The University of Wisconsin-Madison School of Social Work offers its Master's in Social Work (MSW) program on the UW-Eau Claire campus in cooperation with the UW-Madison School of Social Work. The UW-Madison School of Social Work has a national reputation for excellence among schools of social work. However, UW-Madison will no longer be accepting applications to the UWEC campus option after the 2020 Fall Semester.

Graduate Faculty
Leah Olson-McBride, Ph.D. (Chair)
Kao Nou Moua, Ph.D.
Lisa Quinn-Lee, Ph.D.
Jamie Tester, J.D.

Graduate Programs
• Social Work - Master's in Social Work (http://catalog.uwec.edu/graduate/programs/social-work/social-work-msw/)

All 500- and 600-level graduate courses include requirements or assignments which differentiate them from 300- and 400-level undergraduate courses. Students who have taken a course at the 300- or 400-level may not include that course at the 500- or 600-level in a graduate program, except in the case of special topics courses when the topic is not the same as that taken at the undergraduate level. Course restrictions listed are based on the undergraduate course. Questions regarding course restrictions for graduate students should be directed to the appropriate department office.

SW 691 Special Topics (1-3 crs)
• Cross-listed with SW 491.

Selected social work issues of current interest that affect practice.
Repeat: Course may be repeated
Grading Basis: No S/U Grade Option