

GERONTOLOGY, MINOR

Liberal Arts (Code 670-400)

Advisor: L. Olson-McBride

Gerontology is a multidisciplinary field that examines the correlates and consequences of human aging. To reflect this multidisciplinary nature, the Gerontology minor includes courses from a variety of academic disciplines. Objectives of the minor include:

1. promoting an understanding of the multifaceted nature of the human aging process;
2. generating awareness of both the rewards and challenges associated with aging;
3. providing a broad program of study that complements a number of major programs and prepares students for graduate study and/or careers in the field of aging.

Twenty-four semester credits, including:
