics, discuss their post-graduate plans, and assist the department in assessing the major.

Attributes: LE-S3 Creativity
Lecture/Discussion Hours: .5
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHYS 491 Special Topics (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: PHYS 333 and PHYS 365.

Content will be determined by the interests of students and faculty. Possible topics include astrophysics and solid state physics.

Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits

PHYS 495 Directed Study (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: PHYS 332; 2.75 GPA in physics. Limited to physics majors and minors.
Consent: Department Consent Required
• Limit of three credits counted toward major.

Special project or research activity, primarily on campus, and directed by a faculty member. Projects and topics available will be determined by the activities and interests of the faculty.

Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits

PHYS 499 Independent Study - Seniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum senior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required

Individual project under the direction of a faculty member.
Repeat: Course may be repeated

PHYS 561 LabVIEW Basics (2 crs)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
• Cross-listed with PHYS 361. Credit may not be earned in both courses. Field trip(s) optional.

Lecture and laboratory work cover an introduction to graphical programming language LabVIEW. LabVIEW has been widely adopted as the industry standard for computerized data acquisition, analysis and instrument control.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHYS 562 LabVIEW Applications (2 crs)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
• Cross-listed with PHYS 362. Credit may not be earned in both courses. Field trip(s) optional.

Lecture and laboratory exercises cover applications using the graphical programming language LabVIEW. Topics include advanced programming structures, Compact DAQ hardware, digital signal processing, motor control, encoders, PID Process control, RS-232 instrument control, component testing, sensor monitoring.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHYS 563 LabVIEW cRIO (1 cr)
Consent: Instructor Consent Required
• Cross-listed with PHYS 363. Credit may not be earned in both courses.

Lecture and laboratory exercises cover the theory and application of the cRIO automation controller using the graphical programming language LabVIEW. Topics include Real-Time operating system, field programmable gate array (FPGA) and network shared variables.

Attributes: Field Trip(s) Required
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 1
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PHYS 793 Directed Studies (1-4 crs)
Permits groups of students to study topical areas in an intensive way under the direction of departmental faculty members.

Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option

Political Science (POLS)

POLS 102 Introduction to Politics (3 crs)
A general introduction to basic concepts and approaches to the study of politics and contemporary political issues and problems.

Attributes: GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, LE-K2 Social Sciences, LE-R2 Global Perspectives
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 110 American National Politics (3 crs)
Analysis of major components of American national politics. Includes examination of the individual’s ability to affect politics, and the impact of politics on individual lives.

Attributes: GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, LE-K2 Social Sciences, LE-R3 Civic and Environmental Issues
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
POLS 121 The Politics of Global Cultural Relations (3 crs)
Introductory course on the impact of clashing cultural orientations and competing belief systems on international affairs. Examines how cultural forces transform power and social interaction, and influence and shape world politics.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIID Social Science-Political Science
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 122 Introduction to World Politics (3 crs)
Introductory course for the study of world politics. Focus includes states, international organizations (private and public), and other global interaction influencing and shaping world politics.
Attributes: GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, LE-K2 Social Sciences, LE-R2 Global Perspectives
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 250 American Indian Politics (3 crs)
- Credit may not be earned in both POLS 250 and AIS 250.
The course will examine the recent trends in American Indian politics beginning with the American Indian Movement through the present. The course will include topics on tribal sovereignty, legalized gambling, and tribal government.
Attributes: Cultural Diversity 3 cr., GE IIID Social Science-Political Science
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 260 Introduction to Comparative Politics (3 crs)
A comparative analysis of political systems of Great Britain, France, Germany, Russia, Japan, China, India, Iran, Brazil, and Nigeria.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, LE-K2 Social Sciences, LE-R2 Global Perspectives
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 265 Problems of the Developing Nations (3 crs)
A critical examination of developmental concepts, socioeconomic and political problems of the Third World; elite groups, political ideologies, cohesive and divisive forces influencing development.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, LE-K2 Social Sciences, LE-R2 Global Perspectives
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 290 Introduction to Political Analysis (3 crs)
Prerequisite: POLS 110 or consent of instructor. Limited to political science majors.
Examines the nature and design of scientific research; raises philosophical and methodological issues regarding the logic, theory, and empirical analysis of political research; explores reasoning, causality, and data analysis in scientific research.
Attributes: LE S3 Creativity
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 291 Special Topics - Political Problems (1-3 crs)
Selected political problems and issues affecting our political system. Examples: racism, poverty, radicalism, pluralism. Completion of a semester's work in fewer weeks is possible with extra classes per week.

POLS 301 State and Local Politics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: POLS 110 or consent of instructor.
A critical examination of federalism, localism, intergovernmental finance, intergovernmental relations, state and local institutions, and state and local elections.
Attributes: GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, LE-K2 Social Sciences, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 305 Survey of U.S. Constitutional Principles (3 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after POLS 403 or POLS 404.
Analysis of the powers of governments in the U.S. and rights of individuals.
Attributes: GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, LE-K2 Social Sciences, LE-R3 Civic and Environmental Issues
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 309 Classical Political Thought (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum sophomore standing.
Study of major political thinkers from the ancient and medieval periods, with emphasis on Plato and Aristotle.
Attributes: GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, LE-K3 Humanities, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
POLS 310 Modern Political Thought (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum sophomore standing.
Study of major political thinkers from the Renaissance to the French Revolution.
Attributes: GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, LE-K3 Humanities
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 311 Contemporary Political Thought (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum sophomore standing.
A study of major political thinkers from the French Revolution to the present day, with emphasis on the philosophical roots of twentieth century ideologies.
Attributes: GE IIID Social Science-Political Science
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 312 American Political Thought (3 crs)
The intellectual roots of American Politics, with emphasis on the Revolutionaries, particularly Jefferson; The Federalist; Tocqueville’s Democracy in America; and Lincoln.
Attributes: Cultural Diversity 1 cr., GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, LE-DDIV Design for Diversity, LE-K3 Humanities, LE-R1 Equity, Diversity, and Inclusivity
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 314 The Idea of Tolerance in the Western Political Tradition (3 crs)
Historical and philosophical consideration of the development of the idea of tolerance in the western political tradition, with emphasis on major philosophical defenders and critics of the ideal of an open, tolerant society, and on the American experiment in political, religious, and cultural tolerance.
Attributes: GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 319 Politics of Latin America (3 crs)
An examination of major institutions, groups, and selected topics related to Latin American politics.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIID Social Science-Political Science
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 320 Caribbean Politics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: One course in POLS or consent of instructor.
Credit may not be earned in both POLS 320 and LAS 320.
The dynamics of Anglo-phone and Hispanic Caribbean politics from Colonial rule to the present. Major topics include: colonialism; patterns of decolonization; post-colonial state power; the status of women; and recent trends in structures of dependency and popular resistance.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIID Social Science-Political Science
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 321 Politics of the Middle East (3 crs)
Introduces students to social, economic, political, and cultural aspects of life in the Middle East by focusing on specific topics such as Religion and Politics, Nationalism, Peace and Conflict, Western Influence.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 322 Politics of Russia (3 crs)
Prerequisite: One course in POLS or consent of instructor.
A study of the transitions taking place in Russia covering subjects such as the Soviet past, nationalism, leadership, political institutions, and relations with the other former Soviet republics.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 323 Politics of Eastern Europe (3 crs)
Prerequisite: One course in POLS or consent of instructor.
An examination of political, economic, and cultural transitions in Eastern Europe. Topics covered include political-historical context, democratic institution building, market economic development, political cultural orientation, international organizations, and ethnonational conflict and conflict resolution.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 324 Politics of Asia (3 crs)
This course addresses political, economic, and social dimensions of contemporary Asian politics. The countries examined from a comparative perspective are China, North Korea, South Korea, India, and Indonesia.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, LE-K2 Social Sciences, LE-R2 Global Perspectives, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
