Dual Concentration Advisers: K. Lang (History) or R. Freitag (Political Science).

The comprehensive major in Broadfield Social Studies prepares education students to teach fusion social studies courses and subject specific social studies courses in their area or areas of concentration.

This major is restricted to students in the College of Education and Human Sciences: Education Studies: Option B and leads to licensure to teach fusion social studies courses in Early Adolescence through Adolescence classrooms and also courses in discrete subjects in which 24 credits are completed.

After admission to the Education Professional Program, all Broadfield Social Studies majors must pass the Praxis II Social Studies examination (Exam #10081). This examination is prepared by the Educational Testing Service and tests content from all social studies subject areas. Praxis II examinations may be taken on campus at the Office of Academic Testing (Schofield 226).

Students will choose one of two emphases available within the Broadfield Social Studies major.

Single-concentration Emphasis: The Broadfield Social Studies major with the single-concentration emphasis leads to certification to teach fusion social studies courses and courses in the area of concentration.

   Students with a single-concentration emphasis will receive certification in broadfield social studies and one area of concentration.

   Students who also choose to include in their program a certifiable minor in a subject outside of social studies (in addition to the Broadfield Social Studies major) will take the appropriate Praxis II examination in that subject as well as the social studies examination.

   For advising, see an adviser in the area of concentration.

   As an alternative to the Broadfield Social Studies major, students may select a teaching major (36 credits) in Economics, History, or Political Science in conjunction with a certifiable minor (24 credits).
