LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES

Hibbard Humanities Hall 384

Program Website (https://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-arts-sciences/ departments-programs/latin-american-studies)

The globally interdependent nature of today’s world makes second language proficiency and cross-cultural understanding valuable assets for students in any field. Students in the Latin American Studies (LAS) Program can develop a high proficiency in Spanish through the LAS core language courses and language immersion requirements. Students also gain in-depth knowledge and understanding of Latin America and the Latinx/Hispanic communities in the United States through an array of courses from multiple disciplines including economics, geography, political science, art history, religion, history, anthropology, public and environmental health, nursing, and women’s, gender, and sexuality studies.

The significant Latinx/Hispanic population in the United States and the increasing social, cultural, and economic interconnectedness between the countries and peoples of the hemisphere will increase the demand for professionals who are both proficient in the Spanish language as well as prepared to work with the Latinx/Hispanic communities in the US and the people of Latin America. The Latin American Studies majors, minor, and certificate are well suited for students who plan to:

1. pursue careers which require residence in or knowledge of Latin America (e.g., business, journalism, government, NGOs, and others);
2. teach Spanish in Early Childhood through Adolescence classrooms (through the LAS Comprehensive Major - Teaching); and/or
3. pursue graduate work in Latin American studies or other disciplines where a Latin American specialization would be helpful (e.g., Latin American and Latinx/Hispanic literature, political science, economics, history, art history, to name just a few).

Note: Students who pursue Latin American Studies and Spanish liberal arts program combinations will need to earn at least 48 unique credits between any major-minor or major-certificate program combinations and 54 unique credits between any major-major program combinations for purposes of meeting graduation requirements for first and second degree programs.

Application for Admission to Latin American Studies Internships

Applying for Admission to the Internship: Visit the Latin American Studies Program's web page or talk to your advisor or the LAS Program Director to learn about the application requirements and procedures for internships. Students planning to enroll in LAS 488/LAS 688, Internship, or LAS 498/LAS 698, Internship with Language Immersion, in the summer or fall should apply by the priority deadline of February 1 of the year of internship for summer or fall enrollment. October 1 is the priority deadline for winterim or spring enrollment.

Optional Concentrations

Students interested in demonstrating their expertise in a particular substantive area may choose to create an optional concentration. Students should consult their advisor to discuss the following concentrations or to develop other areas of expertise. Optional concentrations consist of a minimum of 12 credits.