POLS 325 Model United Nations (3 crs)
A study of the institutional foundation and the contemporary role of the United Nations as a global intergovernmental organization in pursuit of a peaceful resolution to global conflicts and the promotion of cooperation among global actors.
Attributes: GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 326 Politics of Southeast Asia (3 crs)
This course offers a comparative examination of Southeast Asian countries, including the Hmong diaspora, Indonesia, Thailand, Philippines, and Vietnam, on thematic issues.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, LE-K2 Social Sciences, LE-R2 Global Perspectives
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 327 Politics of Continental Europe (3 crs)
Prerequisite: POLS 102 or POLS 110 or consent of instructor.
An examinations of European parliamentary systems, their societies and cultures, the European Union, and the development of European identity.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIID Social Science-Political Science
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 328 Islam and Politics (3 crs)
This course examines the multi-faceted nature of the relationship between Islam and politics in the contemporary world.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, LE-K2 Social Sciences, LE-R2 Global Perspectives
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 329 Political Violence (3 crs)
This course offers a comparative study of political violence in the contemporary world, reviewing a variety of theoretical and empirical approaches to violence.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, LE-K2 Social Sciences, LE-R2 Global Perspectives
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 330 U.S. Foreign Policy (3 crs)
Prerequisite: POLS 122 or consent of instructor.
A study of the principal theoretical approaches to the conduct of U.S. foreign policy and the major foreign policy issues facing the United States.
Attributes: GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 331 International Organization and Law (3 crs)
Prerequisite: POLS 122 or consent of instructor.
An analysis of the historical and current patterns and theoretical concepts and theories relevant to the organization of global affairs.
Attributes: GE IIID Social Science-Political Science
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 332 International Conflict (3 crs)
Prerequisite: POLS 122 or consent of instructor.
Examines the main theories and concepts used to understand and explain international and civil conflict. The course will also provide an analysis of the principle techniques and practices of conflict resolution.
Attributes: GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 334 International Political Economy (3 crs)
Prerequisite: POLS 122 or ECON 103 or ECON 104 or ECON 201 or consent of instructor.
International political economy is the simultaneous study of power and wealth at the international level, or it is the study of political foundations of international economic interactions and vice versa.
Attributes: GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 335 International Relations Theory (3 crs)
Prerequisite: POLS 122 or consent of instructor. Minimum sophomore standing.
Explores various theoretical approaches on world political order: Realism; Liberalism; Socialism; Critical Theory; Postmodern, Feminist; and Ecological perspectives. Within each framework, key concepts such as the state, power, globalization, regimes, etc., are explored.
Attributes: GE IIID Social Science-Political Science
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
POLS 336 Arab-Israeli Conflict (3 crs)
This course examines the political, socioeconomic, cultural, and historical roots of the conflict between Arab States/Palestinian Arabs and the state of Israel. Both regional and international aspects of the conflict are fully discussed.
Attributes: Foreign Culture, GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 338 Judicial Politics (3 crs)
A study of the judicial system and judicial policy-making, emphasizing the U.S. Supreme Court and lower federal judiciary.
Attributes: GE IIID Social Science-Political Science
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 339 Legislative Politics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: One course in POLS or consent of instructor.
Examines representation and lawmaking in the U.S. Congress and state legislatures. Topics include the role of constituents, interest groups, money, campaigns and elections, committees, parties, leadership, the legislative process, and legislative reform.
Attributes: GE IIID Social Science-Political Science
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 340 Congress and the Presidency (3 crs)
Prerequisite: No credit if taken after POLS 339 or POLS 348
Study of congressional representation, organization, lawmaking, and presidential leadership in the separation of powers system.
Attributes: GE IIID Social Science-Political Science, LE-K2 Social Sciences, LE-R3 Civic and Environmental Issues
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

POLS 341 Political Parties, Elections, and Voting (3 crs)

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PSYC 360 Foundations of Psychological Measurement (3 crs)
Prerequisite: PSYC 100
Basic concepts and principles of measurement, including reliability and validity of intelligence, special aptitudes, achievement, psychological traits and characteristics.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PSYC 366 Statistical Methods in Psychology II (3 crs)
Prerequisite: PSYC 265
Frequently used inferential statistical techniques for the analysis of data in psychology.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PSYC 372 Individual Differences and Behavior Genetics (3 crs)
Prerequisite: PSYC 271 or consent of instructor.
Course introduces students to the structure of various individual differences attributes (abilities, personality, interests). Introduces behavioral genetic research designs that unravel the causal structure of individual differences and reviews exemplary findings from this research.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PSYC 373 Evolutionary Psychology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: PSYC 271 or consent of instructor.
- No credit if taken after PSYC 491 with the same topic.
Fundamentals of evolutionary psychology, grounded in natural and sexual selection. Review research and theory on human mating, friendship, parental investment, infants’ knowledge of the physical world, aggression and warfare, status and dominance, emotion, rape, and jealousy.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PSYC 374 Cognitive Neuroscience (3 crs)
Prerequisite: IDIS 125 or consent of instructor.
Explores mind and behavior from a brain-based, information-processing perspective. Examines how neuroimaging (e.g., EEG and functional MRI) and lesion studies reveal mechanisms underlying perception, attention, movement, language, memory, decision-making, emotion, motivation, and social cognition.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PSYC 375 Behavioral and Clinical Neuroscience (3 crs)
Prerequisite: IDIS 125 or consent of the instructor.
Applications of neuroscience to understanding typical and atypical behaviors. In-depth discussion of neurological, psychological, and other disorders.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PSYC 376 Psychology of Perception (3 crs)
Prerequisite: PSYC 271 or consent of instructor.
Basic perceptual phenomena in the visual, auditory, olfactory, gustatory, tactile and proprioceptive senses, and related research methodology and physiology.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PSYC 377 Psychopharmacology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: PSYC 271 for psychology majors and minors. PSYC 100 for non-psychology majors and minors.
Examines drug and behavior relations from biological (e.g., pharmacological and physiological effects of drugs), behavioral, social, and historical perspectives. Topics include drug classification and scheduling, therapeutic effects of drugs, substance abuse prevention and treatment programs.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
PSYC 379 Cognitive Psychology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: PSYC 271 or consent of instructor.

Human perception, attention, memory, knowledge, reasoning, and decision-making are examined. Major theories and research methods of the field are presented, and a critical understanding of both established and emerging elements of the discipline is promoted.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PSYC 380 Introduction to Behavior Modification (3 crs)
Prerequisite: PSYC 271 or consent of instructor.

Provides students thorough knowledge of the principles of behavior analysis as applied to human problems, the ethics of their use, and methods for evaluating their effectiveness.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PSYC 385 Practicum in Applied Behavior Analysis (3 crs)
Prerequisite: PSYC 380
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

The practicum is designed to provide an opportunity to apply the principles and methods of behavior analysis in various human service settings under close field supervision.

Attributes: Service-Learning, Full 30 Hours
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 8

PSYC 390 Advanced Applied Behavior Analysis (3 crs)
Prerequisite: PSYC 271 and PSYC 281, with a grade of B or above in PSYC 281, or consent of instructor.

Students will learn skills needed to plan, implement, and evaluate behavioral interventions in a variety of human services settings. Content will focus on functional assessment, ethics, and primary research in applied behavior analysis.

Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PSYC 395 Directed Studies (1-3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required

Students, with assistance of instructors, define a topic to study or develop a field placement in a setting related to psychology. Selected readings, weekly meetings with the instructor, and other assignments may also be required.

Repeat: Course may be repeated

PSYC 396 Research Apprentice in Psychology (1-3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required

Qualified students, recruited and supervised by an instructor, engage in original research in collaboration with the instructor. Research methods and current status of psychological knowledge are applied to create new knowledge.

Repeat: Course may be repeated

PSYC 397 Student Academic Apprenticeship in Psychology (1-3 crs)
Consent: Department Consent Required

Qualified students, selected and supervised by faculty members, facilitate teaching and learning in a specific course or courses. Apprentices enhance their knowledge of psychology and their ability to communicate that knowledge.

Repeat: Course may be repeated

PSYC 399 Independent Study - Juniors (1-3 crs)
Prerequisite: Minimum junior standing.
Consent: Department Consent Required

Student proposes an independent study project to an instructor. Projects may include library research, original empirical research, or placement in a setting related to psychology. Student works independently, with instructor providing oversight and limited guidance and assistance.

Repeat: Course may be repeated

PSYC 400 History and Systems of Psychology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: PSYC 100 or consent of instructor. Minimum senior standing.

This course traces the philosophical and scientific foundations of modern psychology, then delineates the strands of thought that define the field. Great persons in historical contexts are studied to understand psychology as it exists today.

Attributes: Capstone Course

Prerequisite: PSYC 100 or consent of instructor. Minimum senior standing.

In this course students read and discuss primary literature—old and new—that revolves around enduring issues in psychological science.

Attributes: Capstone Course
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0
PSYC 412 Experimental Analysis of Behavior (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Grade of B or above in PSYC 390.

Methods, assumptions, basic principles, and recent developments in the psychology of learning primarily from a behavioral perspective. Survey of laboratory research with humans and animals providing a theoretical framework for describing these behavior-change concepts.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PSYC 425 Applications of Psychology in Educational Settings (3 crs)
Prerequisite: Any one of the following: PSYC 230, PSYC 260, PSYC 261, PSYC 331, PSYC 332. Minimum senior standing.

Examination of psychological theories and research related to education, with specific emphasis on the application of learning theories in education.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PSYC 432 Advanced Developmental Psychopathology of Childhood and Adolescence (3 crs)
Prerequisite: PSYC 271 and either PSYC 331 OR PSYC 332. Minimum senior standing.

• Credit may not be earned in both PSYC 432 and PSYC 632.

Introduction to developmental psychopathology for childhood and adolescence. Emphasis is on typical and atypical child development and applied practice in psychology.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PSYC 435 Theories and Research in Developmental Psychology (3 crs)
Prerequisite: PSYC 230, PSYC 271, and one of the following: PSYC 331, PSYC 332, or PSYC 333.

Developmental psychology is the study of human cognitive, social, emotional, and physical change across time. Developmental theories and research will be reviewed, analyzed, and discussed.
Attributes: Cultural Diversity 1 cr., Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 3
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PSYC 470 Senior Research Seminar (2 crs)
Prerequisite: All required courses, except PSYC 400 or PSYC 401.

Reading and discussion of current issues in psychology, completion of the psychology portfolio and exit survey, and presentation of an empirical research project or literature review.
Attributes: Capstone Course
Lecture/Discussion Hours: 2
Lab/Studio Hours: 0

PSYC 480 Internship in Behavior Analysis (3-6 crs)
Prerequisite: PSYC 281, consent of instructor
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

Students gain experience implementing interventions based on the methods and principles of behavior analysis to facilitate their preparation for national certification.
Attributes: Service-Learning, Full 30 Hours, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Internship
Repeat: Course may be repeated for a maximum of 9 credits
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

PSYC 481 Internship in Applied Behavior Analysis II (3-6 crs)
Prerequisite: PSYC 480.
Consent: Instructor Consent Required

The internship is designed to provide experience for students in Applied Behavior Analysis and to prepare them for national certification. Students work in applied settings implementing interventions based on the principles of behavior.
Attributes: Service-Learning, Full 30 Hours, Undergraduate/Graduate Offering, Internship
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: A-F Grades Only

PSYC 491 Special Topics (1-3 crs)

Intensive study of a topic selected because of a special interest on the part of students or faculty.
Attributes: Undergraduate/Graduate Offering
Repeat: Course may be repeated

PSYC 492 The Professional Practice of School Psychology: Role, Function, Ethics, and Legal (3 crs)
Prerequisite: One of: PSYC 230, PSYC 260, PSYC 261, PSYC 331 or PSYC 332; or consent of instructor. Minimum senior standing.

The purpose of this course is to introduce school psychology graduate students to the practice of school psychology. Topical areas of coverage include the role and function of a psychologist, ethical and legal practice, and critical issues in the field.
